Fashioning the Afropolis Kerstin Pinther,Kristin Kastner,Basile Ndjio,2022-07-14 A revelation Reclaiming fashion from its European history Shane White With a focus on sub Saharan Africa Fashioning the Afropolis provides a range of innovative perspectives on global fashion design dress photography and the body in some of the major cities with a focus on Lagos Johannesburg Dakar and Douala It contributes to the ongoing debates around the globalization of fashion and fashion theory by exploring fashion as a genuine urban phenomenon on the continent and among its diasporas To date fashion and city have not been systematically related to each other in the African context and for too long a western centric gaze has dominated scholarship resulting in the perception of Africa as provincial and its visual arts and textile cultures as static and folkloristic This perspective is all the more distorted given Africa s rich sartorial past With a huge number of tailors ready to adapt and renew clothing reshaping garments into contemporary styles and many cities in Africa becoming hot spots for a steadily growing and well connected scene of fashion designers in the past 20 years the time is ripe for a reevaluation and reconsideration of the fashionscapes of Africa Leading scholars offer an updated empirical and theoretical foundation on which to base new and exciting research on sub Saharan fashion challenging perceptions and offering new insights dealing with cartography in the 19th and 20th centuries The papers are classified according to regional sub themes i e papers on the Americas papers on Africa etc Mapping Beyond Measure Simon Ferdinand,2019-12-01 Over the last century a growing number of visual artists have been captivated by the entwinements of beauty and power truth and artifice and the fantasy and functionality they perceive in geographical mapmaking This field of map art has moved into increasing prominence in recent years yet critical writing on the topic has been largely confined to general overviews of the field In Mapping Beyond Measure Simon Ferdinand analyzes diverse map based works of painting collage film walking performance and digital drawing made in Britain Japan the Netherlands Ukraine the United States and the former Soviet Union arguing that together they challenge the dominant modern view of the world as a measurable and malleable geometrical space This challenge has strong political ramifications for it is on the basis of modernity s geometrical worldview that states have legislated over social space that capital has coordinated global markets and exploited distant environments and that powerful cartographic institutions have claimed exclusive authority in mapmaking Mapping Beyond Measure breaks fresh ground in undertaking a series of close readings of significant map artworks in sustained dialogue with spatial theorists including Peter Sloterdijk Zygmunt Bauman and Michel de Certeau In so doing Ferdinand reveals how map art calls into question some of the central myths and narratives of rupture through which modern space has traditionally been imagined and establishes map art s distinct value amid broader contemporary shifts toward digital mapping Developing the Future Aviation System Rod Baldwin,2017-03-02 The major changes taking place in technology have some of the greatest effect in the world of aviation Yet in an industry which started with the concept of open skies each sector has traditionally developed on its own and adjusted to developments in other areas as and when required The need for integration is particularly important as the skies become increasingly crowded More intense commercialization dramatically increases the interlocking between technological developments and the size of the financial investments required For maximum efficiency the aviation system thus has to develop as an integrated whole with a greater awareness of events in other sectors This book is intended to meet this requirement by addressing the breadth and depth of the aviation system and looking at some areas where significant advances are happening While following the processes of development the reader will see where the results might lead in the new century Its three parts concentrate on areas of great significance in integration as well as in technological progress especially for their impact on human and social aspects The editor and the invited contributors are amongst the foremost experts researchers and industry leaders in their fields in the global aviation community many with hands on experience of massive change The intended readership includes those who are moving into management functions in air traffic management airplane manufacturing and airline operations in training centres colleges and institutions Mapping Paradigms in Modern and Contemporary Art Simonetta Moro,2021-07-29 Mapping Paradigms in Modern and Contemporary Art defines a new cartographic aesthetic or what Simonetta Moro calls carto aesthetics as a key to interpreting specific phenomena in modern and contemporary art through the concept of poetic cartography The problem of mapping although indebted to the spatial turn of poststructuralist philosophy is reconstructed as hermeneutics while exposing the nexus between topology space time and memory The book posits that the emergence of mapping as a ubiquitous theme in contemporary art can be attributed to the power of the cartographic model to constitute multiple worldviews that can be seen as paradigmatic of the post modern and contemporary condition This book will be of particular interest to scholars in art history art theory aesthetics and cartography Cartographica ,1988 To Build a Black Future Christopher Paul Harris,2025-08-05 An incisive portrait of how the new Black politics can forge a future centered on collective action community and care When BlackLivesMatter emerged in 2013 it animated the most consequential Black led mobilization since the civil rights and Black power era Today the hashtag turned rallying cry is but one expression of a radical reorientation toward Black politics protest and political thought To Build a Black Future examines the spirit and significance of this insurgency offering a revelatory account of a new political culture responsive to pain suffused with joy and premised on care emerging from the centuries long arc of Black rebellion a tradition that traces back to the Black slave Drawing on his own experiences as an activist and organizer Christopher Paul Harris takes readers inside the Movement for Black Lives M4BL to chart the propulsive trajectory of Black politics and thought from the Middle Passage to the present historical moment Carefully attending to the social forces that produce Black struggle and the contradictions that arise within it Harris illustrates how M4BL gives voice to an abolitionist praxis that bridges the past present and future outlining a political project at once directed inward to the Black community while issuing an outward challenge to the world Essential reading for the age of BlackLivesMatter this visionary and provocative book reveals how the radical politics of joy pain and care in sharp contrast to liberal political thought can build a Black future that transcends ideology and pushes the boundaries of our political imagination Fumbling the Future Douglas K. Smith,Robert C. Alexander,1999 Ask consumers and users what names they associate with the multibillion dollar personal computer market and they will answer IBM Apple Tandy or Lotus The more knowledgeable of them will add the likes of Microsoft Ashton Tate Compaq and Borland But no one will say Xerox Fifteen years after it invented personal computing Xerox still means copy Fumbling the Future tells how one of America's leading corporations invented the technology for one of the fastest growing products of recent times then miscalculated and mishandled the opportunity to fully exploit it It is a classic story of how innovation can fare within large corporate structures the real life odyssey of what can happen to an idea as it travels from inspiration to implementation More than anything Fumbling the Future is a tale of human beings whose talents hopes fears habits and prejudices determine the fate of our largest organizations and of our best ideas In an era in which technological creativity and economic change are so critical to the competitiveness of the American economy Fumbling the Future is a parable for our times GIS Cartography Gretchen N. Peterson,2014-05-23 In the five years since the publication of the first edition of A Guide to

Effective Map Design cartography and software have become further intertwined However the initial motivation for publishing the first edition is still valid many GISers enter the field without so much as one hour of design instruction in their formal education Yet they are then tasked with creating one the most effective easily recognized communication tools a map See What's New in the Second Edition Projection theory Hexagonal binning Big Data point density maps Scale dependent map design 3D building modeling Digital cartography and its best practices Updated graphics and references Study questions and lab exercises at the end of each chapter In this second edition of a bestseller author Gretchen Peterson takes a don't let the technology get in the way approach to the presentation focusing on the elements of good design what makes a good map and how to get there rather than specific software tools She provides a reference that you can thumb through time and again as you create your maps Copiously illustrated the second edition explores novel concepts that kick start your pursuit of map making excellence The book doesn't just teach you how to design and create maps it teaches you how to design and create better maps
