Fyffes And The Banana Musa Sapientum A Centenary History 1888 1988:

Fyffes and the Banana Peter N. Davies, 1990 The origins of the international fruit trade and the impact of changing maritime technology The early development of the America banana market The Canary Islands and the establishment of the liverpool banana trade The contribution of Edward Wathen Fyffe The adoption of cooling techniques and their impact on the trade a new outlet for Jamaican bananas The formation of elders and Fyffes Limited The establishment of a national market A British institution Enter Jamaica Producers The British industry in the 1930s The second world war and its aftermath The development of the windward Islands and its consequences The emergence of the modern industry Bibliography of Business History Francis Goodall, Terry Gourvish, Steven Tolliday, 2013-12-16 The field of business history has changed and grown dramatically over the last few years There is less interest in the traditional company centred approach and more concern about the wider business context With the growth of multi national corporations in the 1980s international and inter firm comparisons have gained in importance In addition there has been a move towards improving links with mainstream economic financial and social history through techniques and outlook The International Bibliography of Business History brings all of the strands together and provides the user with a comprehensive guide to the literature in the field The Bibliography is a unique volume which covers the depth and breadth of research in business history This exhaustive volume has been compiled by a team of subject specialists from around the world under the editorship of three prestigious business historians The Political Ecology of Bananas Lawrence S. Grossman, 2000-11-09 This study of banana contract farming in the Eastern Caribbean explores the forces that shape contract farming enterprises everywhere capital the state and the environment Employing the increasingly popular framework of political ecology which highlights the dynamic linkages between political economic forces and human environment relationships Lawrence Grossman provides a new perspective on the history and contemporary trajectory of the Windward Islands banana industry He reveals in rich detail the myriad impacts of banana production on the peasant laborers of St Vincent and the Grenadines Grossman challenges the conventional wisdom on three interrelated issues central to contract farming and political ecology First he analyzes the process of deskilling and the associated significance of control by capital and the state over peasant labor Second he investigates the impacts of contract farming for export on domestic food production and food import dependency And third he examines the often misunderstood problem of pesticide misuse Grossman's findings lead to a reconsideration of broader debates concerning the relevance of research on industrial restructuring and globalization for the analysis of agrarian change Most important his work emphasizes that we must pay greater attention to the fundamental significance of the environmental rootedness of agriculture in studies of political ecology and contract farming Banana Wars Steve Striffler, Mark Moberg, 2003-11-20 The history of banana cultivation and its huge impact on Latin American history politics and culture The Influence of Small States on Superpowers Richard L. Bernal, 2015-07-22 The conventional wisdom is that small developing countries exert limited if any influence on the foreign policy of superpowers in particular the United States This book challenges that premise based on the experience of the small developing country of Jamaica and its relations with the United States It raises the question if the foreign policy of the United States can be influenced by even a small developing country should Washington be worried From Wheel House to Counting House Lewis R. Fischer, 2017-10-18 This volume is dedicated to Maritime Business History by means of commemorating the career of Professor Peter Neville Davies a prominent member of the Economic and Social History department of the University of Liverpool a career spanning the dates 1964 1992 The volume is divided into four sections The first is a tribute and appreciation of Professor Davies which also acts as an introduction to his work for unfamiliar readers The second section focuses on business aspects of British maritime history with particular attention to the impact of British shipping overseas and the rise and decline of shipbuilding industries The third section is specific to Liverpool and Merseyside and explores the local maritime history of the area including trade with the Mediterranean local shipbuilding the Mersey port system and nautical archaeology The final section explores subjects within international maritime history particularly within Norway and America All essays and topics covered aim to collectively and significantly develop the field of maritime business history and all are directly related to Professor Davies academic interests as a means of celebrating Professor Davies own accomplishments during his career The journal concludes with a comprehensive bibliography of Professor Davies work Tropical Bioproductivity David Hammond, 2019-01-15 This book investigates the fundamental role that tropical bioproductivity or more specifically net primary productivity has played in shaping the global geographies of food finance governance and people The book examines the basic astronomical and thermal properties of our planet to illustrate the dynamic nature of the tropics and how the region resides at the very heart of global energetics driving the environmental flows that shape planetary climate and bioproductivity The author explores how the region's relatively small but hyper productive land area provided the groundswell for the economic social political and demographic changes that fuelled empires European colonialism and nation building Also covered are discussions on how the critical intake of capital needed to fuel the industrial and technological revolutions driving modern globalization was first expropriated from the tropics by harnessing the region's natural productivity and biological crop diversity and then transforming it into tradeable commodities using the inhabitants labour and knowledge With modern tropical nations accounting for the bulk of people living in poverty and registering some of the highest income disparities the author presents cross cutting evidence showing that their histories and the persistence of expropriating institutions have fostered anocratic tendencies poor governance unorthodox financial flows and mass migration Tropical Bioproductivity cuts across vast geographies topics and histories to deliver a readable narrative that links people places and events with the environmental mechanics of our planet It will be of interest to students and researchers in the areas of environmental studies economics history agriculture anthropology and geography The International Banana Trade Julian Roche, 1998-11-03

The unique characteristic of the international banana trade is distinguished from other commodity trades by the intensity of its politics and the importance of a small number of companies which have dominated the trade for overa hundred years This book provides a comprehensive guide to the trade in the world's most popular fruit Covering all aspects of the trade from patterns of production and consumption to pricing trends from details of the companies involved to consideration of international political constraints Analysts and policy makers within the trade or governmental organisations economists food retailers marketing professionals and students of international affairs need look no further for a reliable reference guide to this complextrade Origins and growth of the world trade The role of the multinationals and other companies Analysis of individual producer countries Banana Wars Timothy Edward Josling, T. Geoffrey Taylor, 2003-03-12 In 2001 the EU and US announced the end of a trade dispute over the sale of bananas into the EU market The allocation of import liscences had been found to violate World Trade Organization rules and to discriminate against suppliers from Latin America This book examines the issues surrounding the dispute in particular the dependence of small Carribean economies on European Banana Markets the role of the private sector in influencing public policy the relation between the banana trade and the political tensions of the EU Common Agricultural Policy the domestic political influence of banana companies in the US and the role of the WTO and its settlement of trade disputes Europe and the Maritime World Michael B. Miller, 2012-08-20 This book explores the development of the global economy in the twentieth century through the lens of the European maritime Globalization, Trade, and Economic Development R. Bernal, 2013-12-18 This is the most in depth study of infrastructure the economic partnership between the European Union and the CARIFORUM countries a group of fifteen small developing economies in the Caribbean The CARIFORUM EU Economic Partnership Agreement EPA is the first trade agreement of its kind as it is a new type of WTO compatible trade agreement between a group of developed countries and a group of developing countries As a principal negotiator for CARIFORUM Bernal s qualifications allow him to provide a unique perspective on the increasingly important topic of trade and economic development in the midst of globalization Globalization Trade and Economic Development comprehensively explores the components of the EPA from all angles explains how the agreement provides opportunities to strengthen and accelerate economic development and outlines the policies which can allow the CARIFORUM countries to seize these opportunities Bernal s explanation of the institutional arrangements for the conduct of the negotiations by CARIFORUM is invaluable to governments and regional organizations in developing countries for coordinating groups to advance common and joint positions in international negotiations Harbours and Havens Lewis R. Fischer, Adrian Jarvis, 2017-10-18 This book is a collection of ten essays concerning various aspects of ports port towns and port history by means of tribute to the maritime historian Gordon Jackson The volumes begins with an appreciation of Gordon Jackson's career and concludes with a bibliography of his published work. The first four essays concern British ports Hull Liverpool and Dumfries in particular and the remaining six concern international ports a wide range stretching across the ports of Fremantle Yokohama Dubai and Bremen The essays cover topics such as politics and port management port development throughout history post war port development individual case studies the construction of In the Shadows of State and Capital Steve Striffler, 2002 In the Shadows of State and artificial ports and port policies Capital tells the story of how Ecuadorian peasants gained and then lost control of the banana industry the Bridge Peter N. Davies, 1991-01-01 Lieutenant Colonel Philip Toosey was the senior British officer concerned with the building of the notorious Bridge over the River Kwai This responsible and dangerous position forced him to make many critical decisions but his dilemma was not that presented by Pierre Boulle in his fictional work Toosey understood form the very beginning that he only real issue was how to ensure that s many of his men as possible should survive their captivity He appreciated to the full that he bridge would be built with or without his co operation and set himself the task of mitigating the terrible conditions under which the work was to be completed Many thousands who knew how Toosey stood up to their oppressors at great personal risk were incensed by Alec Guinness s brilliant portrayal of Colonel Nicholson in the film version of Boulle's book The present work is designed to provide an accurate historical account of the terrible events during which more than 16 000 POWs died while building the Thai Burma railway of which the bridge formed an essential part It also places the whole sorry episode into a correct historic perspective to demonstrate how one rather special individual reacted when faced with an immense responsibility A memorial to Toosey this book is also a definitive history of the building of the railway in the context of the Far Eastern theatre of World War II Consuming the Caribbean Mimi Sheller, 2003 This fascinating book demonstrates how colonial exploitation of the Caribbean led directly to contemporary forms of consumption of the region and its products and calls for a global ethics of consumer responsibility The Fish That Ate the Whale Rich Cohen, 2012-06-05 When Samuel Zemurray arrived in America in 1891 he was gangly and penniless When he died in New Orleans 69 years later he was among the richest men in the world He conquered the United Fruit Company and is a symbol of the best and worst of the United States From Plain Fare to Fusion Food Derek J. Oddy, 2003 Table of contents

At the Margins of the Global Market Phillip A. Hough,2022-01-27 Contemporary scholars debate the factors driving despotic labour conditions across the world economy Some emphasize the dominance of global market imperatives and others highlight the market's reliance upon extra economic coercion and state violence At the Margins of the Global Market engages in this debate through a comparative and world historical analysis of the labour regimes of three global commodity producing subregions of rural Colombia the coffee region of Viejo Caldas the banana region of Urab and the coca cocaine region of the Cagu n By drawing upon insights from labour regimes global commodity chains and world historical sociology this book offers a novel understanding of the broad range of factors local national global and interregional that shape labour conditions on the ground in Colombia In doing so it offers a critical new framework for analysing labour and development dynamics that exist at the margins of the global market

Corporate versus National Interest in US Trade Policy

Richard L. Bernal, 2020-10-31 This book provides a history of the WTO US EU banana dispute through the lens of a major actor the US owned multinational firm Chiquita Brands International It documents and explains how Chiquita succeeded in having the Clinton administration pursue a trade policy of forcing the European Union to dismantle its preferential banana import regime for exports from the small English speaking Caribbean ESC countries The export of bananas was critically important to the social stability and economic viability of these countries and that was in the national security interest of the United States The experience indicates that succeeding in this goal was detrimental to U S national security interest in the On Tropical Grounds Francisco-J. Hernandez Adrian, 2024-10-11 On Tropical Grounds develops a new Caribbean approach to the avant garde and Surrealism in Caribbean and Atlantic studies The book examines how islands and their tropical associations figure in the cultural and political imaginaries of the Caribbean and the Atlantic and identifies genealogies of local responses to continental fantasies of exotic insularity Examining written and visual works that reflect on the Hispanic and Francophone Caribbean and the Canary Islands as well as critical debates around discourses of insularity in island and metropolitan spaces this book considers notions of ethnic purity originality imitation appropriation cosmopolitanism and self exoticism to challenge the idea that avant garde practices were pre eminently urban and metropolitan cultural forms The book argues that attention to the relational dimension implicit in exchanges around ideas of anticolonial struggle radical social transformation and anti fascist resistance should inform analyses of cultural production in Caribbean and Atlantic insular spaces On Tropical Grounds develops a persuasive critical model for the investigation of politically and aesthetically situated archipelagic relations that transgresses disciplinary boundaries and reconfigures our conception of the avant garde as a global movement that was overdetermined by racial gender and colonial conflicts This book will be of value to anyone interested in Caribbean and Atlantic studies avant garde and visual culture studies and literary and cultural studies
