

GABRIEL'S ODYSSEY

tells the 16th-century story of Gabriel, an Ethiopian Beta Israel Jew, who was abducted as a young child and sold into slavery in the Arab world, and of his woeful wanderings between faiths, love, resilience and persecution in Asia, to his final encounter with the Inquisition in Goa.

Drawing on the kaavad storytelling tradition, and imaginary and sumptuous soundscapes, visuals and voices of an early modern Indian Ocean world, Gabriel's life represents a universal story of oppression, migration and refashioning like the experiences of countless other early modern Africans.

His story, based on the earliest surviving autobiography of a 16th-century Ethiopian slave as historically reconstructed by Matteo Salvatore from surviving archival records, challenges new ways of thinking about the past and creates a long-lost sonic landscape that allows dialogue and interplay between distinct Afro-Asian musical and visual traditions.

Gabriel's Promise Sylvain Reynard, 2020-01-07 New York Times bestselling author Sylvain Reynard returns with the fourth installment of the beloved Gabriel's Inferno series When Gabriel and Julia Emerson first lay eyes on their newborn daughter Clare they realize life as they know it will never be the same Gabriel has vowed to be a good father when he suddenly receives an invitation to give a series of lectures in Edinburgh Scotland an opportunity of high prestige but that would mean leaving his wife and child in Boston Hesitant to bring it up he keeps the opportunity from Julia as long as he can not knowing she has a secret of her own When a frightening situation arises that threatens their new family both parents must make sacrifices With the family in danger the looming question remains Will Gabriel pursue his lectureship in Edinburgh leaving Julia and Clare vulnerable in Boston or will he abandon the chance of a lifetime in order to ensure his family's safety

A Fluid Sense of Self Silvia Schultermandl, Sebnem Toplu, 2010 In this era of increasing global mobility identities are too complex to be captured by concepts that rely on national borders for reference Such identities are not unified or stable but are fluid entities which constantly push at the boundaries of the nation state thereby re-defining themselves and the nation state simultaneously Contemporary literature pays specific attention to internal and external notions of belonging Politics of Motion and definitions of self resulting from interpersonal relationships Politics of Longing This collection looks at texts by authors who are British American or Canadian but for whom a self-definition according to national parameters is insufficient

Gabriel's Rebellion Douglas R. Egerton, 2000-11-09 Gabriel's Rebellion tells the dramatic story of what was perhaps the most extensive slave conspiracy in the history of the American South Douglas Egerton illuminates the complex motivations that underlay two related Virginia slave revolts the first in 1800 led by the slave known as Gabriel and the second called the Easter Plot instigated in 1802 by one of his followers Although Gabriel has frequently been portrayed as a messianic Samson-like figure Egerton shows that he was a literate and highly skilled blacksmith whose primary goal was to destroy the economic hegemony of the merchants the only whites he ever identified as his enemies According to Egerton the social political and economic disorder of the Revolutionary era weakened some of the harsh controls that held slavery in place during colonial times Emboldened by these conditions a small number of literate slaves most of them highly skilled artisans planned an armed insurrection aimed at destroying slavery in Virginia The intricate scheme failed as did the Easter Plot that stemmed from it and Gabriel and many of his followers were hanged By placing the revolts within the broader context of the volatile political currents of the day Egerton challenges the conventional understanding of race class and politics in the early days of the American republic
