Galway Of The Races Selected Essays:

Galway of the Races Robert Lynd, Seán McMahon, 1990-01      Protestant Nationalists in Ireland, 1900–1923 Conor Morrissey, 2019-10-10 An innovative and original analysis of Protestant advanced nationalists from the early twentieth century to the end of the Irish Civil War      ,      The West must wait Una Newell, 2016-09-15 The West must wait presents a new perspective on the development of the Irish Free State It extends the regional historical debate beyond the Irish revolution and raises a series of challenging questions about post civil war society in Ireland Through a detailed examination of key local themes land poverty politics emigration the status of the Irish language the influence of radical republicans and the authority of the Catholic Church it offers a probing analysis of the socio political realities of life in the new state This book opens up a new dimension by providing a rural contrast to the Dublin centred views of Irish politics Significantly it reveals the level of deprivation in local Free State society with which the government had to confront in the west Rigorously researched it explores the disconnect between the perceptions of what independence would deliver and what was achieved by the incumbent Cumann na nGaedheal administration      Irish Novels 1890-1940 John Wilson Foster, 2008-02-21 Studies of Irish fiction are still scanty in contrast to studies of Irish poetry and drama Attempting to fill a large critical vacancy Irish Novels 1890 1940 is a comprehensive survey of popular and minor fiction mainly novels published between 1890 and 1922 a crucial period in Irish cultural and political history Since the bulk of these sixty odd writers have never been written about certainly beyond brief mentions the book opens up for further exploration a literary landscape hitherto neglected perhaps even unsuspected This new landscape should alter the familiar perspectives on Irish literature of the period first of all by adding genre fiction science fiction detective novels ghost stories New Woman fiction and Great War novels to the Irish syllabus secondly by demonstrating the immense contribution of women writers to popular and mainstream Irish fiction Among the popular and prolific female writers discussed are Mrs J H Riddell B M Croker M E Francis Sarah Grand Katharine Tynan Ella MacMahon Katherine Cecil Thurston W M Letts and Hannah Lynch Indeed a critical inference of the survey is that if there is a discernible tradition of the Irish novel it is largely a female tradition A substantial postscript surveys novels by Irish women between 1922 and 1940 and relates them to the work of their female antecedents This ground breaking survey should also alter the familiar perspectives on the Ireland of 1890 1922 Many of the popular works were problem novels and hence throw light on contemporary thinking and debate on the Irish Question After the Irish Literary Revival and creation of the Free State much popular and mainstream fiction became a lost archive neglected evidence indeed of a lost Ireland      Selected Essays Abraham Hayward, 1879      Irish Nationalists and the Making of the Irish Race Bruce Nelson, 2013-12-26 This is a book about Irish nationalism and how Irish nationalists developed their own conception of the Irish race Bruce Nelson begins with an exploration of the discourse of race from the nineteenth century belief that race is everything to the more recent argument that there are no races He focuses on how English observers constructed the native and Catholic Irish as uncivilized and savage and on the racialization of the Irish in the nineteenth century especially in Britain and the United States where Irish immigrants were often portrayed in terms that had been applied mainly to enslaved Africans and their descendants Most of the book focuses on how the Irish created their own identity in the context of slavery and abolition empire and revolution Since the Irish were a dispersed people this process unfolded not only in Ireland but in the United States Britain Australia South Africa and other countries Many nationalists were determined to repudiate anything that could interfere with the goal of building a united movement aimed at achieving full independence for Ireland But others including men and women who are at the heart of this study believed that the Irish struggle must create a more inclusive sense of Irish nationhood and stand for freedom everywhere Nelson pays close attention to this argument within Irish nationalism and to the ways it resonated with nationalists worldwide from India to the Caribbean

The Letters of T. S. Eliot T. S. Eliot, 2015-07-14 This fifth volume of the collected letters of poet playwright essayist and literary critic Thomas Stearns Eliot covers the years 1930 through 1931 It was during this period that the acclaimed American born writer earnestly embraced his newly avowed Anglo Catholic faith a decision that earned him the antagonism of friends like Virginia Woolf and Herbert Read Also evidenced in these correspondences is Eliot's growing estrangement from his wife Vivien with the writer's newfound dedication to the Anglican Church exacerbating the unhappiness of an already tormented union Yet despite his personal trials this period was one of great literary activity for Eliot In 1930 he composed the poems Ash Wednesday and Marina and published Coriolan and a translation of Saint John Perse's Anabase the following year As director at the British publishing house Faber Faber and editor of The Criterion he encouraged W H Auden Stephen Spender Louis MacNeice and Ralph Hodgson published James Joyce's Haveth Childers Everywhere and turned down a book proposal from Eric Blair better known by his pen name George Orwell Through Eliot's correspondences from this time the reader gets a full bodied view of a great artist at a personal professional and spiritual crossroads
