chapter is about the author's experiences in dealing with tribal African superstitions when he was still a young game ranger with the Rhodesian Department of National Parks Wildlife Management Another chapter is a rather tongue in cheek humorous look at the often contentious gratuity issue in the safari hunting industry Humor aside though the author also issues a somber warning as to the critical situation in some of Zimbabwe's once great state owned hunting safari concessions where rampant poaching greed gross corruption and horrific mismanagement have led to a sharp decline in wildlife numbers probably now well beyond the critical tipping point The author considers The Hunting Game a light campfire read which will be of interest not only to sport hunting enthusiasts but to anyone with an interest in the sustainable consumptive yield of Southern Africa's wildlife resources
