Uncommon Common Ground: Race and America's Future (Revised and Updated Edition) (American Assembly Books) Angela Glover Blackwell, Stewart Kwoh, Manuel Pastor, 2010-06-07 Revised and updated Cover Critical Race Theory Kimberlé Crenshaw, Neil Gotanda, Gary Peller, Kendall Thomas, 1995 In the past few years a new generation of progressive intellectuals has dramatically transformed how law race and racial power are understood and discussed in America Questioning the old assumptions of both liberals and conservatives with respect to the goals and the means of traditional civil rights reform critical race theorists have presented new paradigms for understanding racial injustice and new ways of seeing the links between race gender sexual orientation and class This reader edited by the principal founders and leading theoreticians of the critical race theory movement gathers together for the first time the movement's most important essays Back cover Charles W. Chesnutt and the Fictions of Race Dean McWilliams, 2010-07-01 Charles Chesnutt 1858 1932 was the first African American writer of fiction to win the attention and approval of America's literary establishment Looking anew at Chesnutt's public and private writings his fiction and nonfiction and his well known and recently rediscovered works Dean McWilliams explores Chesnutt's distinctive contribution to American culture how his stories and novels challenge our dominant cultural narratives particularly their underlying assumptions about race The published canon of Chesnutt's work has doubled in the last decade three novels completed but unpublished in Chesnutt's life have appeared as have scholarly editions of Chesnutt's journals his letters and his essays This book is the first to offer chapter length analyses of each of Chesnutt's six novels It also devotes three chapters to his short fiction Previous critics have read Chesnutt's nonfiction as biographical background for his fiction McWilliams is the first to analyze these nonfiction texts as complex verbal artifacts embodying many of the same tensions and ambiguities found in Chesnutt's stories and novels The book includes separate chapters on Chesnutt's journal and on his important essay The Future American Moreover Charles W Chesnutt and the Fictions of Race approaches Chesnutt's writings from the perspective of recent literary theory To a greater extent than any previous study of Chesnutt it explores the way his texts interrogate and deconstruct the language and the intellectual constructs we use to organize reality The full effect of this new study is to show us how much more of a twentieth century writer Chesnutt is than has been previously acknowledged This accomplishment can only hasten his reemergence as one of our most important observers of race in American culture The Negro, Past, Present, and Future John Ambrose

Price,1907 The Past, Present and Future of the Negro Ali Soliman,1926 Race, Ethnicity and Nuclear War Paul Williams,2011-10-18 An Open Access edition of this book is available on the Liverpool University Press website and the OAPEN library Ranging across novels and poetry critical theory and film comics and speeches Race Ethnicity and Nuclear War Representations of Nuclear Weapons and Post Apocalyptic Worlds explores how writers thinkers and filmmakers have answered the following question are nuclear weapons white Many texts respond in the affirmative and arraign nuclear weapons for defending a racial order that privileges whiteness They are seen as a reminder that the power enjoyed by the white western world imperils the whole of the Earth Furthermore the struggle to survive during and after a speculated nuclear attack is often cast as a contest between races and ethnic groups Race Ethnicity and Nuclear War listens to voices from around the Anglophone world and the debates followed do not only take place on the soil of the nuclear powers Filmmakers and writers from the Caribbean Australia and India take up positions shaped by their specific place in the decolonizing world and their particular experience of nuclear weapons The texts considered in Race Ethnicity and Nuclear War encompass the many guises of representations of nuclear weapons the Manhattan Project that developed the first atomic weapons the destruction of Hiroshima and Nagasaki nuclear tests taking place around the world and the anxiety surrounding the superpowers devastating arsenals Of particular interest to SF scholars are the extensive analyses of films novels and short stories depicting nuclear war and its aftermath New thoughts are offered on the major texts that SF scholars often return to such as Philip Wylie s Tomorrow and Pat Frank s Alas Babylon and a host of little known and under researched texts are scrutinized too Recognizing Race and Ethnicity Kathleen J. Fitzgerald,2020-06-03 This best selling textbook explains the current state of research in the sociology of race ethnicity emphasizing white privilege the social construction of race and the newest theoretical perspectives for understanding race and ethnicity It is designed to engage students with an emphasis on topics that are meaningful to their lives including sports popular culture interracial relationships and biracial multiracial identities and families The new third edition comes at a pivotal time in the politics of race and identity Fitzgerald includes vital new discussions on white ethnicities and the politics of Trump and populism Prominent attention is given to immigration and the discourse surrounding it police and minority populations and the criminal justice system Using the latest available data the author examines the present and future of generational change New cases studies include athletes and racial justice activism removal of Confederate monuments updates on Black Lives Matter and Native American activism at Standing Rock and against the Bayou Bridge pipeline
