Project 1995 Yukio Futagawa,1995      Global architecture ,1970      GA Houses ,1976      GA Document ,1990
American Architect and Building News ,1893      Official Gazette of the United States Patent Office United States.
Patent Office,1974      The American Architect and Building News ,1903      American Architect ,1908      Sacred Buildings Rudolf Stegers,2008-05-16 The building of religious structures represents a rare opportunity for the architect to concentrate on the creation of volume space and form Sacred architecture is far less determined than other building tasks by functional requirements norms and standards As a rule it is free to unfold as pure architecture Thus in design terms this building task offers enormous freedoms to the architect At the same time however the special atmospherics of sacred spaces call on the part of the architect for a highly sensitive treatment of religion and the relevant cultural and architectural traditions In a systematic section this volume introduces the design technical and planning fundamentals of building churches synagogues and mosques In its project section it also presents about seventy realized structures from the last three decades Drawing upon his in depth knowledge of the subject and his many years of publishing experience the author offers a valuable analysis of the conceptual and formal aspects that combine to create the religious impact of spaces e g the ground plan the shapes of the spaces the incidence of light and materiality      Design Book Review ,1985      Spatial Transparency in Architecture Camilo Rosales,2022-08-12 This volume explores the concept of spatial transparency a form of spatial continuity that articulates depth through permeable layered or porous three dimensional organizations where interstitial light is present Although transparency is a concept largely associated with the modern movement the use of glazed components and twentieth century architectural discourse spatial transparency is a form of depth awareness through intermediate domains takes place through the interstitial fabric of a structure and occurs when several consecutive domains are spatially and visually connected These immersive environments invite active participation not as one way communication but as a series of visual and experiential exchanges interdependencies and relationships Divided into four parts the book examines spatial transparency in massive opaque constructions light constructions glass assemblies and hybrid systems It analyzes both the phenomenon of visual connectivity and continuity through intermediate spaces and spatial transparency s capacity for promoting and enabling graded interflowing environmental transactions Using historical and contemporary examples it catalogs some of the most common and recurring configurations that manifest these characteristics Over 20 international case studies from the Americas to Japan are presented to argue that environments exist in porous mediums and that by studying the openings voids light and materials of layered and or permeable organizations important insights about space making can be revealed Written for students and academics this book explores various expressions of spatial transparency in architecture and helps connect their abstract ideas with significant built works analytical drawings and comparison charts      GA [Global architecture] ,1978      The Architecture of Paul Rudolph Timothy M. Rohan,2014-07-10

Equally admired and maligned for his remarkable Brutalist buildings Paul Rudolph 1918 1997 shaped both late modernist architecture and a generation of architects while chairing Yale's department of architecture from 1958 to 1965 Based on extensive archival research and unpublished materials The Architecture of Paul Rudolph is the first in depth study of the architect neglected since his postwar zenith Author Timothy M Rohan unearths the ideas that informed Rudolph's architecture from his Florida beach houses of the 1940s to his concrete buildings of the 1960s to his lesser known East Asian skyscrapers of the 1990s Situating Rudolph within the architectural discourse of his day Rohan shows how Rudolph countered the perceived monotony of mid century modernism with a dramatically expressive architecture for postwar America exemplified by his Yale Art and Architecture Building of 1963 famously clad in corrugated concrete The fascinating story of Rudolph's spectacular rise and fall considerably deepens longstanding conceptions about postwar architecture Rudolph emerges as a pivotal figure who anticipated new directions for architecture ranging from postmodernism to sustainability

The Greenwood Encyclopedia of Homes through World History James M. Steele, 2009-03-30 The house throughout history in every place in the world has been built to provide shelter from the elements The dwellings that have resulted are as different as the people that have built them the social norms that prevailed at the time and place in which they were built and the natural environment that they adapted to Studying them now in a comprehensive way allows us to understand the social political economic and religious conditions that existed for their inhabitants They are a three dimensional record of culture Twenty four pages of color images along with black and white images through three volumes illustrate the homes of people throughout the world The volumes cover ancient times to the late Middle Ages the Renaissance to the Industrial Revolution and the Post Industrial Revolution to the Present

Readers' Guide to Periodical Literature, 1915 New Country Life, 1925 The Georgia Catalog, Historic American Buildings Survey John Linley, 1982 From the elegant townhouses of Savannah to the towering hotel and office complexes of Atlanta the state of Georgia has a distinguished architectural tradition No other work documents this rich heritage as comprehensively as The Georgia Catalog Prepared under the auspices of the Historic American Buildings Survey this carefully researched and beautifully illustrated volume will be an invaluable resource for architects preservationists historians and those who own the historic houses or who simply are interested in Georgia's architectural legacy The book is in two parts The first is a history of and guide to the architecture of the state John Linley begins his survey with the remains of prehistoric civilization and the architecture of the first European settlers He traces the development of a native architecture in the state the flowering of the Greek Revival style the functional architecture of commerce and industry and the energy and imagination of urban architecture in the late twentieth century The text reflects the author's interest in the rationale and logic that produced the architecture and in the lessons that the past has for the present and the future He also emphasizes the influence of climate ecology landscape and city planning on both historic and contemporary architecture The second section of The Georgia Catalog is a complete updated listing of nearly four hundred sites in the Historic American Buildings Survey Each entry gives the precise location of the site a brief description of the structure the date of construction and the name of the architect if known changes in name structure or location of the building its present condition any facts of historical significance and the number and dates of drawings photographs and data sheets in the HABS collection at the Library of Congress To add to its value as a guide the volume also includes a glossary of architectural terms and a list of Georgia properties that are included in the National Register of Historic Places have been designated National Landmarks or are part of the Historic American Engineering Record

Persian Vernacular Architecture Ali Cheshmehzangi, Sue Roaf, 2025-02-14 This timely book aims to address a significant challenge in contemporary design and architecture i e to learn from the vernacular Vernacular architecture refers to traditional and indigenous building styles that have evolved in response to local climate materials and cultural practices These styles often embody extreme design principles as they support life without relying on modern mechanical systems for heating and cooling The core premise of the book is that these time tested design solutions offer valuable lessons for real sustainable and climate resilient architecture today We strongly urge a return to the vernacular as a source of inspiration and knowledge Hence a genuine dedication to dedicated Ostads or master builders of Iran who have contributed extensively to making and co creating climate resilient architecture and climate sensitive design This is more than just a box ticking sustainability exercise and delves more deeply into the building performance and its impact on our everyday life our health and wellbeing and us as human beings The book posits that contemporary architects and designers can learn valuable lessons by studying the adaptive strategies and sustainable practices embedded in the traditional vernacular architecture of Iran These lessons are crucial for addressing modern challenges such as climate change resource scarcity and the need for energy efficient buildings By revisiting and analysing vernacular architecture the book aims to bridge the gap between traditional knowledge and contemporary design practices It provides a comprehensive exploration of how vernacular principles can be integrated into modern architectural education and practice The goal is not only to preserve traditional wisdom but also to innovate upon it creating buildings that are both culturally relevant and environmentally sustainable The contributing case study chapters of the book include an excellent range of practical recommendations for architects researchers and policymakers By fostering a deeper understanding of vernacular architecture the book seeks to inspire a new generation of architects to create buildings that are harmonious with their environment and resilient to future challenges Through this approach we believe lessons from vernacular buildings ought to offer the promise of reintegrating real Resilience into the design of the next generation of buildings
