Gaining Ground Law Reform For Gypsies And Travellers:

Gaining Ground Rachel Claire Morris, Rachel Morris, Luke J. Clements, 1999 The publication of the Macpherson Report on the Stephen Lawrence case shows that racism in the UK is still a major problem for many communities Although often overlooked the prejudice and discrimination experienced by Gypsies and Travellers is in some ways worse because of its seeming acceptability They are stereotyped and denigrated find it increasingly difficult to pursue their traditional way of life suffer a lower life expectancy and higher infant mortality rate than that of settled people and have low rates of literacy

Hearing the Voices of Gypsy, Roma and Traveller Communities Andrew Ryder, Sarah Cemlyn, Thomas Acton, 2014-10-08 Over the past decade interest in Gypsies Roma and Travellers GRT has risen up the political and media agendas but they remain relatively unknown This topical book is the first to chart the history and contemporary developments in GRT community activism and the community and voluntary organisations and coalitions which support it Underpinned by radical community development and equality theories it describes the communities struggle for rights against a backdrop of intense intersectional discrimination across Europe and critiques the ambivalent role of community development in fostering these campaigns Much of it co written by community activists it is a vehicle for otherwise marginalised voices and an essential resource and inspiration for practitioners lecturers researchers and members of GRT communities

Gypsies Donald Kenrick, 2004 This illustrated text traces the origin of the Gypsies in India and their journey westward to their arrival on the shores of the Thames It also looks at their distant relatives who stayed in India or dropped off on the way west and who carry on a nomadic life in Persia and neighbouring countries

A minority and the state Becky Taylor, 2013-07-19 This is a new paperback edition of Becky Taylor s history of Britain s travelling communities in the twentieth century It draws together detailed archival research at local and national level to explore the impact of state and legislative developments on Travellers as well as their experience of missions education war and welfare It also covers legal developments affecting Travellers and crucially argues that their history must not be dealt with in isolation but as part of a wider history of British minorities This book will be of interest to scholars and students concerned with minority groups the welfare state and the expansion of government as well as general readers and practitioners working with Travellers

Travellers, Gypsies, Roma Jean Ryan Hakizimana, 2009-10-02 This volume hopes to act as a catalyst for some new and exciting areas of enquiry in the more liminal interstices of Irish Studies Traveller Studies Romani Studies and Diaspora and Migration Studies These disciplines are all relatively new areas of enquiry in modern Ireland a country whose society has witnessed very rapid and wide ranging cultural and demographic change within the short space of a decade The issue of multiculturalism is not one which is particularly new to Irish society as a number of contributors to this volume point out What is new however is an increased acknowledgement of diversity and multiculturalism in Ireland and Europe as a whole Such an acknowledgement makes increased dialogue between mainstream society older minorities such as the Irish

Travellers and the many newer immigrant communities such as the Roma all the more necessary For such constructive dialogue to take place it is vital that migratory peoples and their particular expressions of postcolonial identity be voiced and valued These identities are both complex and diverse and frequently straddle a number of countries and national identities It is hoped that this volume will go some way towards the cultivation of such dialogue Travellers and Showpeople Jean Ryan Hakizimana, Louise Harrington, 2009-10-02 The late twentieth century has witnessed a particular prominence assigned to the discourses of difference and Otherness An examination of this othering discourse as related to Travellers Gypsies and Showpeople enumerates the projective function of the Othering process a form of rejection and marginalisation that is the institutionalization of ideas which are seldom challenged The history of Traveller and Gypsy Othering in Europe points to the constant re articulation of reductionist stereotypes as applied to a wide range of nomadic peoples and the creation of a mythic Traveller Gypsy prototype that is based on a series of endlessly repeated generalizations which gradually assume the status of an objective truth This discourse of representation has culminated in powerful institutional attitudes many of which have influenced official and policy responses to these minorities This volume brings to surface the hidden histories and discourses of the peoples of the road those migratory peoples whose unique expressions of identity have often hitherto remained occluded We live in the era of the Other the era of difference the era of migration that stranger who waits silently at the border crossing battered suitcase in hand Travellers and Roma are the archetypal migrants Perennial outsiders they are the people who have lived on society's margins for centuries This volume explores the history of these traditionally migrant peoples within the frame of articulation that is Western literary and visual culture The Gypsy Debate Joanna Richardson, 2017-02-13 Jo Richardson explores the extent to which modes of discourse reflect antipathy towards gypsies and travellers and control and shape the treatment of this minority group by the rest of society The focus is housing policy but her discussion has a wide application From Coppersmith to Nurse Gunilla Lundgren, Alyosha Taikon, 2003 The life of Alyosha Taikon the Swedish born son of a coppersmith a member of the Kalderash clan of Romanies from Hungary After working as a coppersmith and in the family circus he trained to be a male nurse a decision which led to his rejection by the Gypsy community New Directions in Race, Ethnicity and Crime Coretta Phillips, Colin Webster, 2013-10-08 The disproportionate criminalisation and incarceration of particular minority ethnic groups has long been observed though much of the work in criminology has been dominated by a somewhat narrow debate This debate has concerned itself with explaining this disproportionality in terms of structural inequalities and socio economic disadvantage or discriminatory criminal justice processing This book offers an accessible and innovative approach including chapters on anti-Semitism social cohesion in London Bradford and Glasgow as well as an exploration of policing Traveller communities Incorporating current empirical research and new departures in methodology and theory this book also draws on a range of contemporary issues such as policing terrorism immigration detention and youth gangs In offering minority perspectives on race crime and justice and white inmate perspectives from the multicultural prison the book emphasises contrasting and distinctive influences on constructing ethnic identities It will be of interest to students studying courses in ethnicity crime and justice At what Cost? Morris, Rachel, Clements, Luke, 2002-09-04 This book presents the findings of a comprehensive study by the Traveller Law Research Unit at Cardiff Law School of the costs associated with unauthorised encampments Gypsy and Traveller Ethnicity Brian A Belton, 2004-08-02 The book explores the notion of Gypsy and Traveller ethnicity and provides a critique of the conceptual basis of racial and ethnic categorisation An analysis of the post war housing situation is given in order to illustrate a connection between social and economic conditions legislation affecting gypsies and travellers and the visibility and general consciousness of the gypsy and traveller population The originality of the book lies in its argument that the position of gypsies and travellers largely arises out of social conditions and interaction rather than political biological or ideological determinants It puts forward the notion of an ethnic narrative of traveller identity and illustrates how variations of this have been defensively deployed by some travellers and elaborated on by theorists Belton focuses on the social generation of travellers as a cultural ethnic and racial categorization offering a rational explanation of the development of an itinerant population that is less ambiguous and more informative in terms of the social nature of the gypsy and traveller position than interpretations based on blood breed stock ethnicity or race that dominate the literature Gypsy Identities 1500-2000 David Mayall, 2004-03-01 Gypsies have lived in England since the early sixteenth century yet considerable confusion and disagreement remain over the precise identity of the group The question Who are the Gypsies is still asked and the debates about the positioning and permanence of the boundary between Gypsy and non Gypsy are contested as fiercely today as at any time before This study locates these debates in their historical perspective tracing the origins and reproduction of the various ways of defining and representing the Gypsy from the early sixteenth century to the present day Starting with a consideration of the early modern description of Gypsies as Egyptians land pirates and vagabonds the volume goes on to examine the racial classification of the nineteenth century and the emergence of the ethnic Gypsy in the twentieth century The book closes with an exploration of the long lasting image of the group as vagrant and parasitic nuisances which spans the whole period from 1500 to 2000 Feminist Perspectives on Land Law Hilary Lim, Anne Bottomley, 2007-04-11 The first book to examine the critical area of land law from a feminist perspective it provides an original and critical analysis of the gendered intersection between law and land ranging land use and ownership in England and Wales to Botswana Papua New Guinea and the Muslim world The authors draw upon the diverse disciplinary fields of law anthropology and geography to open up perspectives that go beyond the usually narrow topography and cartography of land law Addressing an unorthodox variety of sites where questions of women s access and rights to land are raised this book includes chapters on shopping malls ancient monuments nature reserves housing estates the family home An interdisciplinary and enlivening account of feminist perspectives on land law it is an excellent addition to the bookshelves of students and researchers in legal

Migration, Education and Socio-Economic Mobility

Nitya Rao, 2014-06-11 The primacy of education in development agendas is unquestioned With the gradual acknowledgement of the potential benefits that migration can hold for development the relationship between migration and education is a growing area of research Migration Education and Socio Economic Mobility explores how the decisions people make in terms of both their migration choices and educational investments mediated as they are by gender class caste and nationality can potentially contribute to earning incomes building social and symbolic capital or reshaping gender relations all elements contributing to the process of economic and social mobility Much of the existing literature examining the links between migration and education focuses either on the investment of migrant remittances in the education of their children back home or on brain drain that refers to the migration of skilled workers from the developing to the developed world Most of these discussions are firmly rooted in materialist arguments and while undeniably important tend to underplay the social processes through which migration and education interact to shape people's lives identities and status in society Along with economic security people also aspire to social mobility and status enhancement The ideas presented in this book take a more varied and nuanced view of the relationship between education and migration This book was originally published as a special issue of Compare A Journal of Comparative and International Education Fire in the Dark Sarah Buckler, 2007

Anthropologists who are employed to change the worlds they are researching find themselves in a potentially contradictory position Combining the various roles and expectations involved in working with Gypsies and local government at the same time as conducting anthropological research provides the overall perspective of this study It is an unusual and effective balance of insightful ethnography and anthropological theory with the perspective of someone employed to carry out applied work An effective and creative use of metaphor structures the entire work and allows complex ideas to be conveyed in an accessible way Drawing upon traditional anthropological approaches such as kinship and story telling and engaging with the works of major social theorists such as Weber Bourdieu and Foucault as well as the work of contemporary anthropologists this work demonstrates the use of anthropology in understanding changing situations and in deciding how best to manage such situations
