Galileos Children Science Sakharov And The Power Of The State:

Galileo's Children George Bailey, 1990 Focusing on the cases of Galileo Robert Oppenheimer and Andrei Sakharov this study examines the conflicts that have arisen when science clashes with the powers of government Meeting the Demands of Reason Jay Bergman, 2011-03-15 The Soviet physicist dissident and human rights activist Andrei Sakharov 1921 1989 was awarded the Nobel Peace Prize in 1975 The first Russian to have been so recognized Sakharov in his Nobel lecture held that humanity had a sacred endeavor to create a life worthy of its potential that we must make good the demands of reason by confronting the dangers threatening the world both then and now nuclear annihilation famine pollution and the denial of human rights Meeting the Demands of Reason provides a comprehensive account of Sakharov's life and intellectual development focusing on his political thought and the effect his ideas had on Soviet society Jay Bergman places Sakharov's dissidence squarely within the ethical legacy of the nineteenth century Russian intelligentsia inculcated by his father and other family members from an early age In 1948 one year after receiving his doctoral candidate's degree in physics Sakharov began work on the Soviet hydrogen bomb and later received both the Stalin and the Lenin prizes for his efforts Although as a nuclear physicist he had firsthand experience of honors and privileges inaccessible to ordinary citizens Sakharov became critical of certain policies of the Soviet government in the late 1950s He never renounced his work on nuclear weaponry but eventually grew concerned about the environmental consequences of testing and feared unrestrained nuclear proliferation Bergman shows that these issues led Sakharov to see the connection between his work in science and his responsibilities to the political life of his country In the late 1960s Sakharov began to condemn the Soviet system as a whole in the name of universal human rights By the 1970s he had become with Alexander Solzhenitsyn the most recognized Soviet dissident in the West which afforded him a measure of protection from the authorities In 1980 however he was exiled to the closed city of Gorky for protesting the Soviet invasion of Afghanistan In 1986 the new Gorbachev regime allowed him to return to Moscow where he played a central role as both supporter and critic in the years of perestroika Two years after Sakharov's death the Soviet Union collapsed and in the courageous example of his unyielding commitment to human rights skillfully recounted by Bergman Sakharov remains an enduring inspiration for all those who would tell truth to power

War, Science and Terrorism Dr J Richardson, 2012-12-06 Describes the application of research to the evolution of weapons It shows how natural engineering information and environmental sciences are exploited how even social science is applied to recruitment battlefield and logistical management and careful preparation of terroristic acts The Cambridge History of Science: Volume 8, Modern Science in National, Transnational, and Global Context Hugh Richard Slotten, Ronald L. Numbers, David N. Livingstone, 2020-04-09 This volume in the highly respected Cambridge History of Science series is devoted to exploring the history of modern science using national transnational and global frames of reference Organized by topic and culture its essays by distinguished scholars offer the most comprehensive and up to date interdisciplinary history of

Ethical Foundations for Educational Administration Eugenie Samier, 2003-12-16 Christopher Hodgkinson is one of the most important contributors to the field of educational administration This collection of essays open up the philosophical foundations of ethical educational administration by reviewing his writings and exploring the ethical theories of major philosophers as they apply to administration and leadership Ethical Foundations of Educational Administration is published in honour of the work of Christopher Hodgkinson It is divided into two sections The first comprises biographical essays and a critical evaluation of Professor Hodgkinson s work focusing on his personal and intellectual contributions to a moral theory of educational administration and leadership The second section looks at how his moral philosophy can inform administrative practice The work of a broad range of philosophers is discussed from the pre 20th century theories of Aquinas Adam Smith and Kant to the pragmatists Peirce James and Dewey Heidegger MacIntyre Bourdieu Churchland and Thagard Christopher Hodgkinson s definition of administration as philosophy in action is now famous within the field This collection illustrates the essential truth of that maxim showing that moral philosophy approached in the spirit promoted by Hodgkinson has both practical and critical purpose when brought to bear upon educational administration and leadership

A Passion for Learning Philip A. Cusick, 2005-04-03 In his engaging new book Philip Cusick puts the personal back into education by examining the educational experiences of seven eminent American Benjamin Franklin Abraham Lincoln Jane Addams W E B Du Bois Eleanor Roosevelt J Robert Oppenheimer and Dorothy Day Devoting a chapter to each Cusick describes what they learned how they learned what they called their education and how they used education to establish their place in the world More than providing just a series of personal histories Cusick argues that the discourse about education has turned into a discourse about educational institutions But his descriptions show that one can talk about education without talking about schools talk about learning without talking about the state curriculum talk about achievement without talking about test scores and talk about accountability without talking about teacher preparation

Profiles in Humanity Warren I. Cohen, 2009 A new generation will learn that Margaret Sanger was responsible for the single most important advance toward the liberation of women worldwide They will also come to know some of the valiant women who fought at great personal risk for equal rights in Muslim communities Warren Cohen highlights the vital roles of Bram Fischer Helen

Suzman and Donald Woods in fighting apartheid in South Africa and of Jack Greenberg in the struggle against Jim Crow in America He traces Liu Binyan s efforts to win freedom of the press and to end the abuse of power by the Chinese communist Party Finally he recounts the remarkable stories of some of the thousands of men and women of many nationalities and walks of life who rescued Jews during the Holocaust Together these biographies paint an unforgettable portrait of the famous and unsung people who stepped forward with the moral vision to intervene often at great personal cost to alleviate human misery

BOOK JACKET The Animal in the Secret World of Darwin Michel Bergeron,2011-03-03

Scientist Charles Darwin discretely opened the possibility of a purely animalistic origin for the human species He repeatedly insisted that the differences between humans and others were a question of degree only Sciences were however taken in the opposite direction where these differences cannot have been generated by the natural processes of biological evolution In The Animal in the Secret World of Darwin author Michel Bergeron discusses the effects on the sciences caused by the presence of questions on humanity only answerable with religious beliefs His investigation suggests that significant elements of perceived humanity have remained sufficiently narrowly defined to continue to agree with religious beliefs over the entire period starting with the scientific revolution centuries ago and reaching the present Instead he questions could we be the simple animal who can only live on the belief not to be a simple animal To alleviate these biases on the sciences of life Bergeron advocates a different synthesis between Darwinism and Lamarckism He further asks How can sciences pretend to a cosmology neutral in term of religious influence since all of its complex mathematical developments were made under the constraint that we can link the present directly to the Big Bang

Transforming Nature Michael E. Gorman,2012-12-06

This book is but the draft of a draft as Melville said of Moby Dick There is no prose here to match Melville s but the scope is worthy of the great white whale No one could possibly write a comprehensive authoritative book on ethics invention and discovery I have not tried to

though I hope my bibliography will be a useful starting point for other explorers and the cases and ideas presented here will keep people arguing for years Although this book is nothing like a textbook it is written for my students I was trained as a teacher of psychology in graduate school and ended up by one of those happy chances of the job market teaching psychology to engineering students rather than psyche majors My dissertation and early research were in the psychology of scientific hypothesis testing see Chapter 2 When I team taught a course with W Bernard Carlson a historian of technology I saw how cognitive psychology might be applied to the study of invention Bernie and I received funding from the National Science Foundation for three years of research on the invention of the telephone a portion of that work is described in Chapter 3
