

The task

- Decide if the letter is from Luke, Sophie or both the children.
- Make a list of things that the children enjoyed at the estate.
- Write a note to the professor, thanking him for his time, his ideas and his hospitality.
- Make a point of mentioning how his ideas were used to make the homework assignment toys.
- Include all three sections of a thank-you note (see below).
- Use the back of the sheet if you need more space.

Thank-you notes are a polite way to show that you appreciate a person and what they have done for you.

Like all letters, they need your address, the date and a salutation (greeting) at the start. Begin the main letter by saying thank you, and make it personal by describing exactly what it is you're thanking them for.

Next write about why you appreciated the event or gift and say thank you once more.

Close the letter with an appropriate ending such as "Yours sincerely".

More ideas

- Work with a partner. One of you is Professor Flukelar, the other is Luke or Sophie. Imagine the children are helping the professor with the new line of Cosmic Creatures. Write a series of short letters or emails between you as the creatures go from idea to prototyping to manufacturing and sale.
