Origins of the Boxer Uprising Joseph Esherick, 1987 In the summer of 1900 bands of peasant youths from the villages of north China streamed into Beijing to besiege the foreign legations attracting the attention of the entire world Joseph Esherick reconstructs the early history of the Boxers challenging the traditional view that they grew from earlier anti dynastic sects and stressing instead the impact of social ecology and popular culture      Rescuing History from the Nation Prasenjit Duara, 1996-11-20 Prasenjit Duara offers the first systematic account of the relationship between the nation state nationalism and the concept of linear history Focusing primarily on China and including discussion of India Duara argues that many historians of postcolonial nation states have adopted a linear evolutionary history of the Enlightenment colonial model As a result they have written repressive exclusionary and incomplete accounts The backlash against such histories has resulted in a tendency to view the past as largely constructed imagined or invented In this book Duara offers a way out of the impasse between constructionism and the evolving nation he redefines history as a series of multiple often conflicting narratives produced simultaneously at national local and transnational levels In a series of closely linked case studies he considers such examples as the very different histories produced by Chinese nationalist reformers and partisans of popular religions the conflicting narratives of statist nationalists and of advocates of federalism in early twentieth century China He demonstrates the necessity of incorporating contestation appropriation repression and the return of the repressed subject into any account of the past that will be meaningful to the present Duara demonstrates how to write histories that resist being pressed into the service of the national subject in its progress or stalled progress toward modernity      Queering Contemporary Asian American Art Laura Kina, Jan Christian Bernabe, 2017-05-16 Queering Contemporary Asian American Art takes Asian American differences as its point of departure and brings together artists and scholars to challenge normative assumptions essentialisms and methodologies within Asian American art and visual culture Taken together these nine original artist interviews cutting edge visual artworks and seven critical essays explore contemporary currents and experiences within Asian American art including the multiple axes of race and identity queer bodies and forms kinship and affect and digital identities and performances Using the verb and critical lens of queering to capture transgressive cultural social and political engagement and practice the contributors to this volume explore the connection points in Asian American experience and cultural production of surveillance states decolonization and diaspora transnational adoption and transgender bodies and forms as well as heteronormative respectability the military and war The interdisciplinary and theoretically informed frameworks in the volume engage readers to understand global and historical processes through contemporary Asian American artistic production      Transnationalism and Society Michael C.
