The Gangster We are All Looking for Thi Diem Thúy Lê,2004 In 1978 six Vietnamese refugees were pulled from the sea just off California In San Diego a little girl s matter of fact innocence masks the ghostly traumas that still haunt her the cataclysm that engulfed her homeland the memory of a brother who drowned the heartbreaking spectacle of her parents trying to make a new home their struggle backlit by the memory of a forbidden love when they were young thuy le has revealed a world of great beauty and enormous sorrows The Gangster We Are All Looking For is an authentically original novel about remembering and forgetting about home and family and about trying to find a place and voice in a new world

Asian American Poets Guiyou Huang,2002-05-30 Even though Asian American literature is enjoying an impressive critical popularity attention has focused primarily on longer narrative forms such as the novel And despite the proliferation of a large number of poets of Asian descent in the 20th century Asian American poetry remains a neglected area of study Poetry as an elite genre has not reached the level of popularity of the novel or short story partly due to the difficulties of reading and interpreting poetic texts The lack of criticism on Asian American poetry speaks to the urgent need for scholarship in this area since perhaps more than any other genre poetry most forcefully captures the intense feelings and emotions that Asian Americans have experienced about themselves and their world This reference book overviews the tremendous cultural contributions of Asian American poets Included are alphabetically arranged entries on 48 American poets of Asian descent most of whom have been active during the latter half of the 20th century Each entry begins with a short biography which sometimes includes information drawn from personal interviews The entries then discuss the poet s major works and themes including such concerns as family racism sexism identity language and politics A survey of the poet s critical reception follows In many cases the existing criticism is scant and the entries offer new readings of neglected works The entries conclude with bibliographies of primary and secondary texts and the volume closes with a selected general bibliography Contesting Genres in Contemporary Asian American Fiction B. Huang, 2010-12-12 This book examines the influence of genre on contemporary Asian American literary production Drawing on cultural theories of representation social theories of identity and poststructuralist genre theory this study shows how popular prose fictions have severely constrained the development of Asian American literary aesthetics
