Spicing up Britain Panikos Panayi, 2008-04-15 Among the cuisines of Europe Britain's has long been regarded as the black sheep kippers jellied eels and blood pudding rarely elicit the same fond feelings as chocolate mousse or pasta primavera Despite these unsavory stereotypes British cuisine is anything but unremarkable today Panikos Panayi reveals in this fascinating study that British cuisine has been transformed and enriched by diverse international influences The last thirty years have seen immigrants flood British shores but Spicing Up Britain reveals that foreign influences have been infusing British cuisine for the past 150 years From the arrival of Italian ice cream vendors and German butchers in the nineteenth century to the British curry that permeates dishes today Panayi chronicles the rich and fascinating social history behind the rise of a truly multicultural cuisine The author argues that Britons' eating habits have been reshaped by immigration globalization and increased wealth and he explores how other cultures have woven themselves into British society through the portal of food whether Anglo Indian fusion dishes like chicken tikka masala New British cuisine restaurants or the popular home cooked dish of spaghetti bolognese Panayi reveals how these changes in British cuisine shed light on the role of multiculturalism in the construction of modern British identity Britain is a diverse nation in which different peoples are united by willingness to sample the foods produced by other ethnic groups but those ethnic groups are at the same time ghettoized by not moving beyond their own culinary traditions A comprehensive and engaging investigation Spicing Up Britain serves up delicious new facets of food in Britain today Women drinking out in Britain since the early twentieth century David Gutzke, 2016-05-16 Given recent media coverage of women's drinking habits it is surprising that a topic of such interest has not produced a comprehensive examination This book provides not just a survey spanning a century of momentous change but integrates diverse sources with concepts to offer a new understanding of the changing nature of women's drinking patterns. It challenges traditional assumptions and offers original interpretations about the diverse factors influencing women's consumption of alcohol including advertising, moral panics, sexism, legislative initiatives, employment, age, ethnicity, technology, new drinking venues and marketing strategies. What most influenced how women transformed their consumption of alcohol? What beverages did they drink? To what extent did women themselves act as agents of change? These and other questions serve as the basis for analysing women's drinking patterns from a social and cultural perspective. Close attention is also paid to the image of drinking projected in advertising, the mass media and films.

Waterstone's Guide to Books Waterstone & Co, 1988

Seven Kinds of People You Find in Bookshops Shaun Bythell, 2020-11-24 From the author of Confessions of a Bookseller, a cankerous and darkly funny field guide to bookstore customers. It does take all kinds and through the misanthropic eyes of a very grumpy bookseller we see them all. There's the Expert with subspecies from the Bore to the Helpful Person, the Young Family ranging from the Exhausted to the Aspirational, Occultists from Conspiracy Theorist to Craft Woman. Then there's the Loiterer including the Erotica Browser and the Self-Published Author, the Bearded Pensioner including the Lyrca Clad, the The Not So Silent Traveller, the Whistler, Sniffer, Hummer, Farther and Tutter, and the Family Historian, generally Americans who come to Shaun's shop in Wigtown, Scotland. Don't forget the Person Who Doesn't Know What They Want But Thinks It Might Have a Blue Cover and the harried Parents. Secretly After Free Childcare. Two bonus sections include Staff and finally Perfect Customer, all add up to one of the funniest books about books you'll ever find. Shaun Bythell and his mordantly unique observational eye make this perfect for anyone who loves books and bookshops. Praise for Seven Kinds of People You Find in Bookshops: Bythell continues his seriocomic take on his profession; he spares no one. Michael Dirda, The Washington Post. Cheers to Shaun Bythell for this delightful taxonomy of bookstore customers and visitors. Pamela Pescosolido, bookseller, The Bookloft. Bythell is having fun and it's infectious. The Scotsman. UK. Virtuoso comic venting, pantomime, misanthropy is tempered with bursts of sweetness in the secondhand bookseller's latest dispatches from Wigtown, Scotland. The Guardian. Seven Kinds of People You Find in Bookshops, a parody of the sort of self-help titles Bythell absolutely loathes, is a series of Orwellian incisive character sketches. The Critic. UK. Bythell distills the essence of his experience into a warm, witty and quirky taxonomy of the book-loving public. The Week. UK.

The Getting of Garlic

John Newton, 2018-10-01 The white colonisers of Australia suffered from Alliumphobia, a fear of garlic. Local cooks didn't touch the stuff and it took centuries for that fear to lift. This food history of Australia shows we held onto British assumptions about produce and cooking for a long time and these fed our views on racial hierarchies and our place in the world. Before Garlic we had meat and potatoes. After Garlic what we ate got much more interesting. But has a national cuisine emerged? What is Australian food culture? Renowned food writer John Newton visits haute cuisine or fine dining restaurants the cafes and mid range restaurants and heads home to the dinner tables as he samples what everyday people have cooked and eaten over centuries His observations and recipes old and new show what has changed and what hasn't changed as much as we might think even though our chefs are hailed as some of the best in the world Whitaker's Book List ,1987 Serials in the British Library ,1999 Books ,1988 Good Eating's Classic Home Recipes Chicago Tribune Staff,2012-09-18 Good Eating's Classic Home Recipes offers a comprehensive collection of side dishes meals and desserts that were compiled from over 25 years of food reporting by the Chicago Tribune It includes many heirloom family recipes submitted directly by Tribune readers from comforting classics and gourmet twists on popular recipes to culturally unique dishes as diverse as Chicago itself With helpful recipe introductions and tips from food editors Good Eating's Classic Home Recipes is perfect for anyone searching for old favorites and new standards alike This book features a rich array of breakfast and brunch dishes soups and salads pastas poultry beef breads as well as cakes and pies plenty of choices for any home cook looking for inspiration in the kitchen Sweet and savory options for every meal makes Good Eating's Classic Home Recipes a must have resource for holiday cooking and dishes such as Cheesy Grits or Slow Cooker Beef and Guinness Stew are perfect to be shared with family and friends for holidays parties and gatherings of any kind The Sociology of Tourism Yiorgos Apostolopoulos,Stella Leivadi,Andrew Yiannakis,2013-04-15 The rapid expansion of the tourism industry has provided many economic benefits and affected every facet of contemporary societies including employment government revenue and cultural manifestations However tourism can also be considered a problematic phenomenon promoting dependency underdevelopment and adverse sociocultural effects especially for developing countries This pioneering work provides a comprehensive review of these complex tourism issues from a sociological perspective Various theoretical and empirical approaches are introduced and the following issues are discussed identifiable and stable forms of touristic behaviour and roles social divisions within tourism the interdependence of tourism and social institutions the effects of transnational tourism and commodification on the ecosystem Featuring international contributions from nine different countries this book brings together the most noted theoretical and empirical studies and enriches them with diverse experiences and perspectives
