Hess,Elizabeth Warren Markson, Modern industrial societies are characterized by long term declines in fertility and steady increases in life expectancy Together these trends result in an aging population The United States is no exception since 1969 the median age has risen from 29 4 to a projected 36 4 in the year 2000 This fourth edition of the standard reader on the sociology of aging has been completely revised with 90 percent new material to reflect new information and new issues in this rapidly developing field Students and practicing professionals will find it a lively accessible overview Who? What? Where? National Institute on Aging,1992 When Caregivers Kill Betty L. Alt,Sandra K. Wells,2010-04-16 From mothers who kill their children in postpartum fugues to fathers who murder their kids for revenge against an estranged wife the stories in this book are chilling yet real and bring home the message that children are vulnerable to violence even in the care of those who should love and protect them the most Sadly child murder by parents and caregivers happens more frequently than one might guess and while each case is different there are often warning signs that something might be amiss Signs of physical abuse may precede the ultimate act of murder A mother s mental state after the birth of a child may signal true distress and the potential for extreme actions No one can predict with certainty when a parent or other caregiver may snap but here Alt and Wells examine many cases of child murder to find out what they have in common how we might prevent such violence and what more we can do to protect children in potentially explosive situations Living Longer Depression Free Mark D.
