The Microphone Wars Knowlton Nash, 1994. The Microphone Wars is the astonishing and sometimes hilarious chronicle of the CBC full of larger than life characters, incidents of skulduggery and moments of both despair and exhilaration and all underpinned by the good humour and acumen of its author. The CBC is the most intensely scrutinized institution in Canada. Everyone it seems has an opinion on it. Yet oddly its history has never been fully told before. But now the missing story that reveals all has been written by the one person with intimate knowledge of the CBC who can be absolutely fair: Knowlton Nash, who retired from the corporation in 1992. Nash brings his extensive contacts, his own experiences, his journalist's objectivity and his tremendous research and storytelling skills to the Byzantine tale of Canada's public broadcaster. Ever since the 1920s when radio took Canada by storm, there has been war between those who want to use the airwaves solely for commercial profit and those who believe in public broadcasting for its role in education and nation building. There have been battles between management and producers and stars, between the CBC and successive governments, Liberal and Conservative alike, between the CBC board and its executives, between the private broadcasters and the CBC, even between various CBC luminaries and the bottle. Along with his vivid and intimate portraits of these fights, Nash gives us the stories of the CBC's many triumphs, from Foster Hewitt's early play-by-play of Saturday Night hockey games and Matthew Halton's dramatic broadcasts from the frontlines of the Second World War to the magic of TV in the 1950s, the renaissance of CBC Radio in the 1970s and CBC TV's drama and comedy hit programs in the 1980s. There have been betrayals aplenty too, by governments determined to curb the CBC's independence by one means or another or to starve it into submission and by insiders plotting the demise of controversial programs and equally controversial producers and personalities. Based on countless hours of research, on interviews with forty major figures from the CBC's more recent past and on as many oral history tapes recorded by earlier CBC leaders, The Microphone Wars is the definitive popular history of Canada's public broadcaster.

The Writing Life George Fetherling, 2013-04-01. Selected from thousands of pages of the daily journals of George Fetherling, the inexhaustible novelist, poet and cultural commentator, The Writing Life reveals an astute and candid observer of his contemporaries as well as himself. Hundreds of figures in the arts and public life crisscross the pages of Fetherling's journals, from Margaret Atwood and Marshall McLuhan to Gwendolyn MacEwen and Conrad Black. The book begins in mid-1970s Toronto, a time of cultural ferment, and carries on to Vancouver and a new century. A captivating and intimate narrative, The Writing Life provides a compelling portrait of the last three decades of Canadian cultural life.

From the book: Tuesday 4 February 1992, Toronto. Early this morning the latest in a series of strange phone calls from Edmund Carpenter in New York to discuss successive versions of his Canadian Notes. Queries piece on Marshall

McLuhan He falls to reminiscing and at one point says Marshall always reminded me of that passage in Boswell in which Boswell says that if you chanced to take shelter from a rain storm for a few minutes in Dr Johnson s company you would come away convinced that you had just met the smartest man in the world Marshall was like that too Of course if you spent an hour with Marshall well that was something quite different
