The YWCA Magazine , 1916 God Forgive Us for Being Women Joy E. A. Qualls, 2018-05-30 The role of women in church leadership is controversial however the Pentecostal tradition and specifically the Assemblies of God has held that women can serve at all levels of church leadership There is no role that is off limits to women Citing their distinctive approach to theology Pentecostals embrace women s leadership in policy but in practice women are often frustrated by the lack of opportunity and representation in leadership roles By exploring the rhetorical history how Pentecostals talk about the role of women the purpose of this book is to expose those rhetorical constraints that create dissonance and discontentment This book explores how Pentecostals use and are used by language that shapes this dissonance and how that impacts the lived reality of both men and women in the Pentecostal tradition

Flirtation and Courtship in Nineteenth-Century British Culture Ghislaine McDayter, John Hunter, 2022-08-08 This is volume one of a three volume set that brings together a rich collection of primary source materials on flirtation and courtship in the nineteenth century Introductory essays and extensive editorial apparatus offer historical and cultural contexts of the materials included Throughout the long nineteenth century a woman's life was commonly thought to fall into three discrete developmental stages personal formation and a gendered education a young woman's entrance onto the marriage market and finally her emergence at the apogee of normative femininity as wife and mother In all three stages of development there was an unspoken awareness of the duplicity at the heart of this carefully cultivated femininity What women were taught no matter their age was that if you desired anything in life it behooved you to perform indifference This meant that for women the art of flirtation and feigning indifference were viewed as essential survival skills that could guarantee success in life These three volumes document the many ways in which nineteenth century women were educated in this seemingly universal wisdom but just as frequently managed to manipulate subvert and navigate their way through such proscribed norms to achieve their own desires Presenting a wide range of documents from novels memoirs literary journals newspapers plays poetry songs parlour games and legal documents this collection will illuminate a far more diverse set of options available to women in their quest for happiness and a new understanding of the operations of courtship and flirtation the central concerns of a nineteenth century woman's life The volumes will be of interest to scholars of history literature gender and cultural studies with an interest in the nineteenth century

Woman's Who's who of America John W. Leonard, 1914

Australian Sport Kristine Toohey, Tracy Taylor, 2013-10-18 Australia is only a small player in the world's political and economic landscapes yet for many decades it has been considered to be a global powerhouse in terms of its sporting successes In conjunction with this notion the nation has long been portrayed as having a preoccupation with sport This labelling has been seen as both a blessing and a curse Those who value a Bourdieuan view of culture bemoan sport's centrality to the national imagination and the consequent lack of media coverage funding and prestige accorded to the arts Other scholars question whether the popular stereotype of the Australian sportsperson is in fact a myth and that instead Australians are predominantly passive sport consumers rather than active sport participants Australian sport through its successes on the field of play and in advancing sport coaching and management has undergone a revolution as both an enabler of global processes and as subject to its influences economic political migratory etc This book will examine the shifting place of Australian sports in current global and local environs from the perspective of spectators players and administrators This book was previously published as a special issue of Sport in Society
