Eldercare Labor Demand in China and Coping Strategies Yali Zhu, 2024-10-02 This book employs Markov models and propensity score matching methods to analyze the demand for elderly care labor utilizing data from the China Longitudinal Healthy Longevity Survey CLHLS and World Population Prospects 2022 United Nations 2022 The model predicts the health transferring scenario among the aging population firstly and then the demand for elderly care labor from 2022 to 2058 under a fixed care time demand scenario according to 8 hour working system as well as national and provincial regulations on caregiver carereceiver ratios The accelerated aging process and rapid increase in the younger elderly population will result in a rapid increase in the demand for elderly care labor for the healthy elderly until about 2042 with a 1.5 fold increase This is followed by accelerated growth in the demand for elderly care labor for the impaired and dysfunctional aging population Over time the supply of older adults without care will gradually increase nearly doubling by 2058 compared to 2022 It is recommended that on the one hand eldercare labor demand in China can be reduced from the origin by improving the health of the population and on the other hand the effective supply of elderly care be expanded by building a modern care service system improving relevant policies integrating care resources and innovating the supply model driven relationships technology and short attention spans Elder Care in Crisis Emily K. Abel, 2022-10-25 Explains why there is a crisis in caring for elderly people and how the COVID 19 pandemic exacerbated it Because government policies are based on an ethic of family responsibility repeated calls to support family members caring for the burgeoning elderly population have gone unanswered Without publicly funded long term care services many family caregivers cannot find relief from obligations that threaten to overwhelm them The crisis also stems from the plight of direct care workers nursing home assistants and home health aides most of whom are women from racially marginalized groups who receive little respect remuneration or job security Drawing on an online support group for people caring for spouses and partners with dementia Elder Care in Crisis examines the availability and quality of respite care which provides temporary relief from the burdens of care the long tortuous process through which family members decide whether to move spouses and partners to institutions and the likelihood that caregivers will engage in political action to demand greater public support When the pandemic began caregivers watched in horror as nursing homes turned into deathtraps and then locked their doors to visitors Terrified by the possibility of loved ones in nursing homes contracting the disease or suffering from loneliness some caregivers brought them home Others endured the pain of leaving relatives with severe cognitive impairments at the hospital door and the difficulties of sheltering in place with people with dementia who could not understand safety regulations or describe their symptoms Direct care workers were compelled to accept unsafe conditions or leave the labor force At the same time however the disaster provided an impetus for change and helped activists and scholars develop a vision of a future in which care is central to social life Elder Care in Crisis exposes the harrowing state of growing old in America offering concrete solutions and illustrating why they are necessary Nursing Ethics: Across the Curriculum and Into Practice Janie B. Care and Care Workers Nadya Araujo Guimarães,Helena Hirata,2021-01-03 This book presents an original contribution to the study of care and care work by addressing pressing issues in the field from a Latin American and intersectional perspective The expansion of professional care and its impacts on public policies related to care are global phenomena but so far the international literature on the subject has focused mainly on the Global North This volume aims to enrich this literature by presenting results of research projects conducted in five Latin American countries Argentina Brazil Chile Colombia and Uruguay and comparing them with researches conducted in other countries such as France Japan and the USA Latin America is a social space where professional care has expanded dramatically over the past twenty years However unlike Japan USA and European countries such expansion took place in a context of heterogeneous and poorly structured markets in societies which stand out for its reliance on domestic workers to provide care work in the household as paid workers in both formal and informal arrangements CareandCareWorkers A Latin American Perspective will be a useful tool for sociologists anthropologists social workers gerontologists and other social scientists dedicated to the study of the growing demand for care services worldwide as well as to decision makers dealing with public policies related to care services Society cannot function without the unpaid and poorly and informally paid work of caregivers Having the data and this book presents this data allows public policy to be based on the realities rather than on the prejudices habits or structural injustices of a previous time about gender roles class ethnicity race migrant status This volume not only presents the data then but also shows how some countries have begun to innovate to provide solutions to the problem that some people are overburdened by care while others do little of it Scholars and activists in Latin American countries lead the way in showing both how resistance remains and how to innovate So the rest of the world has much to learn from this volume Excerpt from the Foreword by Professor Joan C Tronto Families

Alex Liazos,2015-12-03 Unlike other family textbooks that mostly emphasize conflicts and problems this book also features the joys and pleasures of family living and its mutually nourishing qualities Its perspective reflects polls surveys and student essays indicating that most people value their families Families everywhere provide love support and sustenance to their members but they do so in many different arrangements Understanding the wide variety of families historically and across cultures gives the student a better basis for understanding how families change and a better grasp of more controversial changes such as the gradual acceptance by Westerners of same sex marriage and child rearing by single people Liazos offers two poignant chapters not found in other texts Family Living Chapter Six focuses on the social value of caregiving and family meals Kin and Community Chapter Seven focuses on relationships among kin and the larger community Meeting the Challenges of Elder Care Yayoi Saitō,Reiko Abe Auestad,Kari Wærness,2010 Based on comparative and collaborative studies of Japanese and Norwegian specialists this book focuses upon the critical analysis of rationality of care with an empirical examination of care services in the two countries The book argues that elder care is not simply the act of labor but that of love and it looks at such aspects of care as home help new public management and social enterprise Predicated on the historical experience and contemporary reality of elder care in both countries the study confronts the commercial rationalization of care practices and explores their desirable forms Cumulated Index Medicus ,1970 Elder Abuse
