Residential Care Services for the Elderly Doris K Williams, 2012-10-12 As the elderly population continues to increase the need for suitable housing will continue to rise as well This handbook is designed to help individuals and families determine the feasibility of starting a small home business providing residential home services for one or more elderly persons. Persons interested in starting a business of this type will find this unique book a goldmine of important information. Residential Care Services for the Elderly is a valuable decision making tool which helps readers determine if this type of business venture is appropriate and if so how to start and maintain a residential care service for the elderly. Thorough coverage of background and implementation details provides potential operators with a rationale and necessary information. Numerous self assessment and resource inventories in this practical handbook will guide readers in determining their areas of interests and competencies. Opportunities for networking among state licensing standards agencies, funding agencies and a listing of elder care organizations and advocacy groups adds value to this time saving resource ensuring a quicker and more likely success. Case studies, detailed guides and the discussion of positive and negative aspects of being the owner of a small residential care business based on interviews with people currently running elder care residential services are also included. All aspects of business operations are covered in Residential Care Services for the Elderly including sources of funding and potential incomes, emotional and financial cost benefit factors, parameters of organizing the business including personnel, respite care workers, need for registered nurses and food service, special needs of clients, details of financial plans with outlines and sample forms and variables of success and failure. Graduate and undergraduate students taking classes in regard to gerontological business and long term care related alternatives will also find this statistic filled handbook a useful reference.

If you are caring for an aging parent, spouse or other loved one, you are not alone. Statistics show that nearly 25 percent of all households in the United States are providing care for an elderly person. Although you may be willing to help, you may find the task comes with unexpected challenges. Matters you never thought about are now your responsibility: healthcare, housing, financial and legal matters as well as day to day issues involving nutrition, medications and personal safety. You may find yourself worried, overworked and exhausted. Over the past thirty years, Doctor Marion Somers, a leading geriatric specialist, has helped thousands of individuals and their families with these matters. Now in Elder Care Made Easier, she draws from those decades of experience to offer 10 practical steps to help you navigate your caregiver's journey. Communicate openly. Put safety first. Improve the lifestyle. Make life easier with adapted equipment. Manage financial issues. Take care of legal matters. Find mobility in disability. Find the right housing. Hire help when it's needed. Learn to let go. Doctor Marion Will Save You Time, Money and Heartache.

Leadership and the Elder Care Home Sector Nadeem Moiden, 2003 This study was undertaken to explore whether current leadership in the elder care home sector promotes a balance between personal and work life of healthcare staff. A case study approach was used to carry out the study using structured interviews, semi structured interview and participant observation as major data collection methods. The sample a combination of enrolled nurses experienced and inexperienced carers were representative of the employees in care homes studied This consisted of 18 subjects 10 from a private care home and 8 from a charity care home The structured interviews consisted of all 18 participants and the semi structured interviews consisted of 6 participants from the 18 2 carers and 1 nurse from each setting For participant observation both homes were observed for 8 days from the three months spent in each During interviews data were collected on the leaders style leaders role staff home life and work life and leaders support During participant observation the work environment climate leader and staff interaction were observed and key points were recorded The data were analysed using the Ethnograph v4 0 a program for the analysis of text based data For the research purpose a codebook of 99 codes that would identify different aspects of the data in the interviews and participant observation was created Content and thematic approach were taken towards analysis using the computer software The result from this study showed that 1 staff are seen to prefer their leader to be democratic as there is room for negotiation participation consideration and understanding 2 the staff s perception of the leader is an individualistic as well as every aspect of their needs being met due to variables such as age gender marital status experience dependants education position and language 3 the level of effect of leadership style on the individual is dependent on individual circumstances 4 the extent to which the staffOs personal and work life balance are not promoted depends in the different combination of leadership style of the leader as leader is not autocratic democratic or laissez faire at all times 5 the more democratic the leaders are the more understanding and flexible they are in promoting a balance between personal and work life of their followers 6 staff with different personal circumstances and background view their leaders differently 7 none of the staff want their leader to be liberal 8 staff psychosocial needs are not with leadership high in autocratic approach These findings have implications for nurse training and education and leadership development Trained appropriately and applying the results and recommendations from this study the leaders will assist towards staff retention increase productivity and increase the quality of care in the elder care home sector and promote a healthy and cost effective workforce
