JUAN RULFOS MEXICO

Fuentes C,2002-08-17 Juan Rulfo was one of the great literary innovators of the twentieth century His 1955 novel Pedro P ramo is considered one of the foundational classics of magic realism predating One Hundred Years of Solitude by more than a decade Lesser known are his haunting photographs of Mexico which exhibit remarkable parallels to his prose The photographs mainly taken between 1945 and 1955 do not tell stories they present thoughts The images of people and their land women in their traditional dress musicians with their instruments capture the calm quiet inner rhythms of Mexico s rural population Rulfo extracts unique moments through his photographs his images of desolate abandoned buildings their walls destroyed by artillery shells are expressions of his nation s painful history His quietly dramatic landscapes recall the work of Ansel Adams and Edward Weston while displaying a style that is truly his own This collection of 175 images is the only comprehensive collection of Juan Rulfo s photographs available The six essays preceding the images illuminate the photographs and pay tribute to one of Mexico s most enduring literary and visual artists

Rethinking Juan Rulfo's Creative World Nuala Finnegan,Dylan Brennan,2016-05-05 Though primarily known for his haunting enigmatic novel Pedro P ramo and the unrelenting depictions of the failures of post revolutionary Mexico in his short story collection El Llano en llamas Juan Rulfo also worked as scriptwriter on various collaborative film projects and his powerful interventions in the area of documentary photography ensure that he continues to inspire interest worldwide Bringing together some of the most significant names in Rulfian scholarship this anthology engages with the complexity and diversity of Rulfo s cultural production The essays in the collection bring the Rulfian texts into dialogues with other cultural traditions and techniques including the Japanese Noh or mask plays and modernist experimentation in the Irish language They also deploy diverse theoretical frameworks that range from Roland Barthes work on studium and punctum in photography to Henri Lefebvre s ideas on space and spatiality and the postmodern insights of Jean Baudrillard on the nature of the simulacrum and the hyperreal In this way innovative approaches are brought to bear on the Rulfian texts as a way of illuminating the rich tensions and anxieties they evoke about Mexico about history about art and about the human condition
