Painting Materials R. J. Gettens,G. L. Stout,2012-09-26 The combined training and experience of the authors of this classic in the varied activities of painting conservation cultural research chemistry physics and paint technology ideally suited them to the task they attempted Their book written when they were both affiliated with the Department of Conservation at Harvard s Fogg Art Museum is not a handbook of instruction It is instead an encyclopedic collection of specialized data on every aspect of painting and painting research The book is divided into five sections Mediums Adhesives and Film Substances amber beeswax casein cellulose nitrate dragon s blood egg tempera paraffin lacquer gum Arabic Strasbourg turpentine water glass etc Pigments and Inert Materials over 100 entries from alizarin to zinnobor green Solvents Diluents and Detergents acetone ammonia carbon tetrachloride soap water etc Supports academy board dozens of different woods esparto grass gesso glass leather plaster silk vellum etc and Tools and Equipment Coverage within each section is exhaustive Thirteen pages are devoted to items related to linseed oil eleven to the history and physical and chemical properties of pigments two to artificial ultramarine blue eleven to wood and so on with hundreds of entries Much of the information physical behavior earliest known use chemical composition history of synthesis refractive index etc is difficult to find elsewhere The rest was drawn from such a wide range of fields and from such a long span of time that the book was immediately hailed as the best organized most accessible work of its kind That reputation hasn t changed The author s new preface lists some recent discoveries regarding pigments and other materials and the pigment composition chart has been revised but the text remains essentially unchanged It is still invaluable not only for museum curators and conservators for whom it was designed but for painters themselves and for teachers and students as well      God's Human Face Christoph Schoenborn, 2011-03-30 The principal editor of the Catechism of the Catholic Church presents the sources of meditation on the mystery of God's human face from the great Masters of early Christianity Artists and theologians have meditated upon the mystery of God's human countenance and tried to express it This book seeks to present the great sources of this meditation sources which today are widely unknown or have become foreign or obscure These sources are above all the great masters of early Christianity In their meditation upon Christ Bishop Schoenborn seeks the sources of the art on the Icon The reader will find not only an engaging introduction to the meaning and beauty of Icons but an invitation to draw closer to the One who inspired these Masters of theological expression and holy art Includes beautiful color Icon illustrations      Ancient Egyptian Materials and Industries A.
