Entre Dos Americas Narrativas De Latinas En Los 90s:

Entre dos Américas Guillermina Walas, 2000 In Entre dos Américas Guillermina Walas explores the importance of memory for Latina authors. These authors are displaced from their familiar roots in Latin America and the Hispanic Caribbean and find themselves immersed in their actual individual lives in the United States. These women construct or rebuild a new Latina identity based on memory and the past but also project to a future located in the Anglo American context. The resulting identity is complex, riddled with cultural conflict that often involves class and gender. Walas analyzes many texts including Silent Dancing: A Partial Remembrance of a Puerto Rican Childhood 1990 and When I was Puerto Rican 1993 by Judith Ortiz Cofer and Esmerelda Santiago Dreaming in Cuban 1992 by Cristina García and How the García Girls Lost Their Accents 1991 by Julia Alvarez. TEXT IN SPANISH Bibliographic Guide to Chicana and Latina Narrative Kathy Leonard, 2003-08-30 There has been a dramatic increase in the amount of narrative work published by Chicana and Latina authors in the past 5 to 10 years. Nonetheless, there has been little attempt to catalog this material. This reference provides convenient access to all forms of narrative written by Chicana and Latina authors from the early 1940s through 2002. In doing so, it helps users locate these works and surveys the growth of this vast body of literature. The volume cites more than 2,750 short stories, novels, novel excerpts, and autobiographies written by some 600 Mexican American, Puerto Rican, Cuban American, Dominican American, and Nuyorican women authors. These citations are grouped in five indexes: an author title index, title author index, anthology index, novel index, and autobiography index. Short annotations are provided for the anthologies, novels, and autobiographies. Thus, the user who knows the title of a work can discover the author, the other works the author has written, and the anthologies in which the author's shorter pieces have been reprinted, along with information about particular works. Intersectional Feminism in the Age of Transnationalism Raysa E. Amador, Olga Bezhanova, 2021-02-17 Intersectional Feminism in the Age of Transnationalism: Voices from the Margins explores the limitations of the transnationalist approach to feminism and questions the neoliberal emphasis on individual freedom and consumer choice as the central goals of feminist activism. The contributions to the volume discuss such varied topics as fiction by Edwidge Danticat, Judith Ortiz Cofer, and Diamela Eltit; visual art of Laura Aguilar and Maruja Mallo; films directed by Lucrecia Martel; a TV series based on a novel by Mar a Due; as the art activism of Ani Ganzala and Zinha Franco; and the philosophical thought of Gloria Anzaldúa. All chapters proceed from the belief in the continued usefulness of intersectionality as a valuable category of critical analysis that is particularly necessary at the time when the effects of neoliberal globalization are undermining many familiar categories of critical inquiry. The Cambridge History of Latin America Leslie Bethell, 1984 This volume discusses trends in twentieth-century Latin American literature, philosophy, art, music, and popular culture. Entre dos Americas Guillermina Walas-Mateo, 1999 Coloniality at Large Mabel Moraña, Enrique D. Dussel, Carlos A. Jáuregui, 2008 A state-of-the-art anthology of postcolonial theory and practice in the Latin American context.

Multiculturalism and Interculturalism Nasar Meer, 2016-02-02 Both interculturalism and multiculturalism address the question of how states should forge unity from ethnic cultural and religious diversity But what are the dividing lines between interculturalism and multiculturalism This volume brings together some of the most prominent scholars in the field to address these two different approaches With a Foreword by Charles Taylor and an Afterword by Bhikhu Parekh this collection spans European North American and Latin American debates

Histories/Global Designs Walter D. Mignolo, 2000-02-06 This book is an extended argument on the colonality of power by one of the most innovative scholars of Latin American studies In a shrinking world where sharp dichotomies such as East West and developing developed blur and shift Walter Mignolo points to the inadequacy of current practice in the social sciences and area studies He introduces the crucial notion of colonial difference into study of the modern colonial world He also traces the emergence of new forms of knowledge which he calls border thinking Further he expands the horizons of those debates already under way in postcolonial studies of Asia and Africa by dwelling in the genealogy of thoughts of South Central America the Caribbean and Latino as in the United States His concept of border gnosis or what is known from the perspective of an empire's borderlands counters the tendency of occidental perspectives to dominate and thus limit understanding The book is divided into three parts the first chapter deals with epistemology and postcoloniality the next three chapters deal with the geopolitics of knowledge the last three deal with the languages and cultures of scholarship Here the author reintroduces the analysis of civilization from the perspective of globalization and argues that rather than one civilizing process dominated by the West the continually emerging subaltern voices break down the dichotomies characteristic of any cultural imperialism By underscoring the fractures between globalization and mundialización Mignolo shows the locations of emerging border epistemologies and of post-occidental reason In a new preface that discusses Local Histories/Global Designs as a dialogue with Hegel's Philosophy of History Mignolo connects his argument with the unfolding of history in the first decade of the twenty-first century

Over de Joodse literatuur in Latijns Amerika gedurende de 20e eeuw Portraits in the Andes Jorge Coronado, 2018-05-22

Portraits in the Andes examines indigenous and mestizo self-representation through the medium of photography from the early to mid-twentieth century As Jorge Coronado reveals these images offer a powerful counterpoint to the often-slanted predominant view of indigenismo produced by the intellectual elite Photography offered an inexpensive and readily available technology for producing portraits and other images that allowed lower and middle-class racialized subjects to create their own distinct rhetoric and vision of their culture The powerful identity-marking vehicle that photography provided to the masses has been overlooked in much of Latin American cultural studies which have focused primarily on the elite's visual arts. Coronado's study offers close readings of Andean photographic archives from the early to mid twentieth century to show the development of a consumer culture and the agency of marginalized groups in creating a visual document of their personal interpretations of modernity. (Coronado, 1990)

Latin American Novels of the Conquest Kimberle S. López, 2002

The fictionalized explorers and conquistadors represented in this corpus all identify with certain aspects of Amerindian culture significantly those elements that are most distinct from European culture such as cannibalism and human sacrifice but also feel the need to distance themselves from these others in order to protect their own European cultural identity. In most cases the conquistadors themselves are represented as outsiders within the enterprise of imperialism due to ethnic, religious, or sexual differences from the norm. This representation turns the gaze inward toward the other within European culture, underscoring the complex origins of Latin American cultures in the violent encounter between the Amerindians and the conquistadors. By examining these issues, López's Latin American Novels of the Conquest illuminates the ways in which Latin American novelists used their literary imaginations to embody their ambivalence regarding their own transcultural heritage as children of both the colonized and the colonizer.
