Environment Planning And Social Development:

Environmental Planning and Sustainable Development Vara Saritha, Manoj Kumar Karnena, 2021-05-02

Constructing an environmentally stable future requires a vision that should be sustainable and sound. It has recently become apparent that ecological problems comprise more than just science and economics, needing an innovative model to supplement traditional decision making. The textbook on environmental planning and sustainable development caters to decision making and will help students, researchers, and academicians. The book disseminates knowledge on aspects like understanding humankind as part of the natural system, appreciating diverse influences of anthropogenic activities on the biological system, human responsibility, and management of natural resources, and understanding sustainability principles towards sustainable development. A Guide to Careers in Community Development Paul Brophy, Alice Shabecoff, 2001

Community development is the economic, physical, and social revitalization of a community led by the people who live in that community. It offers a wide range of exciting and rewarding employment options. But until now, there has been no road map for professionals, volunteers, students, or anyone wishing to become involved in the field. A Guide to Careers in Community Development describes the many different kinds of community development jobs available, ranging from community organizing to financing housing and new businesses to redeveloping brownfields. It offers advice on how to break into the field, along with guidance for career advancement and lateral movement. Following an introductory chapter that offers an overview and definition of community development and its history, the authors describe different institutions in the field and how they fit together, pros and cons of community development careers, with a self-assessment quiz for readers to use in analyzing their suitability for the field, the work and skills involved in different kinds of positions, how to prepare for and move up in a career, how to land that first job. Also included are detailed appendixes that provide information on job descriptions, with salary ranges, universities and colleges offering community development curricula, training programs, where to look for job announcements, internet resources, internships, fellowships, and volunteer positions, and much more. A Guide to Careers in Community Development is an essential reference for anyone interested in working in the community development field, including graduate and undergraduate students, volunteers, and mid-career professionals seeking a more fulfilling line of work.

Social-Environmental Planning Chris Maser, 2009-09-22. Legal Foundations of Environmental Planning Jerome G. Rose, 2017-07-12 Planners and lawyers engaged in the formulation and implementation of plans affecting the environment should have a working knowledge of the legal principles affecting those plans. They should also be familiar with the principles of environmental law. However, environmental law has not been a traditional part of the curriculum of law schools. Many practicing lawyers have never taken a course in environmental law, nor have many of the judges charged with deciding cases whose outcome may have consequences for the environment. In the interest of counteracting this lack of knowledge, Legal Foundations of Environmental Planning integrates excerpts from more than seventy-five court case rulings to illustrate the system of environmental laws and the problems of enforcement. Dedicated specifically to discussions on legal theories and procedures, air pollution, water pollution, and control of population growth and distribution, this sourcebook also includes an extensive glossary of environmental terms. It is a valuable aid for students, legal specialists, public officials, environmental professionals, and urban planners.

Ethics, Design and Planning of the Built Environment Claudia Basta, Stefano Moroni, 2013-06-24. The book proposes a set of original contributions in research areas shared by planning theory, architectural research, design, and ethical inquiry. The contributors gathered in 2010 at the Ethics of the Built Environment seminar organized by the editors at Delft University of Technology. Both prominent and emerging scholars presented their researches in the areas of aesthetics, technological risks, planning theory, and architecture. The scope of the seminar was highlighting shared lines of ethical inquiry among the themes discussed in order to identify perspectives of innovative interdisciplinary research. After the seminar, all seminar participants have elaborated their proposed contributions. Some of the most prominent international authors in the field were subsequently invited to join in with this inquiry. Claudia Basta teaches Network Infrastructures and Mobility at Wageningen University. Between 2009 and 2011, she worked as Coordinator of the 3TU Centre of Excellence for Ethics and Technology of Delft University, where she completed her post doc research on the shared areas of investigation between risk theories, planning theories, and ethical inquiry. Her main research interests concern the matter of assessing and governing technological risks in relation to sustainable land use planning. She wrote a number of journal articles and contributions to collective books on these themes. Stefano Moroni teaches Land use ethics and the law at Milan Politecnico. His main research interests concern planning theory and ethics. He is the author of a number of books and journal articles. Recent publications as co-author: Contractual Communities in the Self Organizing City Springer 2012.
