

WHAT YOU CAN DO TO HELP SAVE OUR PLANET

Sources: NASA and WWF
By Ella Kang

Climate change is real.

More than 95% of warming trend is caused by human activities.
Nothing to lose, Everything to gain: we already have the knowledge, power, and ability to tackle climate change.
Every little thing that you do really makes a difference.

1

Be informed

Keep yourself informed!
The more you know,
the better for you to take actions.

2

Use your voice

Speaking up is one of the best ways to influence and motivate people.

3

Reuse items

It's all about eliminating waste, materials, and pollution.

4

Recycle waste

You conserve natural resources, save energy, and prevent pollution.

5

Eat sustainably

By paying attention to what you eat, global GHG emissions can be significantly reduced.

6

Avoid cars

Lower environmental impact by choosing a more sustainable way to travel!

It's time to start making changes. Let's protect our home.

Biology ,1996 Sustainable Design for the Built Environment Rob Fleming,Saglinda H Roberts,2019-01-18 Sustainable Design for the Built Environment marks the transition of sustainable design from a specialty service to the mainstream approach for creating a healthy and resilient built environment This groundbreaking and transformative approach introduces sustainable design in a clear concise easy to read format This book takes the reader deep into the foundations of sustainable design and creates a holistic and integrative approach addressing the social cultural ecological and aesthetic aspects in addition to the typical performance driven goals The first section of the book is themed around the origins principles and frameworks of sustainable design aimed at inspiring a deeper broader and more inclusive view of sustainability The second section examines strategies such as biophilia and biomimicry adaptation and resilience health and well being The third section examines the application of sustainability principles from the global urban district building and human scale illustrating how a systems thinking approach allows sustainable design to span the context of time space and varied perspectives This textbook is intended to inspire a new vision for the future that unites human activity with natural processes to form a regenerative coevolutionary model for sustainable design By allowing the reader an insightful look into the history motivations and values of sustainable design they begin to see sustainable design not only as a way to deliver green buildings but as a comprehensive and transformative meta framework that is so needed in every sector of society Supported by online resources including additional reading for each chapter and classroom assignments this book will be essential reading for students of sustainability and sustainable design EPA Journal ,1993 What's Your Point? Reading and Writing Opinions Tony Stead,Hillary Wolfe,2015-01-01 Contains lessons and tools to move your students through both reading and writing arguments and opinions The instructional path is clear and easy to follow supplementing your language arts instruction with resources designed to hone in on arguments and opinions Use this guide to inform your instruction from speaking and listening to reading and then making the writing connection Teacher s Resource Guide Information page 5 Ecology and Literatures in English Françoise Besson,2018-12-14 In all latitudes writers hold out a mirror leading the reader to awareness by telling real or imaginary stories about people of good will who try to save what can be saved and about animals showing humans the way to follow Such tales argue that in spite of all destructions and tragedies if we are just aware of and connected to the real world around us to the blade of grass at our feet and the star above our heads there is hope in a reconciliation with the Earth This may start with the emergence or rather the return of a nonverbal language restoring the connection between human beings and the nonhuman world through a form of communication beyond verbalization Through a journey in Anglophone literature with examples taken from Aboriginal African American English Canadian and Indian works this book shows the role played by literature in the protection of the planet It argues that literature reveals the fundamental idea that everything is connected and that it is only when most people are aware of this connection that the world will change Exactly as a tree is connected with all the animal life in and around it texts show that nothing should be separated From Shakespeare s theatre to ecopoetics from travel writing to detective novels from children s books to novels all literary genres show that literature responds to the violence destroying lands men and nonhuman creatures whose voices can be heard through texts
