of the Aquatic Physiology Environmental Pollution Nanotoxicology and Phytoremediation series Aquatic Physiology Environmental Pollution Nanotoxicology and Phytoremediation Volume II Environmental pollution as a result of increasing industrialization is a major problem worldwide The toxicity of the chemicals hazards radiation and environmental stressor to the aquatic fauna was studied Although recently the excess levels of wastes discharged in water caused severe toxicity in aquatic environments and their fauna still there is some shortage in the nanotoxicology and phytoremediation studies So the aim of this Research Topic is to create some knowledge about the environmental pollution and remediation in aquatic environment in collaboration with experts in physiology biochemistry endocrinology morpho histology of aquatic fauna The relation between physiology and other research fields is strong enough as all researchers in biology field use some extent physiological parameters to evaluate the organisms health status in normal and stressful conditions In addition physiology with endocrinology and neurology can provide a contribution on the endocrine stress response of aquatic vertebrates and regulate the responses of vertebrates to stressors Whilst the physiology of most aquatic animals has been well studied not many articles provide sufficient data that helps understanding the common bases of the stress response after exposure to environmental pollutants and mechanisms of action Such approach needs to be taken both in terms of comparative responses among vertebrates but also among classes or orders within groups of vertebrates Another aspect that has not been sufficiently approached so far is physiological stress response in relation to immunity growth reproduction or behavior and embryology of the aquatic organisms which expands the knowledge on the interactions between physiological systems to build an overall stress response Information Resources in Toxicology P.J. Bert Hakkinen,Gerald Kennedy,Frederick W.
