Envisioning Knowledge Judith A. Langer, 2015-04-17 This book by Judith Langer internationally known scholar in literacy learning examines how people gain knowledge and become academically literate in the core subjects of English mathematics science and social studies history Based on extensive research it offers a new framework for conceptualizing knowledge development rather than information collection and explores how one becomes literate in ways that mark knowing in a field Langer identifies key principles for practice and demonstrates how the framework and the principles together can undergird highly successful instruction across the curriculum With many examples from middle and high schools this resource will help educators to plan and implement engaging exciting and academically successful programs Imagining the

Cosmopolitan in Public and Professional Writing Anne Surma, 2012-11-20 In this important book Surma combines threads from ethical political communications sociological feminist and discourse theories to explore the impact of writing in a range of contexts and illustrate the ways in which it can strengthen social connections Imagining, Writing, (Re)Reading the Black Body Sandra Jackson, Fassil Demissie, Michele Goodwin, 2024-12-02 This book is an outgrowth of an international conference The Black Body Imagining Writing and Re Reading held at DePaul University Chicago in 2004 The various contributing authors critically examine the changing discourses on the black body to address how it has been constituted as a site for construction and maintenance of social and political power Drawing examples from Europe Africa the United States as well as other places in the Black Diaspora the subject matter in this book discusses the raced gendered classed and culturally produced discourses about the black body Through its examination of these and related issues this book contributes to a dialogue across various disciplines about the black body its meanings and negotiations as read interpreted and imagined in different frames of perception and imagination Print editions not for sale in Sub Saharan Africa This book is part of Routledge's co published series 30 Years of Democracy in South Africa in collaboration with UNISA Press which reflects on the past years of a democratic South Africa and assesses the future opportunities and challenges Re-writing Pasts, Imagining Futures Gomia, Victor N., Ndi, Gilbert Shang, 2018-02-20 The papers in this volume focus on fiction and theatre in their traditional forms as well as in their encounters with novel and innovative forms and avenues of dissemination As a cultural practice that emerged from a process of protest and contestation of hegemony it is understandable that one main concern in African literature and literary criticism is the resistance against the emergence of marginalizing centers in formerly or currently marginalized societies with regard to discourses aesthetics and media of creation These new centers that sometimes undermine the strategic tactical exploitation of the relative advantage procured by each medium run the risk of leading to new forms of stratification that mitigate the import of African and African diasporic literatures The collection of essays therefore seeks to analyze the representation of pertinent socio political and historical questions in a variety of postcolonial texts from Africa and the African diasporas notably the Caribbean islands and the United States of America However far from re writing of history in a way that cedes to conservative worldviews creative writers and critics simultaneously attempt to chart ways forward for socially all inclusive futures In the context of colonial and neo colonial legacies that seem to forestall any sense of individual and collective self fulfillment contributors to this volume examine the pertinence of African fiction and theatre in imagining new vistas of re conceptualizing the postcolonial condition in ways that re galvanize the belief in an enabling future

Envisioning futures for environmental and sustainability education

Peter Blaze Corcoran, Joseph P. Weakland, Arjen E.J. Wals, 2023-08-07 This edited collection invites educational practitioners and theorists to speculate on and craft visions for the future of environmental and sustainability education It explores what educational methods and practices might exist on the horizon waiting for discovery and implementation A global array of authors imagines alternative futures for the field and attempts to rethink environmental and sustainability education institutionally intellectually and pedagogically These thought leaders chart how emerging modes of critical speculation might function as a means to remap and redesign the future of environmental and sustainability education today Previous volumes within this United Nations Decade of Education for Sustainable Development series have responded to the complexity of environmental education in our contemporary moment with concepts such as social learning intergenerational learning and transformative leadership for sustainable futures Envisioning Futures for Environmental and Sustainability Education builds on this earlier work as well as the work of others It seeks to foster modes of intellectual engagement with ecological futures in the Anthropocene to develop resilient adaptable pedagogies as a hedge against future ecological uncertainties and to spark discussion concerning how futures thinking can generate theoretical and applied innovations within the field

Reference Guide to Writing Across the Curriculum Charles Bazerman, Joseph Little, 2005-07-04 This reference guide traces the writing across the curriculum movement from its origins in British secondary education through its flourishing in American higher education and extension to American primary and secondary education

"K for the Way" Todd Craig, 2023-09-15 K for the Way explores writing rhetoric and literacy from the perspective of the Hip Hop DJ Todd Craig a DJ himself establishes and investigates the function of DJ rhetoric and literacy illuminating the DJ as a fruitful example for reenvisioning approaches to writing research and analysis in contemporary educational settings Because it is widely recognized that the DJ was the catalyst for the creation of Hip Hop culture this book begins a new conversation in which Hip Hop DJs introduce ideas about poetics and language formation through the modes practices and techniques they engage in on a daily basis Using material from a larger qualitative research study that illustrates the Hip Hop DJ as a twenty first century new media reader writer and literary critic Craig blends interviews from prominent and influential DJs in the Hip Hop community with narrative and interdisciplinary scholarship from writing studies Hip Hop studies African American studies urban education and ethnomusicology The voices of DJs sit front and center presenting a revolutionary conversation about writing and communication in the twenty first century Weaving Craig's life experiences with important discussions of racial literacies K for the Way is a layered and utterly singular exploration of culture identity and literacy in America

Engaging Ideas John C. Bean, Dan Melzer, 2021-06-09 Use your course's big ideas to accelerate students' growth as writers and critical thinkers The newly revised third edition of Engaging Ideas delivers a step by step guide for designing writing assignments and critical thinking activities that engage students with important subject matter questions This new edition of the celebrated book now written by the co-author team of Bean and Melzer uses leading and current research and theory to help you link active learning pedagogy to your course's subject matter You'll learn how to Design formal and informal writing assignments that guide students toward thinking like experts in your discipline Use time saving strategies for coaching the writing process and handling the paper load including alternatives to traditional grading such as portfolio assessment and contract grading Help students use self assessment and peer response to improve their work Develop better ways than the traditional research paper to teach undergraduate reading and research Integrate social media multimodal genres and digital technology into the classroom to promote active learning This book demonstrates how writing can easily be integrated with other critical thinking activities such as inquiry discussions simulation games classroom debates and interactive lectures The reward of this book is watching students come to class better prepared more vested in the questions your course investigates more apt to study purposefully and more likely to submit high quality work Perfect for higher education faculty and curriculum designers across all disciplines Engaging Ideas will also earn a place in the libraries of graduate students in higher education

Liminal Traces Devika Chawla, Amardo Rodriguez, 2012-01-01 Home and exile have become key discussions in discourses of globalization cosmopolitanism postcolonialism transnationalism identity and multiculturalism These discourses can be expected to flourish in the future as an increasing number of multicultural scholars struggle with various kinds of displacements and the meaning of home that is thereby instantiated anew as we experience living in between cultures This book sits in the intersection between cultural studies and performance studies It seeks to break theoretical and empirical ground by reframing understandings of home and exile Popular notions of exile forwarded by transnational and postcolonial scholars position home as a place of return and longing While we believe that there are many truths in this position we performatively seek emergent forms of displacement that are demanding new frameworks with which to enact meanings of home and exile As Third World immigrant scholars in Western academe we believe our move is vital in order to explore the experiences of persons such as ourselves who fall outside the models of displacement that have long constituted migr writings We define this move as a performative one because we experiment with different genres and voices to question and reproblematicize existing understandings of knowledge frames The genres we embody include performative writing dialogue autoethnography essay form personal narrative and so on Our goal is to address theories stories and pedagogies that speak to our tribulations in negotiating such intellectual displacements This book can be an ideal supplementary text for courses in cultural studies as every chapter speaks in performative reflexive and storied ways to our own struggles to find real and theoretical homes It will therefore have relevance to many departments in the humanities including Communication Studies English Cultural Studies Education Anthropology Sociology and Women s Studies Infact this book serves the heuristic function of inspiring new research questions and demonstrating how a wide range of theories and research methods can be employed to enact discourses of home and exile

Teaching and Studying Transnational Composition Christiane Donahue, Bruce Horner, 2022-11-18 Transnational composition is a site for engaging with difference across populations economies languages and borders and for asking how cultures languages and national imaginaries interanimate one another Organized in three parts the book addresses the transnational in composition in scholarship teaching and administration It brings together contributions from institutional geopolitical and cultural contexts ranging across North America Europe Latin America Africa the Middle East Asia and the Caribbean and covers writing in English Chinese multiple European languages Latin American Spanish African and West Indian Creoles and Guianan French Exploring the relationship among transnational international global and translingual approaches to composition while complicating the term composition itself essays draw on theories of border work mobility liminality cross border interaction center periphery contours superdiversity and transnational rhetoric and address among other topics models of cognitive processing principles of universal design and frames of critical literacy awareness

The Cosmos and the Creative Imagination Anna-Teresa Tymieniecka, Patricia Trutty-Coohill, 2016-02-03 The essays in this book respond to Anna Teresa Tymieniecka's recent call to explore the relationship between the evolution of the universe and the process of self-individuation in the ontopoietic unfolding of life The essays approach the sensory manifold in a number of ways They show that theories of modern science become a strategy for the phenomenological study of works of art and vice versa Works of phenomenology and of the arts examine how individual spontaneity connects with the design's of the logos of the whole and of the particulars while the design's rest not on some human concept but on life itself Life's pliable matrices allow us to consider the expansiveness of contemporary science and to help create a contemporary phenomenological sense of cosmos

Telling Stories Jenn Fishman, Amy C. Kimme Hea, 2023-07-23 In Telling Stories more than a dozen longitudinal writing researchers look beyond conventional project findings to story their work and in doing so offer otherwise unavailable glimpses into the logics and logistics of long range studies of writing The result is a volume that centers interrelations among people places and politics across two decades of praxis and an array of educational sites two year colleges a senior military college an adult literacy center a small liberal arts college and both public and private four year universities Contributors share direct knowledge of longitudinal writing research citing project data e.g. interview transcripts research notes and journals descriptions drawn from memory and extended personal reflections The resulting stories tempered by the research and scholarship of others convey a sense of longitudinal research as a lived activity as well as a prominent and consequential approach to inquiry Yet Telling Stories is not a how to guide nor is it written for longitudinal researchers alone Instead this volume addresses issues about writing research that are germane to all who conduct or count on it Such topics include building and sustaining good interpersonal research relations ethically negotiating the institutional power dynamics that undergird writing research effectively using knowledge from longitudinal studies to advocate for writers and writing educators and improving both conceptual and concrete resources for long range research in writing studies

Becoming a Critical Thinker Sarah Birrell Ivory, 2021 Practical approachable and thought provoking your complete companion to critical thinking Becoming a critical thinker is a straight forward reassuring and complete guide to critical thinking one that helps you to understand critical thinking and develop the skills needed to employ it This book supports the reader to not only think critically but to do so independently as a student professional and global citizen The book has a clear three part structure firstly examining what critical thinking is secondly exploring the three overarching aims of critical thinking and finally focussing on how to develop the essential tools to support those aims This text assumes no prior knowledge or understanding it has been developed to gently guide the reader from school level education to university level thinking in a clear and engaging manner This is the only critical thinking skills text to offer insights and advice from professionals and students helping the reader learn from the experiences of others in a range of contexts Each chapter also offers guided exercises checklists and further reading to encourage the reader to apply techniques learnt to real situations It is also the only text to offer chapters dedicated to listening and speaking which are often overlooked but are vitally important skills

Writing and Language Learning Rosa M. Manchón, 2020-11-15 The current volume aspires to add to previous research on the connection between writing and language learning from a dual perspective It seeks to reflect current progress in the domain as well as to foster future developments in theory and research The theoretical postulations contained in Part I identify and expand in novel ways the diverse lenses through which the varied multi faceted dimensions of the connection between writing and language learning can be explored The methodological reflections put forward in Part III signal theoretically grounded and pedagogically relevant paths along which future empirical work can grow The empirical studies reported in Part II illuminate the myriad of individual educational and task related variables that may mediate short term and long term language learning outcomes These studies examine diverse forms of writing performed in varied environments including pen and paper and digital writing conditions writing individually and or collaboratively and instructional settings academic settings including secondary school and college level institutions as well as out of school contexts The Writing

Classroom Janet Evans, 2013-07-04 This book brings together a collection of essays on the teaching of writing It is a companion to Prue Goodwin's The Literate Classroom and The Articulate Classroom and aims to augment our existing knowledge about the teaching and learning of writing stimulate thought and provoke discussion about writing offer a blend of theory and practice give food for thought and ideas for teaching writing to primary age children The topic of writing is one which is under the spotlight with increasing regularity as politicians and policy makers move on from reading as an issue This has already happened in England where the National Literacy Strategy is urging more emphasis on the teaching of writing to remedy weaknesses in this area Write More, Publish More, Stress Less!
