The Ground of Holy Life David D. Cho, 2021-08-12 The Reformation put the grace of God in the right place in the salvation of man Luther's proclamation of justification by faith brought the concept of grace to the fore and made it the centrality of Christian theology But the overemphasis on the doctrine of justification in the Reformation created the imbalance between justification and sanctification in the soteriology of the Protestant church To some people just the profession of faith without an accompanying godly life was not good enough for salvation It seemed that salvation by grace of God in the doctrine of justification made man's salvation too easy thereby opening the floodgate for nominal Christians who were no different from pagans in their hearts Christian leaders and theologians in the modern church age have tried to rectify this problem by injecting the necessity of works into the Christian life The spiritual movements such as pietism and perfectionism and new theologies such as the New Perspective on Paul and the Federal Vision are such endeavors that have stressed good works in the salvation of man However without the concept of definitive sanctification they all lost the monergistic nature of salvation and deviated to the humanistic theology of Arminianism or Pelagianism

Principles of Discipleship Charles G. Finney, 1988-02-01 Following a period of great revival Charles Finney reached a point of physical exhaustion which resulted in his writing a series of articles on various subjects to continue the work of discipleship in the new believers scattered throughout the regions of revival These practical instructions were published in the Oberlin Evangelist periodical and took the form of letters addressed to specific themes They now are collected and edited by Pastor L G Parkhurst to appear for the first time in book form As well as letters concerning sanctification major themes include Finney's letters To New Christians To Ministers To Parents To Christians

The Oberlin Quarterly Review, 1845 Out of darkness into light; or, The hidden life made manifest Asa Mahan, 1875 Various views of the higher Christian life [by W. Dent] with an intr. by W. Antliff William Dent, 1876 Various Views of the Higher Christian Life: Practical Discourses ... With an Introduction by the Rev. W. Antliff William Dent (Primitive Methodist minister.), 1876 Sacred Worship Leader Andi Sulistiadi, 2025-07-28 The kind of worship leader God seeks They lead teams not with control but with love They foster unity speak life and model servant heartedness They are the first to pray the first to repent the last to seek credit In their private battles and public roles they echo the heart of David shepherds with integrity leaders with skillful hands This is the kind of worship leader God desires And this is the kind of worship leader He is raising up in our generation not through fame but through faithfulness

The Double Cure Daniel Otis Teasley, 1916 The Oberlin Evangelist, 1839 No Quick Fix Andrew David Naselli, 2017-08-30 Every Christian struggles with sin and wants to be victorious in the fight Higher life theology also known as Keswick theology offers a quick fix for this struggle. It teaches that there are two categories of Christians: those who are merely saved and those who have really surrendered to Christ. Those who have Jesus as their Savior alone and those who have him as their Master as well. If Christians can simply let go and let God, they can be free of struggling with sin and brought to that higher level of spiritual life. What could be wrong with that? A lot, it turns out. In No Quick Fix, a shorter and more accessible version of his book Let Go and Let God, Naselli critiques higher life theology from a biblical perspective. He shows that it leads not to freedom but to frustration because it promises something it has no power to deliver. Along the way, he tells the story of where higher life theology came from, describes its characteristics, and compares it to what the Bible really says about how we overcome sin and become more like Christ.      Replies [afterw.] The Oracle ,
