Environmental Planning Policies And Politics In Eastern And Southern Africa:

Environmental Planning, Policies and Politics in Eastern and Southern Africa M.A. Mohamed Salih, Shibru Tedla, 2016-07-27 Caught between underdevelopment poverty and environmental degradation and the need for exploiting their natural resources for development Africa has during the last two decades been engaged in a serious effort to integrate environment and development The nine case studies Botswana Ethiopia Kenya Lesotho Malawi Tanzania Sudan Uganda and Zambia presented in this book explore the complexity involved in environmental planning and policy in one of the World's poorest regions The authors articulate an informed debate with new conclusions and alternative policy recommendations

Environmental Planning, Policies and Politics in Eastern and Southern Africa M. A. M. (Mohamed Abdel Rahim Mohamed); Tedla Salih (S. (Shibru)), 1999 A Handbook of Globalisation and Environmental Policy, Second Edition Frank Wijen, K. Zoeteman, J. Pieters, Paul van Seters, 2012-01-01 Acclaim for the first edition This is undoubtedly a useful collection of essays for environmental policy makers and anyone interested in the relationship between national government and transnational forces the collection brings together some interesting perspectives and should prove a useful complement to the existing political sociology of the environment International Sociology Review of Books The Handbook of Globalisation and Environmental Policy is a very important book More than 40 experienced authors including some of the most important international thought leaders of our time have confronted a crucial question How can and should national governments come to grips with the need for global action on a wide range of increasingly urgent environmental challenges that exceed their authority and capability Through close examination of numerous case studies a balanced perspective that takes government business and civil society into account and fresh interdisciplinary thinking about a range of policy tools the Handbook offers a treasure trove of new concepts and new perspectives The authors conclude that by acknowledging the ongoing erosion of national sovereignty and accepting the growing need to work together in supranational forums national governments can in fact increase their capacity to shape their own destiny Lawrence Susskind Massachusetts Institute of Technology US In an increasingly interdependent world global forces affect both the design and effectiveness of environmental policy This Handbook provides an unusually creative and comprehensive guide not only to the nature of these forces and their impacts but also to how a better understanding of these forces can provide a foundation for improving the effectiveness of environmental policy Tom Tietenberg Colby College US In the current era of globalisation national governments are increasingly exposed to international influences that present new constraints and opportunities for domestic environmental policies This comprehensive revised Handbook pushes the frontiers of theoretical and empirical knowledge and provides a state of the art examination of the multifaceted effects of globalisation on environmental governance Including substantially revised as well as new contributions from leading authorities the Handbook offers an insightful overview of recent developments at the intersection of globalisation and national environmental policy It covers themes including national regimes trade rules types of goods federalism innovation standards citizen consumers developing countries policy networks partnerships and carbon trading The Handbook's depth and scope will appeal to a broad and varied readership across academics students and policy makers interested in public and private governance environmental economics international relations environmental politics and law sociology and political science Local Environmental Change and Society in Africa M.A. Salih, 2012-12-06 The Organization for Social Science Research in Eastern and Southern Africa OSSREA is a network of social scientists in the sub region established in 1980 Its main objectives are to encourage and promote interest to engage in collaborative research to facilitate scholarly exchange of ideas and publication between individuals and institutions engaged in the study and research in the social sciences OSSREA also aims to promote the training of social scientists from the sub region in the study of and research in the social sciences and to encourage establishment of institutions dedicated to this goal In pursuance of and consistent with its objectives OSSREA established a fund to provide research grants and training fellowships to social scientists from the sub region Every year OSSREA offers on a competitive basis two limited types of research grants the first on topics related to the social sciences in general and the second on gender issues in particular The grants assist the social scientists to conduct field research in an eastern or southern African country society institutions sector or problem area The objectives of the social science competition are intended to encourage and promote upcoming scholars from the sub region to conduct research in the social economic political or other problems Moreover it aims to strengthen and raise the capacity of faculty members and students in field research and promote the subsequent availability of research findings for teaching as well as to inform individuals and institutions Local Environmental Change and Society in Africa Mohamed Salih, 2000-06-30 Social and natural scientists are currently obsessed with globalization but this has not been matched by an equal interest in the societal consequences of local environmental change Attention has thus been withdrawn from community and locality and transferred to global processes with an indifference to the reality of those at the receiving end of the social economic and political problems that globalization create Local reality is obscured and conditions are imposed that are often insensitive to or even distort local needs resource management and production systems The case studies presented here illustrate how environmental degradation has contributed to the distortion of local institutions and economies thus denying local communities the right to live in a productive and healthy environment The contributors highlight the seriousness of the difficulties involved in conflating national policies and local reality and imposing global policy instruments on local communities Understandably the case studies demonstrate that local communities resist putting their faith in environmental policies and plans imposed on them by global or national institutions that often deprive them of access to and control over their local environment The Environmental Rights Revolution David R. Boyd, 2011-11-29 The right to a healthy environment is the subject of extensive philosophical debates that revolve around a key question Should rights to clean air water and soil be entrenched in law This pioneering book answers this by moving beyond theoretical debate to measure the practical effects of enshrining the right in constitutions David Boyd analyzes 193 constitutions and the laws and court decisions of more than 100 nations in Europe Latin America Asia and Africa He reveals that nations with constitutional protections have stronger environmental laws enhanced enforcement greater government accountability and better access to justice information and public participation in decision making than nations without such provisions As a result they demonstrate superior environmental performance and have smaller ecological footprints Boyd not only demonstrates that constitutionalizing environmental protection has the power to make sustainability a priority he tells inspiring stories about the difference the right to a healthy environment is making in people s lives Human Impact on Environment and Sustainable Development in Africa Michael B.K. Darkoh,2018-12-20 This title was first published in 2003 Based on a blend of knowledge and perspectives from a variety of disciplines this volume examines the human environment interaction in Africa with a focus on the economic social and political processes that generate environmental change and problems in this region Currently there are controversies over and challenges to such concepts and issues as environment human relationships ecological resilience decertification sustainable development globalization and North South dialogue This book draws upon past and present research findings to discuss these issues It features an examination of the characteristics processes and patterns of environmental crises an analysis of the principal issues and challenges facing policy makers and implementers and the promotion of awareness of theoretical empirical and comparative research The volume not only seeks to answer some of the old questions but also open up new ones for further discussion Better Governance and Public Policy Dele Olowu,Soumana Sako,2002 Written by prominent scholars and practitioners of African development policy Describes recent governance changes in Africa Analyzes consequences of these changes for institutional reform Highlights challenges of capacity building for economic liberalization and democratization This is an ideal volume for both students and scholars of African development as well as anyone interested in the current issues of African governance Published in association with the African Capacity Building Foundation this book answers such questions as What is the relationship between governance and institutional reforms What is the impact of these reforms on public policy processes And what is the link between economic governance and policy research African Pastoralism M. A. Mohamed Salih,Ton Dietz,Abdel Ghaffar Mohamed Ahmed,2001-07-20 Although many countries in Africa are devastated by poverty and famine and are desperately in need of aid it is generally recognised that programmes of aid and development in Africa are imposed upon local communities with little regard for their traditional values and way of life This book provides a fresh look at these intricate issues and explores the way in which farming and traditional pastoral livelihoods have strengthened rather than weakened in the face of government reforms It reveals how traditional institutions and resource management strategies within local African communities continue to endure in spite of the enormous pressure that development programs assert as pastoralists resolve to confront coercive state policies designed to privilege the interests of the wealthy and powerful elite

The book introduces thirteen case studies from Botswana Ethiopia Eritrea Kenya Somalia Sudan and Uganda and various other parts of the African continent

Non-governmental Organizations (NGOs) and Sustainable Development in Sub-Saharan Africa Robert A. Dowie, 2008-01-01 Written to provide guidance for civil society organizations and their client groups this book examines the role of NGOs in the development processes on the African continent It raises questions about the influence of funding agencies over the NGOs they support and explores the challenges NGOs face The book argues that increased knowledge and cooperation on all parts is essential to achieve sustainable development This book also concludes that sustainable development activities are not beneficial to every community in Africa Taking into consideration globalization and studies of sub Saharan countries this book concludes that new models of leadership are necessary for the success of Africa and NGOs are a vital part of achieving that development

Globalisation, Poverty and Conflict Max Spoor, 2005-12-29 Is development a by product or a trickle down effect of economic growth spurred by globalisation Will poverty simply diminish with increased global markets This state of the art critical development reader deals with these and related questions Globalisation Poverty and Conflict examines the inter relationships between globalisation poverty and conflict It complements current debates in the field of development studies and in an era in which development fatigue seems to have become more profound than ever before it brings the importance of development once again to the forefront Achieving the Millennium Development Goals by 2015 is a concrete target which many governments have agreed to work towards Whether these goals can be realised is another issue Nonetheless the Millennium Development Goals have brought more focused attention to development in the past few years and renewed debate about the relationships between the process of globalisation and widespread poverty and the emergence of violent conflicts The authors in this edited volume discuss these inter related and highly controversial topical elements of development in a number of chapters organised around three sets of issues 1 globalisation inequality and poverty 2 governance civil society and poverty and 3 resource degradation institutions and conflict The contributions represent current thinking on and practice of development policy poverty reduction the need for multi level democratic institutions and the containing and prevention of conflicts The authors confront the predominant mainstream ideas on development and propose alternatives The chapters written by a select group of scholars and development practitioners will be of direct interest to those involved in this field of social sciences and in development practice but they are composed in such a way as to remain accessible for the generally interested reader

Climate Change and Sustainable Development Mohamed Abdel Rahim M. Salih, 2009-01-01 this book gives a good overview of major challenges facing policy makers researchers and ultimately humankind in dealing with climate change The reader also gets a good understanding of how fragmented and transversal the issues of climate change and sustainable development are Quarterly Journal of International Agriculture a unified useful and stimulating book which should act as a springboard for further work into what is a very topical and extremely important issue for everyone in the world not just academics and policymakers This book serves its intended audience but also deserves to be more widely read World Entrepreneurship Society Too often writings on climate change are placed into two categories climate change deniers and climate change supporters What this timely and insightful collection of Mohamed Salih s does is to problematise the issue taking the debate to a level where it desperately needs to be asking the thorny questions of how do the politics and international relations of climate impact upon the most vulnerable the least affluent the dwellers of the majority world In short Salih challenges us How did the climate change about climate change The responses of his contributors are salient to the point sometimes disturbing but always thought provoking Timothy Doyle Keele University UK Editing the proceedings of a symposium into a cogent and coherent book is no easy task This book a tribute to Professor Opschoor is no exception with disperse contributions of some highly acclaimed authors covering a wide spectrum of themes It is a credit to Professor Salih s insight to string them together in the introductory chapter and entice the reader to read on This book has food for thought on many fronts reaching far beyond climate change as did the oeuvre of Hans Opschoor an instructive read Paul Vlek Center for Development Research ZEF Bonn Germany It is difficult if not impossible to formulate and implement sustainable policy without first understanding the dynamic relationships between nature society economics and technology and research plays a pivotal role in this regard Climate Change and Sustainable Development is an important book which deals with these issues in the context of climate change and the changing global context of development It alerts us to the relationship climate change has with two urgent tasks poverty reduction and sustainable development which require efforts that span countries regions and communities In this interdependent world argue the authors a shared vision and common effort are vital to sustaining our life support system It is a must read Jacqueline Cramer The Netherlands Minister for Spatial Planning and the Environment This unique book provides cutting edge knowledge and analyses of the consequences that climate change will have for sustainable development and poverty reduction within the context of global development Exploring alternative resource management approaches including federal resource management governance ecosystem services digital dematerialization ecological cities biofuels versus food and children and climate change this innovative volume provides fresh insights on the human condition with regards to the current debates on climate change The distinguished contributors examine climate change induced processes that present profound challenges to sustainable development and poverty reduction at the local national and global levels This groundbreaking study will be a welcome addition for graduate and post graduate students in development and environmental studies It will also have great appeal to scientists policy makers and researchers in these fields
