Schmidt, 2000-09-21 This work addresses perspectives on the judicial correctional and law enforcement components of the criminal justice system including history ethics prevention intervention due process marginalized populations international consequences and demands for professionalism It also examines critical variations in the criminal justice systems of countries worldwide     The Use of Nuclear Weapons and the Protection of the Environment during International Armed Conflict Erik

V Koppe, 2008-04-25 In 1996 the International Court of Justice delivered an Advisory Opinion on the legality of the use of nuclear weapons in which the Court stated that while the existing international law relating to the protection and safeguarding of the environment does not specifically prohibit the use of nuclear weapons it indicates important environmental factors that are properly to be taken into account in the context of the implementation of the principles and rules of the law applicable in armed conflict The present work analyses this conclusion focusing on the question whether or not the use of nuclear weapons during international armed conflict would violate existing norms of public international law relating to the protection and safeguarding of the environment Although the use of weaponry during armed conflict is usually related to the protection of individuals the rapidly emerging appreciation of and the worldwide realization of the intrinsic value of the natural environment as an indispensable asset for the continuation of life including human life on this planet both for present and future generations warrants a thorough and extensive examination of the question of the illegality of the employment of nuclear weapons from the point of view of international environmental protection law The book consists of two parts Part I discusses the historical development and the effects of nuclear weapons Part II discusses the protection of the environment during international armed conflict under ius in bello ius ad bellum and ius pacis Only then is it possible to assess the legality of the use of nuclear weapons under this particular set of rules     Environmental Law Rachel Jane

Baird, 2012 Lawbook Co Nutshells are the essential revision tool they provide a concise outline of the principles for each of the major subject areas within undergraduate law Written in clear straight forward language the authors explain the principles and highlight key cases and legislative provisions for each subject     Ecosystem-Based Management, Ecosystem Services and Aquatic Biodiversity Timothy G. O'Higgins, 2020 Aquatic ecosystems are rich in biodiversity and home to a diverse array of species and habitats providing a wide variety of benefits to human beings Many of these valuable ecosystems are at risk of being irreversibly damaged by human activities and pressures including pollution contamination invasive species overfishing and climate change Such pressures threaten the sustainability of these ecosystems their provision of ecosystem services and ultimately human well being Ecosystem based management EBM is now widely considered the most promising paradigm for balancing sustainable development and biodiversity protection and various international strategies and conventions have championed the EBM cause and the inclusion of ecosystem services in decision making This open access book introduces the essential concepts and principles required to implement ecosystem based management detailing tools and techniques and describing the application of these concepts and tools to a broad range of aquatic ecosystems from the shores of Lough Erne in Northern Ireland to the estuaries of the US Pacific Northwest and the tropical Mekong Delta

The Routledge Handbook of Applied Climate Change Ethics Donald A. Brown, Kathryn Gwiazdon, Laura Westra, 2023-09-27 The Routledge Handbook of Applied Climate Change Ethics is a powerful reference source for the identification and exploration of the underlying ethical issues in climate change law and policy Bridging theory with practice it takes ethical engagement out of the classroom and into the halls of governance The Handbook's 39 chapters written by a diverse and interdisciplinary team of experts from around the world are case studies divided into five parts Parts I-IV highlight the ethical issues that arise in climate change policy formation from duties not to harm to duties to consider the views and voices of those who will be or are being harmed from the role of human rights justice and democracy to how to identify and respond to disinformation and denialism It also raises the ethics of various policy responses such as cap and trade carbon taxing and geo engineering Part V offers a way forward with strategies on how to expressly consider ethics in climate change policy formation from negotiations to education media communication and the power and potential of shaming The volume is essential reading for students professors and practitioners who wish to better engage with government and non government organizations on climate policy to better understand the practical application of the theory and philosophy of ethics and how to more strongly draft and defend ethical action in negotiating drafting and defending climate change law and policy

Energy and Natural Resources Law in a Nutshell Jan Laitos, Joseph P. Tomain, 1992 At least 30 databases can be accessed with Bowker's fine software familiar to those who use Books in Print PLUS or BIP PLUS with Reviews The exact number of databases is somewhat elusive because the promotional brochure seems to have left some off its list a browsing search of the disk shows

A Procedural Framework for Transboundary Water Management in the Mekong River Basin Qi Gao, 2014-03-13 In A Procedural Framework for Transboundary Water Management in the Mekong River Basin Shared Mekong for a Common Future Qi Gao explores procedural implications of integrated water resources management and its application in the Mekong River Basin As a problem based study enlightening conclusions are made based on the increasingly polycentric nature of transboundary cooperation in the Mekong region The procedural requirements in the Mekong context both the ideal and practical scenarios are considered combined with selected case studies Qi Gao convincingly asserts the necessity to enhance decision making processes and suggests procedural legal mechanisms to institutionalize sustainability concepts in transboundary cooperation      Competition and Structure Albert Breton,2000-06-05 The essays in this volume written by well known economists and other social scientists from North America Europe and in one case Australia share to an unusual degree a common concern with the competitive mechanisms that underlie collective decisions and with the way they are embedded in institutional settings This gives the book a unitary inspiration whose value is clear from the new understanding and insights its chapters provide on important theoretical and practical issues such as the social dimension and impact of trust the management of information in bureaucratic settings the role of political parties in constitutional evolution inter level rivalry and reassignments of powers in federal and unitary systems of government the impact of ethnicity and nationalism on federal institutions or arrangements and the response of governments and overarching institutions of globalization

Reducing Toxics Robert Gottlieb,2013-04-22 In Reducing Toxics leading experts address industry technology health and policy issues and explore the potential for pollution prevention at the industry and facility levels They consider both the regulatory and institutional settings of toxics reduction initiatives prescribe strategies for developing a prevention framework and apply these principles in analyzing industry case studies Among the topics considered are the evolution of and limits to current environmental policy incorporating prevention into production planning and decisionmaking do voluntary programs lead to industry greening or greenwashing case studies of the chemical aerosols radiator repair and electric vehicle industries opportunities for and barriers to pollution prevention Reducing Toxics offers an analytic framework for defining and understanding different approaches in the toxics area and describes the basis for a new policy and industrial decisionmaking construct      The Country in the City Richard A. Walker,2009-11-23 Winner of the Western History Association s 2009 Hal K Rothman Award Finalist in the Western Writers of America Spur Award for the Western Nonfiction Contemporary category 2008 The San Francisco Bay Area is one of the world s most beautiful cities Despite a population of 7 million people it is more greensward than asphalt jungle more open space than hardscape A vast quilt of countryside is tucked into the folds of the metropolis stitched from fields farms and woodlands mines creeks and wetlands In The Country in the City Richard Walker tells the story of how the jigsaw geography of this greenbelt has been set into place The Bay Area s civic landscape has been fought over acre by acre an arduous process requiring popular mobilization political will and hard work Its most cherished environments Mount Tamalpais Napa Valley San Francisco Bay Point Reyes Mount Diablo the Pacific coast have engendered some of the fiercest environmental battles in the country and have made the region a leader in green ideas and organizations This book tells how the Bay Area got its green grove from the stirrings of conservation in the time of John Muir to origins of the recreational parks and coastal preserves in the early twentieth century from the fight to stop bay fill and control suburban growth after the Second World War to securing conservation easements and stopping toxic pollution in our times Here modern environmentalism first became a mass political movement in the 1960s with the sudden blooming of the Sierra Club and Save the Bay and it remains a global center of environmentalism to this day Green values have been a pillar of Bay Area life and politics for more than a century It is an environmentalism grounded in local places and personal concerns close to the heart of the city Yet this vision of what a city should be has always been informed by liberal even utopian ideas of nature planning government and democracy In the end green is one of the primary colors in the flag of the Left Coast where green enthusiasms like open space are built into the fabric of urban life Written in a lively and accessible style The Country in the City will be of interest to general readers and environmental activists At the same time it speaks to fundamental debates in environmental history urban planning and geography

The Redesigned Earth John T.

Tanacredi,2019-12-12 This book provides insight into the basic aspects of ecology that impact or are affected by engineering practices Ecological principals are described and discussed through the lens of the influences that built structures have on the Earth s biological geological and chemical systems The text goes on to elucidate the engineering influences that have or will influence the face of the Earth These influences redesign the Earth either by destroying natural systems and replacing them with highly subsidized systems or by attempting to restore highly disturbed or contaminated systems with the basic natural systems that were originally present
