Environmental Performance Reviews Tajikistan:

Environmental Performance Reviews United Nations. Economic Commission for Europe, 2012 takes stock of the progress made by Tajikistan in the management of its environment since the country was first reviewed in 2004. It assesses the implementation of the recommendations contained in the first review. This second EPR also covers 10 issues of importance to Tajikistan related to policymaking, planning and implementation, the financing of environmental policies and projects, and the integration of environmental concerns into economic sectors, in particular the sustainable management and protection of water resources, waste management, climate change, forestry, biodiversity, and protected areas, and environmental health. The Environmental Performance Review Programme is considered an important instrument for countries within the UNECE Region. The second round, while taking stock of the progress made since the first cycle of reviews, puts particular emphasis on implementation, integration, financing, and the socio-economic interface with the environment. Through the peer review process, EPRs also promote dialogue among UNECE member countries and harmonization of environmental conditions and policies throughout the region. As it is a voluntary exercise, an EPR is undertaken only at the request of the country concerned. The main outcome of the EPR is the recommendations, which were elaborated by the Expert Group, peer reviewed, discussed with a high-level delegation from Tajikistan, and adopted by the UNECE Committee on Environmental Policy on April 12, 2012. Reviews Economic Commission for Europe, Committee on Environmental Policy, United Nations. Economic Commission for Europe. Committee on Environmental Policy, 2004. The review mission took place on 26 March to 8 April 2004. 2003 and the report covers 12 issues of importance to Tajikistan. It is divided into three sections: framework for environmental policy, management of pollution and natural resources, and economic and sectoral integration. Some of the issues receiving special attention were poverty, environment and economy, the policy, legal and institutional framework, environmental expenditures, and privatisation, information, public participation, and education, management of air, water, and waste, agriculture, biodiversity, and eco-tourism. Since the end of its five-year civil war in 1997, Tajikistan has been rebuilding its institutions, legal framework, and its economy. Much attention has been given to reducing poverty, raising environmental awareness among the population, halting land degradation, protecting biodiversity, and reducing energy consumption. Environmental Performance

Reviews, 2012. The Environmental Performance Review Programme is considered an important instrument for countries with economies in transition. The second round puts particular emphasis on implementation, integration, financing, and the socio-economic interface with the environment. This report takes stock of the progress made by Bosnia and Herzegovina in the management of its environment since the country was first reviewed in 2004. It assesses the implementation of the recommendations in the first review. Annex I. It also covers nine issues of importance to Bosnia and Herzegovina concerning policymaking, planning and implementation, the financing of environmental policies and projects, and the integration of environmental concerns into economic sectors in particular water management waste management and forestry

Environmental Performance Reviews: Tajikistan, 2017 The United Nations Economic Commission for Europe ECE Environmental Performance Review Programme assesses progress made by individual countries in reconciling their economic and social development with environmental protection as well as in meeting international commitments on environment and sustainable development The Environmental Performance Review Programme assists countries to improve their environmental policies by making concrete recommendations for better policy design and implementation Environmental Performance Reviews help to integrate environmental policies into sector specific policies such as those in agriculture energy transport and health Through the peer review process the reviews promote dialogue among Governments about the effectiveness of environmental policies as well as the exchange of practical experience in implementing sustainable development and green economy initiatives They also promote greater Government accountability to the public The present publication contains the third Environmental Performance Review of Tajikistan The report takes stock of progress made by the country in the management of its environment since 2010 It also covers issues of specific importance to the country related to legal and policy frameworks the financing of environmental policies greening the economy and integrating environmental concerns into selected sectors in particular air protection water management waste management biodiversity forests and protected areas agriculture energy industry transport health and risk management of natural and technological hazards Suggestions for strengthening efforts towards a comprehensive and systemic response to sustainable development challenges are also provided The publication is aimed at officials and experts working for public authorities responsible for environmental policy representatives of civil society the business community academia and the media Environmental Performance Reviews: Tajikistan, Draft Environmental Performance Reviews of Tajikistan UN. ECE. Ad Hoc Expert Group on Environmental Performance (2004 : Geneva), 2004 Environmental Performance Reviews United Nations Publications, 2017 Environmental Performance Review Tajikistan Environmental Performance Review of Tajikistan: Second Review (PDF), 2013 Global methane pledge in Tajikistan: Assessment report Malec, Karel, Babu, Suresh Chandra, Tohirzoda, Sino, 2024-02-27 The Government of Tajikistan should consider joining the Global Methane Commitment as a strategic and prudent decision Tajikistan's participation in the Global Methane Pledge offers numerous benefits that can positively impact the country's economy environment and global reputation By joining this international effort to reduce methane emissions Tajikistan can contribute to global climate change mitigation goals demonstrating its commitment to addressing environmental challenges This commitment becomes particularly significant for Tajikistan's agrarian economy where sustainable livestock management practices can help reduce methane emissions from enteric fermentation enhancing both environmental sustainability and agricultural efficiency Additionally the pledge emphasizes improved waste management and methane capture from solid waste sites aligning with Tajikistan's green energy objectives carbon market participation revenue generation and attracting international investments Importantly joining the Global Methane Pledge involves no legal obligations or penalties offering Tajikistan a flexible and supportive framework for collaboration knowledge sharing funding access and effective methane reduction measures implementation Targeting main sources of methane emissions provides an opportunity to implement cost effective measures that yield multiple benefits including improved air quality reduced health risks from air pollution enhanced energy efficiency increased energy security and the development of sustainable technologies and industries that foster economic growth and job creation It is recommended that comprehensive studies be undertaken within each of the sub sectors such as agriculture energy waste management and wastewater management These studies will not only provide valuable insights to inform effective interventions but also provide a basis for future research and data driven decision making It is also important to highlight that some measures can lead to cost avoidance in the long run By focusing on mitigating methane emissions Tajikistan can actively contribute to global climate change mitigation while reaping numerous positive outcomes for its environment public health and economy To determine the effects of measures effective measurement is needed Tajikistan has been improving the management and use of statistical data in recent decades as its Agency for Statistics under the President of the Republic of Tajikistan TajStat works closely with regional and international partners to improve data quality and reporting However the agency needs additional human and financial resources to support the collection of climate data and the development of indicators to monitor progress and to support sound policy decisions

Joint external evaluation of IHR core capacities of the Republic of Tajikistan ,2021-02-05 Historical Dictionary of Tajikistan Kamoludin Abdullaev,2018-08-10 Tajikistan is the poorest and only Persian speaking country among the post Soviet independent states Historically the Tajiks of Central Asia and Afghanistan along with the Persians of modern Iran came from a related ethnic group When the Tajik Autonomous Soviet Socialist Republic was established in late 1924 it became the first modern Tajik state that remained one of the 15 union republics of the Soviet Union until 1991 Almost immediately after the collapse of the USSR Tajikistan became a scene of brutal civil war taking place in one of the global hubs of religiously motivated political struggle militancy mass cross border refugee flows insurgency and drug trafficking During the first decade of the 21st century the country was making modest progress toward stability However the heavy burden of socio economic problems in addition to continuing conflict in the neighboring Afghanistan Pakistan presented even bigger challenges for Tajikistan In addition Western economic sanctions against Russia in 2014 coinciding with continuing lower oil prices have negatively affected one million of Tajik labor migrants in Russia Yet Tajikistan has become neither weaker nor less important as a player in world politics This third edition of Historical Dictionary of Tajikistan contains a chronology an introduction appendixes and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has over 800 cross referenced entries on important personalities politics economy foreign relations religion and culture This book is an excellent resource for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about

Tajikistan DEFORESTATION AND LAND DEGRADATION IN TAJIKISTAN Md Shahbaz Alam, 2019-07-16 The Republic of Tajikistan is a Central Asian country and its 93 per cent area is mountainous Tajikistan is an agriculture oriented country After the independence of Tajikistan following the disintegration of former USSR in 1991 the energy supply to the country was stopped The need of energy has been one of the biggest challenges of the country since its independence in early 1990s N S Jodha in his article entitled Common property resources and rural people in dry region has said that the sustainable use of energy resources in semi arid rural mountain areas is a common yet still unresolved problem Further P Kadian says that the use of local energy resources in arid areas often results in environmental degradation

Environmental Justice and Sustainability in the Former Soviet Union Julian Agyeman, Yelena Ogneva-Himmelberger, 2009 An examination of the awareness of environmental and social justice issues in the former Soviet republics from the Western style democracies of the Baltic region to the totalitarian regimes of Central Asia and the resulting activism in those states The legacy of environmental catastrophe in the states of the former Soviet Union includes desertification pollution and the toxic aftermath of industrial accidents the most notorious of which was the Chernobyl disaster of 1986 This book examines the development of environmental activism in Russia and the former Soviet republics in response to these problems and its effect on policy and planning It also shows that because of increasing economic ethnic and social inequality in the former Soviet states debates over environmental justice are beginning to come to the fore The book explores the varying environmental social political and economic circumstances of these countries which range from the Western style democracies of the Baltic states to the totalitarian regimes of Central Asia and how they affect the ecological environmental and public health Among the topics covered are environmentalism in Russia including the progressive nature of its laws on environmental protection which are undermined by overburdened and underpaid law enforcement the effect of oil wealth on Azerbaijan and Kazakhstan the role of nationalism in Latvian environmentalism the struggle of Russia's indigenous peoples for environmental justice public participation in Estonia's environmental movement and lack of access to natural capital in Tajikistan Environmental Justice and Sustainability in the Former Soviet Union makes clear that although fragile transition economies varying degrees of democratization and a focus on national security can stymie progress toward just sustainability the diverse states of the former Soviet Union are making some progress toward green and environmental justice issues separately Central Asia in a Multipolar World Jakob Lempp, Sebastian Mayer, 2024-09-20 This handbook style edited volume discusses historical but predominantly current political economic and societal trends in Central Asia comprising Kazakhstan Uzbekistan Kyrgyzstan Tajikistan and Turkmenistan The five countries exhibit many cultural and historical commonalities and face similar internal and external challenges Despite different transformation paths and frequent intra regional tensions a common regional identity has emerged in the countries since gaining their independence in 1991 Besides covering their political systems a variety of topics such as human rights media terrorism and civil society are addressed As well bilateral relations with seven external actors are examined Lastly the authors explore the opportunities and limitations of institutionalized regional cooperation in various fields of action

Environmental Problems of Central Asia and their Economic, Social and Security Impacts Jiaguo Qi,Kyle T. Evered,2008-10-11 Over the last 60 years we have recognized increasingly that our world is connected and the impacts of environmental catastrophes and economic crises in one region of our world have far reaching and long lasting consequences globally Central Asia is a developing region with great potential but there are valid concerns that current resource management practices are not sustainable particularly with regard to the management of water resources Recent changes in social structures accompanied by regional climate change have caused substantial environmental changes leading to security concerns in the region As a result the local economy has been significantly impacted to the extent that the potential for social unrest is of great concern This book explores new technologies and adaptation strategies to mitigate these environmental problems and cope with continued environmental change with the ultimate goal of promoting sustainable growth and improved quality of life in the region

Comprehensive analysis of the disaster risk reduction system for the agricultural sector in Tajikistan Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations,2022-05-06 This report aims to highlight the current strengths of the institutional DRR system for agriculture in Tajikistan as well as indicate existing gaps and capacity needs to further enhance it A comprehensive assessment is conducted which includes a general overview of the country s agricultural sector and outlines the most frequent natural hazards that are impacting the sector It is followed by an analysis of the existing legal policy and institutional structure and discusses various components of the system including the functioning of early warning systems assessments of disaster risks post disaster needs assessments including damages and losses assessments and the availability of agricultural insurance for farmers It concludes by providing recommendations for capacity building interventions to strengthen the current system to reduce the adverse impacts of natural hazards in particular floods landslides and droughts and climate change on agriculture in Tajikistan

Food Security and Political Stability in Tajikistan Raj Kumar Sharma,2018-10-01 There are links between food security and political stability as was evident during the world food crisis of 2007 08 Food riots were witnessed in a number of countries contributing to political instability There are a number of dimensions to the problem of food insecurity in Tajikistan This book is an attempt to fill the academic void on Tajikistan especially pertaining to its food security This work traces the history of agriculture and food production in Tajikistan from mid 19th century when it came under Russian rule

From its inception Tajikistan has been facing the geographic handicap as it is a mountainous country and only 7 percent of the total land is arable which limits its food production This book is a detailed study of how Soviet economic geography introduced intensive cotton cultivation in Tajikistan at the expense of food crops Soviet economic planners felt that a region with hot climate and large water resources should not attempt to grow grains but cotton In the contemporary context this book focuses on how the state and international actors have responded to the food insecurity in Tajikistan Most importantly the book also analyses the relationship between food security and political stability in Tajikistan

Chinese Foreign Relations with Weak Peripheral States Jeffrey Reeves, 2015-10-08 This book examines China's relations with its weak peripheral states through the theoretical lens of structural power and structural violence China's foreign policy concepts toward its weak neighbouring states such as the One Belt One Road strategy are premised on the assumption that economic exchange and a commitment to common development are the most effective means of ensuring stability on its borders This book however argues that China's overreliance on economic exchange as the basis for its bilateral relations contains inherently self-defeating qualities that have contributed and can further contribute to instability and insecurity within China's periphery Unequal economic exchange between China and its weak neighbours results in Chinese influence over the state's domestic institutions what this book refers to as structural power Chinese structural power in turn can undermine the state's development contribute to social unrest and exacerbate existing state-society tensions what this book refers to as structural violence For China such outcomes lead to instability within its peripheral environment and raise its vulnerability to security threats stemming from nationalism separatism terrorism transnational organised crime and drug trafficking among others This book explores the causality between China's economically reliant foreign policy and insecurity in its weak peripheral states and considers the implications for China's security environment and foreign policy This book will be of much interest to students of Chinese politics Asian security studies international political economy and IR in general
