New Collected Poems George Oppen, 2008 Michael Davidson has done a masterful job of editing this new edition of the Collected Poems Few poets significantly alter and enhance the state of the art Oppen is one of them Michael Palmer Bookforum

New Selected Poems Thom Gunn, 2018-11-13 A new selection of poems by the celebrated gay poet Thom Gunn has been described as one of the most singular and compelling poets in English during the past half century Times Literary Supplement Gunn was an Elizabethan poet in modern guise though there is nothing archaic quaint or sepia toned about his poetry His method was dispassionate and rigorous uniquely well suited for making a poetic record of the tumultuous time in which he lived Gunn's dozens of brilliantly realized poems about nature friendship literature sexual love and death are set against the ever changing backdrop of San Francisco the druggy politically charged sixties and the plague years of AIDS in the eighties Perhaps no contemporary poet was better equipped by temperament circumstance or poetic gift to engage the subjects of eros and thanatos than Thom Gunn This New Selected Poems compiled by his friend Clive Wilmer and accompanied by insightful notes is the first edition to represent the full arc of Gunn's inimitable career

Elsewhere Stewart Brown, 1999 Stewart Brown brings an incisive and encompassing imagination to these poems of Africa the Caribbean Wales and England to the sweep of imperial history and its painful aftermath and the intimacies of domestic life He writes of Africa and the Caribbean with a rare combination of sympathy honesty and inwardness while never pretending to be other than an Englishman abroad

The Cambridge Companion to Ezra Pound Ira B. Nadel, 1999-02-11 This Companion contains fifteen chapters by leading international scholars who together reflect diverse but complementary approaches to the study of Ezra Pound's poetry and prose. They consider the poetics, foreign influences, economics, politics, and publication history of Pound's entire corpus and reveal his importance in developing some of the key movements in twentieth-century poetry. The book also situates Pound's work in the context of Modernism, illustrating his influence on contemporaries like T. S. Eliot and James Joyce. Taken together, the chapters offer a sustained examination of one of the most versatile, influential, and certainly controversial poets of the modern period.

Irish Writing in the Twentieth Century David Pierce, 2000. Arranged chronologically by decade from the 1890s to the 1990s, each decade is divided into two different types of writing: critical/documentary and imaginative writing, and is accompanied by a headnote which situates it thematically and chronologically. The Reader is also structured for thematic study by listing all the pieces included under a series of topic headings. The wide range of material encompasses writings of well-known figures in the Irish canon and neglected writers alike. This will appeal to the general reader but also makes Irish Writing in the Twentieth Century ideal as a core text, providing a unique focus for detailed study in a single volume.

BOOK JACKET English Poetry Since 1940 Neil Corcoran, 2014-07-15. Neil Corcoran's book is a major survey and interpretation of modern British poetry since 1940, offering a wealth of insights into poets and their work and placing them in a broader context of poetic dialogue and cultural exchange. The book is organised into five main parts, beginning with a consideration of the late Modernism of T. S. Eliot and W. H. Auden and ranging decade by decade from the poetry of the Second World War and the New Romanticism of Dylan Thomas to the Movement, the poetry of Northern Ireland, the variety of contemporary women's poetry, and the diversity of the contemporary scene. The book will be especially useful for students as it includes detailed and lively readings of works by such poets as Ted Hughes, Seamus Heaney, and Philip Larkin.

The Oxford Handbook of Contemporary British and Irish Poetry Peter Robinson, 2013-09-26. The Oxford Handbook of Contemporary British and Irish Poetry offers thirty-eight chapters of ground-breaking research that form a collaborative guide to the many groupings and movements, the locations and styles, as well as the concerns (aesthetic, political, cultural, and ethical) that have helped shape contemporary poetry in Britain and Ireland. The book's introduction offers an anthropological participant-observer approach to its variously conflicted subjects while exploring the limits and openness of the contemporary as a shifting and never wholly knowable category. The five ensuing sections explore a history of the period's poetic movements, its engagement with form, technique, and the other arts; its association with particular locations and places; its connection with, and difference from, poetry in other parts of the world; and its circling around such ethical issues as whether poetry can perform actions in the world, can atone, redress, or repair, and how its significance is inseparable from acts of evaluation in both poets and readers. Though the book is not structured to feature chapters on authors thought to be canonical, on the principle that contemporary writers are by definition not yet canonical, the volume contains commentary on many prominent poets as well as finding space for its contributors' enthusiasms for numerous less familiar figures. It has been organized to be read from cover to cover as an ever-deepening exploration of a complex field to be read in one or more of its five thematically structured sections or indeed to be read by picking out single chapters or discussions of poets that particularly interest its individual readers Avant-Folk: Small Press Poetry Networks from 1950 to the Present Ross Hair,2016-11-01 A critical study of the intersection of folk and avant garde poetics in transatlantic small press poetry networks from the 1950s up to the present The Bloomsbury Anthology of Contemporary Jewish American Poetry Deborah Ager,M. E. Silverman,2013-09-26 With works by over 100 poets The Bloomsbury Anthology of Contemporary Jewish American Poetry celebrates contemporary writers born after World War II who write about Jewish themes This anthology brings together poets whose writings offer fascinating insight into Jewish cultural and religious topics and Jewish identity Featuring established poets as well as representatives of the next generation of Jewish voices it includes poems by Ellen Bass Charles Bernstein Carol V Davis Edward Hirsch Jane Hirshfield David Lehman Jacqueline Osherow Ira Sadoff Philip Schultz Alan Shapiro Jane Shore Judith Skillman Melissa Stein Matthew Zapruder and many others Select poems, ed. with intr. and notes by W.J. Alexander Percy Bysshe Shelley,1898 Selected Poems Rudyard Kipling,2006-06-29 Rudyard Kipling 1865 1936 is often regarded as the unofficial Laureate of the British Empire Yet his writing reveals a ferociously independent figure at times violently opposed to the dominant political and literary tendencies of his age Arranged in chronological order this diverse selection of his poetry shows the development of Kipling s talent his deepening maturity and the growing sombreness of his poetic vision Ranging from early exhilarating celebrations of British expansion overseas including Mandalay and Gunga Din to the dignified and inspirational If and the later deeply moving Epitaphs of the War inspired by the death of Kipling s only son it clearly illustrates the scope and originality of his work It also offers a compelling insight into the Empire both at its peak and during its decline in the early years of the twentieth century
