Art in China Craig Clunas, 1997 China can boast a history of art lasting 5 000 years and embracing a huge diversity of images and objects jade tablets painted silk handscrolls and fans ink and lacquer painting porcelain ware sculptures and calligraphy They range in scale from the vast terracotta army with its 7 000 or so life size figures to the exquisitely delicate writing of fourth century masters such as Wang Xizhin and his teacher Lady Wei But this rich tradition has not until now been fully appreciated in the West where scholars have focused their attention on sculpture downplaying art more highly prized by the Chinese themselves such as calligraphy Art in China marks a breakthrough in the study of the subject Drawing on recent innovative scholarship and on newly accessible studies in China itself Craig Clunas surveys the full spectrum of the visual arts in China He ranges from the Neolithic period to the art scene of the 1980s and 1990s examining art in a variety of contexts as it has been designed for tombs commissioned by rulers displayed in temples created for the men and women of the educated elite and bought and sold in the marketplace Many of the objects illustrated in this book have previously been known only to a few specialists and will be totally new to a general audience

Pens and Needles Susan Frye, 2011-11-29 The Renaissance woman whether privileged or of the artisan or the middle class was trained in the expressive arts of needlework and painting which were often given precedence over writing Pens and Needles is the first book to examine all these forms as interrelated products of self fashioning and communication Because early modern people saw verbal and visual texts as closely related Susan Frye discusses the connections between the many forms of women's textualities including notes in samplers alphabets both stitched and penned initials ciphers and extensive texts like needlework pictures self portraits poetry and pamphlets as well as commissioned artwork architecture and interior design She examines works on paper and cloth by such famous figures as Elizabeth I Mary Queen of Scots and Bess of Hardwick as well as the output of journeywomen needleworkers and miniaturists Levina Teerlinc and Esther Inglis and their lesser known sisters in the English colonies of the New World Frye shows how traditional women's work was a way for women to communicate with one another and to shape their own identities within familial intellectual religious and historical traditions Pens and Needles offers insights into women's lives and into such literary texts as Shakespeare's Othello and Cymbeline and Mary Sidney Wroth's Urania *Journal California. Connecticut Needlework Susan P. Schoelwer, 2012-01-01 Winner of the Connecticut Book Award 2011 Winner of the Connecticut League of History Organizations Award of Merit 2012 Connecticut women have long been noted for their creation of colorful and distinctive needlework including samplers and family registers bed rugs and memorial pictures crewel embroidered bed hangings and garments silk embroidered pictures of classical or religious scenes quilted petticoats and bedcovers and whitework dresses and linens This volume offers the first regional study encompassing the full range of needle arts produced prior to 1840 Seventy entries showcase more than one hundred fascinating examples many never before published from the Connecticut Historical Society's extensive collection of this early American art form

Produced almost exclusively by women and girls the needle arts provide an illuminating vantage point for exploring early American women s history and education including family based traditions predating the establishment of formal academies after the American Revolution Extensive genealogical research reveals unseen family connections linking various types of needlework similar to the multi generational male workshops documented for other artisan trades such as woodworking or metalsmithing Photographs of stitches reverse sides sketches design sources and related works enhance our understanding and appreciation of this fragile art form and the talented women who created it An exhibition of needlework in this book will be held at the Connecticut Historical Society in late fall 2010 Funding for this project has been provided by the Coby Foundation Ltd and the National Endowment for the Arts
