Media in Asia Youna Kim,2022-05-15 This book is an upper level student source book for contemporary approaches to media studies in Asia which will appeal across a wide range of social sciences and humanities subjects including media and communication studies Asian studies cultural studies sociology and anthropology Drawing on a wide range of perspectives from media and communications sociology cultural studies anthropology and Asian studies it provides an empirically rich and stimulating tour of key areas of study The book combines theoretical perspectives with grounded case studies in one up to date and accessible volume going beyond the standard Euro American view of the evolving and complex dynamics of the media today

Mobile Media and Social Intimacies in Asia Jason Vincent A. Cabañes, Cecilia S. Uy-Tioco, 2020-01-09 This edited volume brings together cutting edge studies from emerging scholars of East Southeast Asia who explore the role of mobile media in the contemporary transformation of the region s social intimacies from the romantic to the familial to the communal By providing a regional and transnational overview of such studies it affords new insights into how these mobile technologies have contributed to the rise of glocal intimacies This pertains to the normalisation and intensification of how people s relationships of closeness are entangled in the ever shifting and constantly negotiated flows between global modernity and local everyday life In providing case studies of mobile media and glocal intimacies the chapters in the volume attend to a broad range of countries that include China Korea Malaysia the Philippines Singapore Vietnam and Taiwan This illustrates the differing ways in which mobile media might be embedded in the region s divergent articulations of social intimacies which reflect the ongoing tensions between Western and Asian imaginaries of modernity The chapters also discuss a wide array of mobile media that people use from social media platforms like Facebook and Instagram to messaging apps like KakaoTalk and WhatsApp to dating apps like Tinder and Blued This allows for a mapping out of the different levels of impact that mobile media might have on social intimacies in a region that contains some of the most technologically advanced as well as the most technologically behind societies in the world In summary this book allows readers to take a comparative approach to understanding the complexity of the glocal intimacies that are emerging from the ways people in Asia use mobile media to reconfigure their local ties and to enact global relationships This volume will benefit students academics and researchers who are keen in media and communication cultural studies sociology anthropology and Asian studies This exciting and much needed book will greatly advance our efforts to decolonise media and communications research The chapters offer empirically rich and nuanced accounts that challenge the dominant paradigms about mediated intimacy Mirca Madianou Goldsmiths University of London This collection develops the original concept of glocal intimacies to describe how mobile media have become a crucial site where new social intimacies are enacted reinforced and transformed in Asia It introduces fresh empirical research from emerging scholars to furnish deep theoretical insights into these imaginaries and practices Audrey Yue National University of Singapore

Handbook of Media Management and Economics Alan Albarran, Bozena Mierzejewska, Jaemin Jung, 2018-04-27 Winner of the 2019 Robert Picard Book Award The Handbook of Media Management and Economics has become a required reference for students professors policy makers and industry practitioners The volume was developed around two primary objectives assessing the state of knowledge for the key topics in the media management and economics fields and establishing the research agenda in these areas ultimately pushing the field in new directions The Handbook s chapters are organized into parts addressing the theoretical components key issues analytical tools and future directions for research With its unparalleled breadth of content from expert authors the Handbook provides background knowledge of the various theoretical dimensions and historical paradigms and establishes the direction for the next phases of research in this evolving arena of study Updates include the rise of mobile and social media globalization audience fragmentation and big data

Television Across Asia Michael Keane,Albert Moran,2003-10-16 This book explores the trade in television program formats which is a crucially important ingredient in the globalisation of culture in Asia It examines how much traffic there is in program formats the principal direction of flow of such traffic and the economic and cultural significance of this trade for the territories involved and for the region as a whole It shows how new technology deregulation privatisation and economic recession have greatly intensified competition between broadcasters in Asia as in other parts of the world and discusses how this in turn has multiplied the incidence of television format remakes with some countries developing dedicated format companies and others becoming net importers and adapters of formats

The Media and Political Change in Southeast Asia Jonathan Woodier,2009-01-01 the book is in a comprehensive readable format the book is logically organised rich in data and statistics regarding the issues that it covers as well as accessibly written such that its points would not be lost on the average upper level undergraduate student with some preparation in Asian studies and the social sciences Jane M Ferguson South East Asia Research a serious academic work that should be on the official reading list of every media studies course Chris Roberts Presenter Sky News Jonathan Woodier has written an excellent book on the politics of media control in Southeast Asia He shows how political elites in the region are using major events such as the 1997 Asian Financial Crisis and the 2001 September 11 terror attacks as well as innovations in media tools such as public relations and the internet to control information flow to their citizens This book is a must read for anyone interested in an explanation why Southeast Asian models of authoritarian models are surviving A brilliant analysis it combines media theory with a critical discussion of contemporary developments in Asia James Gomez Keio University Japan True to the old Chinese adage kill a chicken scare a monkey the few who once challenged Southeast Asia s ruling elites disappeared and the majority were silent Crude but effective Modern times however demand a more sophisticated approach Ruling elites now strip cultures naked and micro manage people s minds Their preferred tools of penetration and manipulation are a compliant media and a money hungry PR industry Jonathan Woodier s insights will ensure that you will never read a newspaper or watch TV news in quite the same way again Trevor Watson Professional Public Relations Pty Ltd Australia This is an engaging and informative analysis of the media landscape in South East Asia It uncovers the pervasive impact of the global media on the political process and raises important academic and policy issues in the process This book is timely and will be a must read for policymakers academics and students across communications media studies politics and democratization as well as for everyone with an interest in current day developments in South East Asia Joep Cornelissen Leeds University Business School UK Jonathan Woodier's latest work considers what impact the media has upon the democratization process in Southeast Asia Has the media had a liberalizing effect or become subject to elite control in Southeast Asia and if so why What role does the global media play in this process particularly given its conglomerization and commoditization By examining the communications media and its relationship to political change in Southeast Asia this fascinating study will endeavour to provide both a regional comparative analysis and a more balanced interpretation of the mass communication media in the wake of September 11 2001 The book also investigates the durability of authoritarian regimes and the enduring capacity of the media controlled state alongside the growing sophistication of political communications particularly the use of PR consultants The author provides an insider's view with unique insights into the practice of political communication and its development throughout the strategically important region of Southeast Asia with its large Moslem states as well as much further afield to countries such as China and post industrial Europe As such the book will be warmly welcomed by academics of politics international relations media communications and PR It will also appeal to researchers interested in political change the rise of the global media giants and the influence of authoritarian states such as China News Media and New Media Madanmohan Rao,2003

Journalism and Democracy in Asia Michael Bromley,Angela Romano,2012-10-12 Journalism and Democracy in Asia addresses key issues of freedom democracy citizenship openness and journalism in contemporary Asia looking especially at China Japan Korea Indonesia the Philippines and India The authors take varying approaches to questions of democracy whilst also considering journalism in print radio and new media in relation to such questions as the role of social political and economic liberalization in bringing about a blooming of the media the relationship between the media and the development of democracy and civil society and how journalism copes under authoritarian rule With contributions from highly regarded experts in the region examining a broad range of issues from across Asia this book will be of high interest to students and scholars in political communications journalism and mass communication and Asian studies Youth, Media and Culture in the Asia Pacific Region Usha M. Rodrigues,Belinda Smail,2009-05-05 Youth Media and Culture in the Asia Pacific Region presents an analysis of youth media activities in a diverse but geographically connected Asia Pacific region The region which is spatially connected by its colonial and imperial past is becoming a significant player in the globalized world In this context youth situated in these economically politically and socially structured communities are redefining their locales through their patterns of media use The discourse of youth in this disparate region is manifest in the media through their identity articulations and social activism The book illustrates that these youth subcultures in the Asia Pacific are part of the well marketed global consumerism culture and yet at other times independent of the commodifying impetus of global capital It draws on case studies to examine some of the media practices youth in the region are engaged in and elucidates the process of social change taking place in some Asia Pacific nations This book contributes to the important and growing field of youth media studies The regionalization of media research is necessarily recuperated here bringing large populations of media users into a frame of reference that allows critical reflection on the new waves of use and sociality in the Asia Pacific region Stephanie Hemelryk Donald Professor of International Studies UTS
