Life Style and Criminality Hans Göppinger, 2013-06-29 This monograph contains the results of an interdisciplinary study into the life histories of male delinquents Conducted by the Institute of Criminology at the University of Tübingen it compares the biographies of young adult inmates with a random sampling of young men from the general population and considers the results in the light of other studies of a similar nature primarily from the Anglo American literature The significance of this study lies not only in the data presented but also in the conclusions the author draws concerning subject matter and methods of criminology as an autonomous integrated science This leads to a practice oriented applied criminology based on the evaluation of specific criminological criteria For the practitioner such an approach allows a differential assessment of the individual offender in the context of his social relationships with conclusions regarding prognosis and therapeutic effects

Victim, Perpetrator, or What Else? Doris Bühler-Niederberger, Lars Alberth, 2019-11-08 This volume maps the ways that children and young people are considered victims or perpetrators by their societies and consequently the ways that their societies react The chapters analyse a variety of phenomena in different countries of the Global North and South
