Developing Writing for Different Purposes Jeni Riley, David Reedy, 2000-01-26 Jeni Riley and David Reedy share excellent examples of how primary school children worked on a non fiction text format A well informed book with a welcome dose of humour Nursery World The theoretical underpinning to this volume is rigorous and the case studies are both endearing and informative Early Years One of the insights of social theories of language which is now taken for granted is that language varies as the social context varies Kress 1997 This is a book that operationalizes this insight it charts young children's early attempts to write as they struggle to communicate meaning for a variety of purposes. Each section deals with the appropriate research evidence on the development of children's competence in literacy and their growing awareness of genre and uniquely with a clear approach to teaching children from three to seven years. The text combines the necessary theoretical underpinning plus the day to day practical experience of working with young children in order to develop their understanding of the different forms and language of texts. Communicating In School Science Di Bentley, Mike Watts, 2005-07-20 First published in 1991 This practical teacher text in acknowledging both the importance of the role of communication in the teaching of science and National Curriculum guidelines examines classroom processes as they relate both to individual learning and to group work in the science classroom. Handbook for Learning Mentors in Primary and Secondary Schools Margaret Roberts, Dot Constable, 2013-04-03 Written with the needs of learning mentors in mind this book outlines the school organization in which the mentor will find themselves and deals with the tasks and responsibilities they will have to consider in the completion of their daily duties.
