

The background of the cover is a classical painting. It depicts a nude female figure, likely a statue, standing on the right side. She is wearing a draped garment around her waist. In the foreground, there are several figures, including a man in a white shirt and a woman in a white dress, who appear to be looking at the statue. The overall tone is somber and artistic.

Coetzee's Austerities Graham Bradshaw, Michael Neill, 2016-05-06 Representing a wide range of critical and theoretical perspectives this volume examines J M Coetzee's novels from Dusklands to Diary of a Bad Year The choice of essays reflects three broad goals aligning the South African dimension of Coetzee's writing with his late modernist aesthetic exploring the relationship between Coetzee's novels and his essays on linguistics and paying particular attention to his more recent fictional experiments These objectives are realized in essays focusing on among other matters the function of names and etymology in Coetzee's fiction the vexed relationship between art and politics in apartheid South Africa the importance of film in Coetzee's literary sensibility Coetzee's reworkings of Defoe the paradoxes inherent in confessional narratives ethics and the controversial politics of reading Disgrace intertextuality and the fictional self-consciousness of Slow Man Through its pronounced emphasis on the novelist's later work the collection points towards a narrato political and linguistic reassessment of the Coetzee canon Elizabeth Costello J. Fiction Across Borders Shameem Black, 2010 Theorists of Orientalism and postcolonialism argue that novelists betray political and cultural anxieties when characterizing the Other Shameem Black takes a different stance Turning a fresh eye toward several key contemporary novelists she reveals how border crossing fiction represents socially diverse groups without resorting to stereotype idealization or other forms of imaginative constraint Focusing on the work of J M Coetzee Amitav Ghosh Jeffrey Eugenides Ruth Ozeki Charles Johnson Gish Jen and Rupa Bajwa Black introduces an interpretative lens that captures the ways in which these authors envision an ethics of representing social difference They not only offer sympathetic portrayals of the lives of others but also detail the processes of imagining social difference Whether depicting the multilingual worlds of South and Southeast Asia the exportation of American culture abroad or the racial tension of postapartheid South Africa these transcultural representations explore social and political hierarchies in constructive ways Boldly confronting the orthodoxies of recent literary criticism Fiction Across Borders builds upon such seminal works as Edward Said's Orientalism and offers a provocative new study of the late twentieth century novel

Fictional Worlds and the Political Imagination Garry L. Hagberg, 2024-05-21 There has been a steady stream of articles written on the relations between political thought and the interpretation of literature but there remains a need for a book that both introduces and significantly contributes to the field particularly one that shows in detail how we can think more freely and creatively about political possibilities by reading and reflecting on politically significant literature This volume offers analytically acute and culturally rich ways of understanding how it is that we can productively think philosophically about political literature and what kind of distinctive conceptual progress we can make by doing so Given the extremely widespread interest in political issues this volume will strike resonant chords far and wide while offering something that has not been done quite in this way and for which the time certainly seems right

The Art of Astonishment Alice Brittan, 2022-02-24 First Place Winner in Non Fiction from the 2023 Next Generation Indie Book Awards. Part literary history, part personal memoir, Alice Brittan's beautifully written The Art of Astonishment explores the rich intellectual, religious, and philosophical history of the gift and tells the interconnected story of grace where it comes from and what it is believed to accomplish. Covering a remarkable range of materials from The Epic of Gilgamesh, The Iliad, and the tragedies of Classical Greece through the brothers Grimm and Montaigne to C. S. Lewis, Toni Morrison, J. M. Coetzee, Elena Ferrante, Karl Ove Knausgaard, and Jhumpa Lahiri, Brittan moves with ease from personal story to myth to theology to literature and analysis, examining the nature of social and communal obligation, the role of the intellectual in times of crisis, and the pleasures of reading. In the 21st century, we might imagine grace as a striking and refined quality that is pleasurable to encounter but certainly not fundamental to anyone's existence or to the beliefs and practices that hold us together or drive us apart. For millennia, though, it has been recognized as essential to the vitality of inner life as well as to the large-scale shifts in perspective and legislation that improve the way we live as a society. Grace is also astonishing, always, as the enormously insightful readings in The Art of Astonishment show. Brittan reveals the concept's breadth as sacred and secular, ancient and recent, lived and literary. And in so doing, she shows us how the act of reading is like grace: social but personal, pleasurable and essential.
