Emancipation Still Comin' Kortright Davis, 2008-04-01 The Caribbean awash with sun and water is a meeting place of many races religions and cultures There North and South Latin and Anglo native Carib African black French and English white races and cultures meet In a religious melting pot Protestant and Catholic Christian Afro Caribbean Hindu and secularist faiths intertwine cross pollinate and go their ways separate yet together in the divine milieu Such a place has a rich and revealing story to tell of history nature and humanity of the understanding of freedom of the meaning and scope of theology itself The key in Caribbean society with its experiences of slavery colonialism neocolonialism and structural dependence is emancipation the pursuit proclamation and practice of human freedom Emancipation is the key to Caribbean theology as well This is the focal point of Kortright Davis s work He introduces the complex tapestry of this unique society its social and cultural pluralism its particular strengths and weaknesses poverty dependence alienation and divisiveness Davis explores many aspects of Caribbean religion and spirituality especially the complexities of carnival and its uniquely African soul He notes too a theological dependency and posits again a unique Caribbean emancipatory theology to establish a theological self reliance In emancipatory theology as in Latin American liberation theology the source for praxis and reflection is faith linked to historical experience And the Caribbean experience of continual struggle for identity distinguishes and yet unites Caribbean Christians with Christians everywhere The Encyclopedia of Caribbean Religions Patrick Taylor, Frederick I. Case, 2013-04-30 The Encyclopedia of Caribbean Religions is the definitive reference for Caribbean religious phenomena from a Caribbean perspective Generously illustrated this landmark project combines the breadth of a comparative approach to religion with the depth of understanding of Caribbean spirituality as an ever changing and varied historical phenomenon Organized alphabetically entries examine how Caribbean religious experiences have been shaped by and have responded to the processes of colonialism and the challenges of the postcolonial world Systematically organized by theme and area the encyclopedia considers religious traditions such as Vodou Rastafari Sunni Islam Sanatan Dharma Judaism and the Roman Catholic and Seventh day Adventist churches Detailed subentries present topics such as religious rituals beliefs practices specific historical developments geographical differences and gender roles within major traditions Also included are entries that address the religious dimensions of geographical territories that make up the Caribbean Representing the culmination of more than a decade of work by the associates of the Caribbean Religions Project The Encyclopedia of Caribbean Religions will foster a greater understanding of the role of religion in Caribbean life and society in the Caribbean diaspora and in wider national and transnational spaces Introducing Black Theology of Liberation Hopkins, Dwight N., 2014-04-10 A book that reviews the principles of modern Black Theology its roots and contributions to the Christian world It also discusses what challenges Black theologians face in their minister and their religious communities

Caribbean Contextual Theology Carlton Turner, 2024-01-31 Caribbean Contextual Theology introduces readers to the robust theological conversations taking place in the Caribbean region since the early 1970s and the region's key theologians and texts. Attempting to bring a contextual theological gaze to what is a fascinating and often understated context, it offers readers an introduction to the unique and important contribution that a Caribbean theological lens can bring to the broader theological landscape.

The Anglican Church in the Anglophone Caribbean Chris Fauske, 2025-10-02. This book highlights the Church's significant cultural, social, and political presence across the Anglophone Caribbean. Individual authors collectively provide a series of readings of historical and contemporary issues negotiated by the Anglican Church in the Caribbean that capture the complex, integral role the church played in shaping the individual identities of the islands while seeking also to be a pan-national voice for a shared set of global values and aspirations expressed regionally. The volume offers religious and secular readers an opportunity to better understand the role and history of the Anglican Church in the region. It acknowledges historical failures, challenges the notion that the church is colonial, and highlights the continuing importance of the Church to individual lives and regional aspirations. Combining examination of the church's complicated relationship with history and a variety of personal engagements with Anglicanism in the Caribbean, The Anglican Church in the Anglophone Caribbean demonstrates the continuing significance of the Anglican Church in the development and contemporary life of the region.

Stirring Up Liberation Theologies Jione Havea, 2024-07-31. In this critical time in world history when many spirits and bodies are plagued by AIDS, covid, monkeypox, hunger, bird flu, mad cow disease, and other ailments, and many communities are broken by wars, juntas, climate crises, domestic abuse, poverty, and other shitstems, this book stirs up the ends of Liberation Theology. Release. As long as the world is plagued and broken, the release that Liberation Theology seeks are needed. Bringing together a diverse and global array of theologians who have taken up the liberative mantle, this book will demonstrate why liberation theology today needs releasing from its illusions and assumptions and what comes next once it does so. With contributors including Miguel A. De La Torre, Anna Kasafi Perkins, and Michael Jaggesar, the book demonstrates that Liberation Theology is not pass or dead. But it needs some stirring up.

Manifesto for New Social Movements César Augusto Rossatto, 2019-10-01. The world is currently witnessing the emergence of a new context for education, labor, and transformative social movements. Global flows of people, capital, and energy increasingly define the world we live in. The multinational corporation with its pursuit of ever cheaper sources of labor and materials and its disregard for human life is the dominant form of economic organization where capital can cross borders but people can't. Affirmative action, democracy, and human rights are moving in from the margins to challenge capitalist priorities of efficiency, i.e., exploitation. In some places, the representatives of popular movements are actually taking the reins of state power. Across the globe, new progressive movements are emerging to bridge national identities and boundaries in solidarity with transnational class, gender, and ethnic struggles. At this juncture, educators have a key role to play. The ideology of market competition has become more entrenched in schools even as opportunities for skilled employment diminish. We must rethink the relationship between schooling and labor, developing transnational pedagogies that draw upon the myriad social struggles shaping students' lives and communities. Critical educators need to connect with other social movements to put a radically democratic agenda based on the principles of equity, access, and emancipation at the center of educational praxis. Many countries in Latin America, like in other continents, are developing new alternatives for the reconstruction of social projects; these emerging sources of hope are the central focus of this book. Major historical change always starts with people's social movement. Democracy can be one of the best political and social systems in the world, but for it to work entails the sustainable participation of citizens. Above all, it requires that people be informed and critically educated, since the quality of democracy depends on the quality of education. There are 2 kinds of power: money and people. If people exercise their agency, they can be more powerful than money. There are some organizing principles of social movements as don't do for others what they should do for themselves. Saul Alinsky wrote Rules for Radicals, a pragmatic primer for realistic radicals. Mary Rogers' Cold Anger, a story of faith and power politics. Michael Gecan's Going Public, an organizer's guide to citizen action, and Ernesto Cortez's Industrial Area Foundation are all great sources for organized activism that do work. I put some of these principles to the test, and they produced positive results. I was a founder and president of a union at my university, and I lived my whole life as an activist and learned that we can do more together than alone. Now we also have a new digital war with the Cambridge Analytica and Breitbart's fake news manipulation; however, we also have social justice hacktivism to counteract it, as well as other democratic social media venues that critical thinkers and activists use. The chapters in this book demonstrate the importance of widening and diversifying social movements at the same time, emphasizing the need to build cohesive alliances among all the different fronts. What some people think is impossible can become a transformed reality for those who dare attempt changing the world as global citizens.

Theological Education and Christian Scholarship for Human Flourishing Celucien L. Joseph, 2022-09-14. This book explores the interconnection of theological education and Christian scholarship, cultural and theological hermeneutics, pedagogy, and community knowledge, democracy, and citizenship. Yet the three major disciplines or discourses covered in this work include multicultural education, theology, and hermeneutics through the lens of human flourishing and the concept of the good life. From this angle, this project is written from three different methods and approaches that intersect with each other: a theology of contextualization, a hermeneutics of interculturality and a pedagogy of cultural literacy and transformative community knowledge The book advances the idea that theological education should be the starting point to foster candid conversations about the importance of democracy and human rights civic engagement and the political life inclusion and diversity and pluralism and difference in our multicultural society The book uses the tools of multicultural education and cultural knowledge to enhance democracy and promote fundamental human virtues that would sustain the good life and human flourishing in the world in the Aristotelian sense and in the Socratic idea of local and world citizenship Finally this text offers an alternative vision to contemporary theological education to deconstruct the white male and Eurocentric narratives of theological education and Christian scholarship
