A History of World Agriculture Marcel Mazoyer, Laurence Roudart, 2006-06 Only once we understand the long history of human efforts to draw sustenance from the land can we grasp the nature of the crisis that faces humankind today as hundreds of millions of people are faced with famine or flight from the land From Neolithic times through the earliest civilizations of the ancient Near East in savannahs river valleys and the terraces created by the Incas in the Andean mountains an increasing range of agricultural techniques have developed in response to very different conditions These developments are recounted in this book with detailed attention to the ways in which plants animals soil climate and society have interacted Mazoyer and Roudart's A History of World Agriculture is a path breaking and panoramic work beginning with the emergence of agriculture after thousands of years in which human societies had depended on hunting and gathering showing how agricultural techniques developed in the different regions of the world and how this extraordinary wealth of knowledge tradition and natural variety is endangered today by global capitalism as it forces the unequal agrarian heritages of the world to conform to the norms of profit During the twentieth century mechanization motorization and specialization have brought to a halt the pattern of cultural and environmental responses that characterized the global history of agriculture until then Today a small number of corporations have the capacity to impose the farming methods on the planet that they find most profitable Mazoyer and Roudart propose an alternative global strategy that can safeguard the economies of the poor countries reinvigorate the global economy and create a livable future for mankind

The Social History of Agriculture Christopher Isett, Stephen Miller, 2016-11-09 This innovative text provides a compelling narrative world history through the lens of food and farmers Tracing the history of agriculture from earliest times to the present Christopher Isett and Stephen Miller argue that people rather than markets have been the primary agents of agricultural change Exploring the actions taken by individuals and groups over time and analyzing their activities in the wider contexts of markets states wars the environment population increase and similar factors the authors emphasize how larger social and political forces inform decisions and lead to different technological outcomes Both farmers and elites responded in ways that impeded economic development Farmers when able to trade with towns used the revenue to gain more land and security Elites used commercial opportunities to accumulate military power and slaves The book explores these tendencies through rich case studies of ancient China precolonial South America early modern France England and Japan New World slavery colonial Taiwan socialist Cuba and many other periods and places Readers will understand how the promises and problems of contemporary agriculture are not simply technologically derived but are the outcomes of decisions and choices people have made and continue to make

Smith, 1995 History of Agriculture in the Northern United States, 1620-1860 Percy Wells Bidwell, John Ironside Falconer, 1973 History and Evolution of American Agriculture Abner E. Woodruff, History and Civilization Collection, 2017-07-09 This book deals with the evolution of American agriculture the effect of machinery both upon production and rural population and the last chapter attempt to show the development of a distinctly proletarian class upon the farms Five periods mark the agricultural history of the United States since the advent of the white man The first or Colonial period extends to the end of the Revolutionary War and records but slight technical advances in the art of agriculture The second period from 1783 to 1830 saw a rapid spread of the agricultural population across the mountains into the Ohio Cumberland and Tennessee Valleys and even beyond the Mississippi to the edge of the great plains A public land policy was adopted by the Federal Government cotton became the dominant agricultural product of the South and made slavery a paying and therefore a characteristically Southern institution and the first efforts to apply science to agriculture were made During this period as in the first one agriculture was practically self sufficing though in the South the specialization on cotton caused a considerable dependence on other regions for supplies that otherwise would have been produced at home In the third period from 1830 to 1865 occurred an almost complete transformation of agriculture The rapid rise of the factory system in the North due to the use of steam and a flood of labor saving inventions with a consequent transfer of home industries into the shops the invention of agricultural machinery such as the reaper mower thresher etc the extension of the railway system and the development of the prairie states caused an era of specialization which transferred agriculture into the commercial stage Crops were now grown primarily for the market and incidentally for the use of the farmer and his family a reversal of the former process The fourth period was the era of expansion into the Far West 1865 1887 and was remarkably stimulated by the Homestead Acts of 1862 and 1864 the disbanding of the Armies of the Civil War the transformation of Southern farming due to the abolition of slavery the invention of the twine binder and the roller process of milling flour the extension of the railroads to the Pacific Coast the greater extension of the interior railway systems the development of the cattle ranches of the West after the extinction of the buffalo and the cooping up of the Indians on the reservations and a new flood of immigration from European ports Manufacture experienced an equal expansion at this time and more of the home industries were transferred from the farm to the factory and the shop The fifth period which began in 1887 is now practically completed by the establishment of the Rural Credit or Land Bank system throughout the country This period has been an era of agricultural reorganization A History of Agriculture in Europe and America Norman Scott Brien Gras,1968 Agriculture in History ,2010 The first reference work built around individual events in agricultural history Agriculture in History presents 150 essays on the rise and development of agriculture throughout the world the coverage is both geographically and chronologically immense The set opens with a series of articles on the rise of agriculture in northern Africa and Asia as far back as 9000 B C E and covers the emergence of agriculture in all the world s populated regions

Zuni Origins David A. Gregory, David R. Wilcox, 2015-11-01 A Choice Outstanding Academic Title The Zuni are a Southwestern people whose origins have long intrigued anthropologists This volume presents fresh approaches to that question from both anthropological and traditional perspectives exploring the origins of the tribe and the influences that have affected their way of life Utilizing macro regional approaches it brings together many decades of research in the Zuni and Mogollon areas incorporating archaeological evidence environmental data and linguistic analyses to propose new links among early Southwestern peoples The findings reported here postulate the differentiation of the Zuni language at least 7 000 to 8 000 years ago following the initial peopling of the hemisphere and both formulate and test the hypothesis that many Mogollon populations were Zunian speakers Some of the contributions situate Zuni within the developmental context of Southwestern societies from Paleoindian to Mogollon Others test the Mogollon Zuni hypothesis by searching for contrasts between these and neighboring peoples and tracing these contrasts through macro regional analyses of environments sites pottery basketry and rock art Several studies of late prehistoric and protohistoric settlement systems in the Zuni area then express more cautious views on the Mogollon connection and present insights from Zuni traditional history and cultural geography Two internationally known scholars then critique the essays and the editors present a new research design for pursuing the question of Zuni origins By taking stock and synthesizing what is currently known about the origins of the Zuni language and the development of modern Zuni culture Zuni Origins is the only volume to address this subject with such a breadth of data and interpretations It will prove invaluable to archaeologists working throughout the North American Southwest as well as to others struggling with issues of ethnicity migration incipient agriculture and linguistic origins

Sources of Power Manfred Weissenbacher, 2009-09-30 A landmark book rolls out a bold new energy based theory of human history based on a simple yet powerful law whoever controls the world s effective energy supplies during a given energy age will inevitably dominate the economic political and cultural history of that age The innovative theory articulated in Sources of Power How Energy Forges Human History parses history into four ages the foraging agriculture coal and oil ages each defined by the dominant source of power Manfred Weissenbacher tests this sweeping theory against the panorama of world history combining formidable powers of synthesis with a specialist's deep understanding of energy systems and technologies After proving the operation of his law through history and into the present Weissenbacher applies it to global geopolitical trends He assesses the prospects of the various candidate technologies to succeed oil and charts future scenarios based on the distribution of energy reserves Finally he forecasts the fates of the American and Chinese empires in the twilight of the oil age the United States as a mature superpower forced to deploy military might to occupy oilfields in the Middle East China as an emerging superpower forced to deploy economic might to muscle in on the development of Third World oilfields The Evolution of Future Consciousness
