Handicapped In Literature:

Literature and Disability Alice Hall (Literature professor), 2016 Disability studies now An introduction to disability studies Literature and disability Physical disability and the novel Deafness and performance Blindness and short fiction Cognitive difference and narrative Disability life writing Voice and poetry Glossary Disability in Modern Children's Fiction John Quicke, 2024-05-01 First published in 1985 Disability in Modern Children's Fiction presents a case for the inclusion of a planned element in the mainstream curriculum specifically designed to encourage positive attitudes and actions towards children with special needs and for utilising the possibilities inherent in fiction for helping all children to explore their thoughts and feelings in this area The central chapters of the book are concerned with a critical examination of specific texts focusing on how they deal with disability in a story context Books are grouped for discussion under common themes which have been teased out according to their contemporary relevance the effects on the family of a severely disabled child the struggle of a child with a disability for personal identity in oppressive social circumstances the interaction between disability race gender and social class the different reactions of normal children towards disabled peers the failings of the medical approach to disability love sex adolescence and disability the relationship between children and handicapped adults The penultimate chapter is concerned with an evaluation of picture books and quasi fiction for younger children This book will be of interest to students of disability studies pedagogy and literature Fictions of Affliction Martha Stoddard Holmes, 2010-02-09 Reveals the cultural meanings and literary representations of disability in Victorian Britain Disabled Literature Miles Beauchamp, Wendy Chung, Alijandra Mogilner, 2015 This book by Beauchamp Chung Mogilner and Svetlana Zakinova examines how authors have used characters with disabilities to elicit emotional reactions in readers additionally how writers use disabilities to present individuals as the other rather than simply as people Finally the book discusses how literature has changed or is changing with regards to its presentation of those with a disability Elusive Kinship: Disability and Human Rights in Postcolonial Literature Christopher Krentz, 2022-04-22 Characters with disabilities are often marginalized in fiction but many occupy central places in literature by celebrated authors like Chinua Achebe Salman Rushdie J M Coetzee Anita Desai Jhumpa Lahiri Edwidge Danticat and others These authors deploy disability to do important cultural work writes Christopher Krentz in his innovative study Elusive Kinship Such representations not only relate to the millions of disabled people in the global South but also make more vivid such issues as the effects of colonialism global capitalism racism and sexism war and environmental disaster Krentz is the first to put the fields of postcolonial studies studies of human rights and literature and literary disability in conversation with each other in a book length study He enhances our appreciation of key texts of Anglophone postcolonial literature of the global South including Things Fall Apart and Midnight's Children In addition he uncovers the myriad ways fiction gains energy vitality and metaphoric force from characters with extraordinary bodies or minds Depicting injustices faced by characters with disabilities is vital to raising awareness and achieving human rights Elusive Kinship nudges us toward a fuller understanding of disability worldwide

Communications and Technology M. J. Bishop, Elizabeth Boling, Jan Elen, Vanessa Svihla, 2020-09-21 The 5th edition of the prestigious AECT Handbook continues previous efforts to reach outside the traditional instructional design and technology community to the learning sciences and computer information systems communities toward developing a conceptualization of the field However given the pervasive and increasingly complex role technology now plays in education since the 1st edition of the Handbook in 1996 the editors have reorganized the research chapters in this edition to focus on the learning problems we are trying to solve with educational technologies rather than to focus on the things we are using to solve those problems Additionally for the first time this edition of the Handbook reflects our field's growing understanding of the importance of design scholarship to inform practice by including design case chapters These changes for this edition of the Handbook are intended to bring educational technology research into the broader framework of educational research by elaborating on the role instructional design and technology plays as a scholarly discipline in addressing education's increasingly complex issues Provides comprehensive reviews of new developments in educational technology research and design practice Includes concrete examples to guide future research and practice in the ways emerging technologies can be used to solve educational problems Contains extensive references furnished to guide readers to the most recent research and design practice in the field of instructional design and technology Handicapped Children and Books Margaret Richardson Marshall, British

Ashman, 2018-09-03 First published in 1985 Despite the vast number of books available on mental handicap there had been little published about moral philosophical or ethical issues Yet such issues must be faced and indeed answered either explicitly or implicitly before any system of education or care for mentally handicapped people can be put into practice This book reviews a number of issues in this field Key topics addressed include respect for retarded people the notion of equal rights terminating the lives of severely handicapped infants and genetic engineering With the current emphasis on recognising the rights and needs of the handicapped as individuals this book should represent an important review and be of interest to all concerned with mentally handicapped people     International Review of Research in Developmental Disabilities Robert M.
