working of contemporary Indian rural economy In order to analyse the complexity of the rural economy and the forms it takes in different Indian contexts this issue has been deconstructed considering in turn the process of rural change the impact of rural growth on working and living conditions and finally the categories of the inhabitants of rural areas and the construction of their identities in colonial and post colonial rural India Banking on Equality Supriti Bezbaruah, 2015-03-24 It may well be surprising to say that the world should look to India as a model of gender equality India's banking sector proves the exception with several women reaching the highest positions in India's top banks including the country's largest bank Based on interviews and surveys of bank employees in India's National Capital Region this book looks at what lies behind the media rhetoric and provides a systematic analysis of patterns of and responses to gender inequality in the banking sector in India The book uncovers how gender discrimination still persists in the banking sector albeit in covert forms Through a comparison of nationalized Indian private and foreign banks the book demonstrates how the impact of laws local cultural norms and gendered workplace practices are mediated through different organizational forms in these different types of banks to create varied experiences of gender inequality The book is one of the first books to provide a thorough in depth analysis of women's employment in the Indian banking sector currently an under researched area Growth and Structure of Tertiary Sector in Developing Economies Seema Joshi, 2008 Partly with reference to India Record of proceedings, 1992 Foreign Direct Investment as a Tool for Poverty Reduction in Developing Countries Ronald K.S. conclusion to the book puts forward a potential way out of the European crisis and argues that the correct measures thus far have not been taken to bolster financial stability In Europe in Crisis Talani and her contributors aim to identify the impact of the crisis on the future of the EMU and the EU project as a whole The intersection between socioeconomic conditions and youth radicalisation - Implications for programming in the G5 Sahel countries Mayhew, L., McCullough, A., El Taraboulsi-McCarthy, S., Allen, A., Levine, S.,2022-02-16 This FAO ODI study provides an evidence based analysis of the drivers of youth radicalisation in the Sahel and distils what this means for programming which aims to address that concern Resources have been invested into trying to address the underlying drivers of youth radicalisation often through programming under the labels of Countering Violent Extremism CVE or Prevention of Violent Extremism PVE Such approaches tend to categorise at risk individuals based on certain socio economic profiles In particular connecting both poverty and unemployment to radicalisation has been a popular assumption among policymakers based on arguments that poverty and unemployment both generate grievance based motivations and lower the opportunity cost for engaging in political violence In response P CVE programming often includes the provision of economic alternatives and skills based training in a bid to dissuade young people from joining armed groups The findings of this study challenge this framing Based on a review of over 50 studies on radicalisation in the Sahel and the evidence from P CVE programming implemented in the region it has been assessed that the drivers of radicalisation in the region are geographically specific and therefore need to be considered spatially rather than aiming to produce a typical profile of youth that are vulnerable to radicalisation This report aims not only to uncover how socio economic conditions interact with political dynamics to produce environments conducive to youth radicalisation but also to provide recommendations on how regional employment programmes can be tailored so that they contribute towards reducing radicalisation

Beer, Holli Evans, 2013-09-13 Economic restructuring has been a notable feature of so called mature industrial economies such as the UK and Australia in the last two decades with deregulation privatisation technological change and globalisation combining to reshape such economies Some industries have grown while others have declined Moreover while overall employment in the UK and Australia has grown many newly created positions require skills not found in the industries shedding labour or are in casualised and low paid occupations Many lesser skilled workers leaving declining industries are therefore at risk of long term unemployment or leaving the workforce entirely Both mental and physical health can be affected after redundancy It is therefore crucial that the measures put in place in many domains of social policy such as formal health policy employment assistance community development housing assistance and so on to adequately address the difficulties confronting this group This volume takes a closer look at the impact of manufacturing notably automotive plant closures in the UK Birmingham and Australia Adelaide in recent years and policy responses to those closures It attempts to tease out differences in policy response and effectiveness and attempts to identify areas where policy could be made to work better in terms of adjusting to large scale manufacturing change and resulting job losses In so doing it begins for the first time we believe to take a comparative approach to understanding the impact of plant closures and policy responses This book was published as a special issue of Policy Studies      India S.
