A Story of My Grandfather's Life, a '68 Chevy and Me Bub Saunders,2024-09-27 Downeast Maine is fairly rural today Imagine trying to eke out a living 240 years ago in an area where there were no roads no towns no stores no hospitals no amenities whatsoever This is the world into which my family settled into during the post Revolutionary War era Maine was simply a province of Massachusetts until 1820 and even then the area of Hancock County east of the Penobscot River was lightly settled By the time my grandfather Ellis Hollis Saunders was born in 1895 civilization had made its way to Downeast Maine He was the recipient of three generations hard work to establish a farm and lumbering business however much work would be laid at his feet in his youth followed by being drafted to go to France in World War I the Great Depression World War II the Korean War the Cold War and finally old age He passed away when I was only five years old in 1968 a man worn down by a life of hard work in an attempt to give his family more than he had achieved during his lifetime He left me a gift when he passed away the only new vehicle he ever purchased a 1968 C10 Chevy pickup His gift would provide me transportation when I was growing up but ultimately a way out of depression after the passing of my parents Restoration of his truck in 2021 helped restore my spirit in my own life as I moved forward with my own family

Grandfather's Stories from Viet Nam Donna Roland,1985-01-01

Relative Histories Rocio G. Davis,2022-04-30 Relative Histories focuses on the Asian American memoir that specifically recounts the story of at least three generations of the same family This form of auto biography concentrates as much on other members of one s family as on oneself generally collapses the boundaries conventionally established between biography and autobiography and in many cases as Rocio G Davis proposes for the auto biographies of ethnic writers crosses the frontier into history promoting collective memory Davis centers on how Asian American family memoirs expand the limits and function of life writing by reclaiming history and promoting community cohesion She argues that identity is shaped by not only the stories we have been told but also the stories we tell making these narratives important examples of the ways we remember our family's past and tell our community's story In the context of auto biographical writing or filmmaking that explores specific ethnic experiences of diaspora assimilation and integration this work considers two important aspects These texts re imagine the past by creating a work that exists both in history and as a historical document making the creative process a form of re enactment of the past itself Each chapter centers on a thematic concern germane to the Asian American experience the narrative of twentieth century Asian wars and revolutions which has become the subtext of a significant number of Asian American family memoirs Pang Mei Natasha Chang's Bound Feet and Western Dress May lee and Winberg Chai's The Girl from Purple Mountain K Connie Kang's Home Was The Land of Morning Calm Doung Van Mai Elliott's The Sacred Willow family experiences of travel and displacement within Asia in the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries which unveil a history of multiple diasporas that are often elided after families immigrate to the United States Helie Lee's Still Life With Rice Jael Silliman's Jewish Portraits Indian Frames Mira Kamdar's Motiba's Tattoos and the development of Chinatowns as family spaces Maxine Hong Kingston's China Men Lisa See's On Gold Mountain Bruce Edward Hall's Tea that Burns The final chapter analyzes the discursive possibilities of the filmed family memoir family portrait documentary examining Lise Yasui's A Family Gathering Ruth Ozeki Lounsbury's Halving the Bones and Ann Marie Fleming's The Magical Life of Long Tack Sam Davis concludes the work with a metaliterary engagement with the history of her own Asian diasporic family as she demonstrates the profound interconnection between forms of life writing

Moving Beyond Personal Loss to Societal Grieving Michelle M. Falter, Steven T. Bickmore, 2018-11-23 Moving Beyond Personal Loss to Societal Grieving considers how secondary English language arts teachers and teacher educators can sensitively and thoughtfully teach pieces of literature in their classrooms in which large scale deaths are a significant if not central aspect of the texts As mass shootings and violence against black and brown bodies increase and issues such as AIDS war and genocide remain important to discuss as part of a shared critical and social consciousness this book provides resources for educators to directly tackle and discuss these topics through the texts they read in their ELA classrooms Whether it is canonical or contemporary literature middle grades or young adult literature fiction nonfiction or graphic novels literature provides a vehicle to have these difficult but needed conversations about not only the personal but social effects of death and grief in our society Each chapter in this book focuses on 1-2 texts and provides practical activities that ask students to engage with death, dying, and loss through writing assignments, projects, activities, and discussion prompts in order to build empathy, understanding, and develop critically minded and engaged students Moving Beyond Personal Loss to Societal Grieving will be of interest to English language arts teachers, teacher educators, librarians, and scholars who wish to explore with their students the complex emotions that revolve around discussing deaths that occur in literature

Spencer Platt, Christopher Newman, Adriel A. Hilton, 2019-04-01 Multicultural education has become its own discipline developed on the shoulders of the work of giants who argued its merit during the attacks of opponents who believed assimilation was the purpose of state sponsored education In an age of rising populism and nationalism throughout the Western world again questioned is the merit of multicultural education In the shadows of Brexit and an America First agenda where migration patterns across the world have led to demographic shifts it is evident even in the richest countries in the world that gaps in opportunity and subsequently achievement still exist Disparities in achievement lead some to question whether multicultural education works and others to revert to old notions that ethnically and linguistically marginalized students are in fact deficient The scholars here believe in the untapped potential of all children and illuminate how educational structures have muffled the cultivation of that potential Contributors argue the goals of multicultural education have not been achieved in part due to the piecemeal application of its tenants The scholarship in this volume illustrates the state of multicultural education and articulates what educators committed to equity, inclusion, and a more just society must do to ensure the goals of multicultural education survive in the current age The authors of these chapters bridge foundational knowledge with contemporary understandings making the work both accessible for novices and beneficial for the authorities on multicultural education With the diverse cast of contributors and topics ranging from mathematics instruction to discipline practices this volume provides thoughtful discourse on issues of access, access to curricular content, access to opportunities to learn, as well as impediments to access Containing chapters that speak to discipline specific pedagogical practices, the structures of schooling, teacher education, and research methodologies, the collected work encourages scholars and practitioners to not be discouraged in the age of retrenchment The Life She Once Knew: The Incredible True Story of Queena, The Bloomingdale Library Attack Survivor Vanna Nguyen, 2020-11-10 In 1981 a young woman faced death as she lay on the floor of a small boat in the South China Sea fleeing the life she once knew in Vietnam In 2008 her teenage daughter lay fighting for her life after being brutally raped and abandoned while returning books at a library near Tampa, Florida The attack in front of the Bloomingdale library left Queena
