Simon, 2022-08-01 This is a story about five biracial sisters who ran away from one white house that their relatives slaved in and other relatives lived in Cathryn is the oldest She spent her life preparing to live in the other White House There are four other sisters Gwendolyn Claudia Mayvelyn and Evelyn Claudia and Evelyn are black They have grown up around people that name called them From niggers to white trash They became a commissioner senator mayor doctor and district attorney Raised their children as princes and princesses It was a grandchild that got the keys to the White House Now they're in the White House where their blood relatives built it for the other blood relatives to work in Oh yeah did I mention that the sisters are Republican The people of United States of America voted Cathryn's grandson for president twice and after his eight years the people voted Gwendolyn's son in for president twice And then Cathryn's grandson was voted back in for eight more years They became royalty Surviving Mother Towandra Ellison, This story about Grace who is a young Mother walking through darkest day She doesn't know if she's going to make it

Gone but Not Forgotten: an Ozark Autumn to Be Remembered Suella Thrasher, 2016-03-16 The tall young woman with sparkling green eyes and long curly copper red hair stooped gracefully and placed her autumn colored bridal bouquet on the grave at the base of the tombstone Five little graves beside hers were testimony to the sorrow and pain of loss as written in the century old journal held by the young bride The autumn sun danced through the leaves of red orange yellow and gold and on the bent face of the young woman as she whispered Thank you grandmother I wish you could see me and hear me God does answer prayer This fictional account is about trusting God in all situations and allowing Him to direct your ways Points for reflection or group discussion are at the end of the book Don't Call Us Out of Name Lisa Dodson, 1999-09-25 A radically new vision of women and girls living below the poverty line Lisa Dodson makes a frontal assault on conventional attitudes and stereotypes of women in poor America and the seriously misguided welfare reform policies of the end of the century I hear Odessa a thirty two year old woman speak at a forum on welfare reform I ask her about the phrase she used Don't call me out of name for it seemed to speak for a whole nation of people Odessa tells me that women who have no money and no one to stand up for them get put into a bad position and they get misnamed Most often they get called welfare mothers or recipients words she will no longer acknowledge With millions alongside her Odessa has emerged by her own strength and some opportunity and now she insists upon naming herself While Lisa Dodson was working in a Charlestown factory twenty years ago the stories of the women she worked with daily captivated her she listened to them speak about harsh lives and their deep commitment to family and community It was the beginning of Dodson's desire to learn the truth and write it down For over eight years Dodson has been documenting the lives of girls and women hundreds of white African American Latino Haitian Irish and other women in personal interviews focus groups surveys and Life History Studies This book is a crossing a class crossing taking readers into fellowship with people who are seldom invited to speak but who have powerful stories to tell and who force us to abandon common myths that have been fed to us by the media about school dropouts teen pregnancy and welfare cheats Don't Call Us Out of Name delves deeply into the realities of their lives often with surprising and uplifting stories of commonplace courage unimaginable strength and resourcefulness Lisa Dodson does not simply give us the truth about women living in poverty but offers realistic hope for meaningful policy reform based on the experience and analysis of the women we have seen so far only in stereotype and whose voices we have not truly heard These women emerge as critical contributors to the creation of sound humane public policy Living off Grandma's Sayings Yvonne Starks Wilson, 2019-08-29 In Living Off Grandma's Sayings From Leeds to the Legislature retired Missouri State Senator Yvonne Wilson recounts her experience growing up in the segregated community of Leeds in Kansas City Missouri with her Grandma and describes the impact of this experience on her life as an educator state legislator and public servant Lessons learned from her Grandma formed the bedrock of Senator Wilson's career in the Kansas City Missouri School District during the turbulent years of desegregation her time in the Missouri House of Representatives and Missouri State Senate her service in the Kansas City community and her role as wife mother and grandmother Throughout the book Senator Wilson reflects on the continued value of her Grandma's sayings She'll Learn Sybil Barkley-Staples, 2002 She'll Learn untangles the web of life's trials and tribulations Its lesson is being taught each day you live it Maxine Sydney and Indira learn that nothing else matters but true friendship They figure that although they lead separate lives their lives all affect each other Together they always make it through
