Grandma Can't Remember Carin Billington, 2007-09 Do your children struggle to grasp the daunting and confusing realities of Alzheimer's? Certainly as an adult it is overwhelming and at times beyond comprehension to watch a loved one succumb to Alzheimer's. For a child it produces a myriad of emotions ranging from bewilderment to sorrow to angst. My Grandma Can't Remember was born out of the real life experience of author Carin Billington as her mother Jean Conway McCarthy suffered for seven years from Alzheimer's. Unable to find books specifically written for children grappling with Alzheimer's, Carin shares her own children's heartbreaking journey into the world of Alzheimer's. It is written from the viewpoint of a young granddaughter, her children as she endeavors to understand as well as accept her Grandma's new life robbed of her memory. My Grandma Can't Remember transcends all ages and touches the essence of the heartache of this disease in a tender and poignant way while helping you and your child grasp the cruelty of Alzheimer's. This insightful sensitive children's book offers extraordinary support and comfort to all who have a loved one suffering from any form of dementia.

For the Love of Grandma Anne Coltman, 2009 The theme of Anne Coltman's debut volume of poetry is grandmothers and grandchildren. Now a grandmother herself, Coltman reflects upon the special bond she shared with her grandmother, the relationship her children had with her own mother, and the role she plays as a grandmother today. The result is a collection of verse examining her often humorous experiences as a family matriarch as well as an exploration of the unique role grandmothers have in modern family life. This collection is sure to be a treat for readers young and old.

Grandma Tell Me a Story Edith Bennett MacLelland, 2011-08-23 Most children love to hear stories, especially at bedtime. The favorite story of my two sons was told them by their father over and over again of which they never tired. HOW HE CAME OVER TO AMERICA FROM SCOTLAND ON A BIG BOAT. My purpose in writing this story now of my voyage to Africa on a freighter is that my grandchildren and great grandchildren might enjoy hearing of some of my experiences which in the providence of God have taken place in my life. Some statistics and a little information was acquired from the library before leaving for the various countries. This has been interwoven in my travelogue, all of which was written on board ship.
