□□ □□□, 2024-10-01 1952 Changing Identities of Chinese Women Elisabeth Croll, 1995 Describes the changing reality of women's lives during the China's republican revolutionary and reform eras Sui Sin Far/Edith Maude Eaton Annette White Parks, 1995 This first full length biography of the first published Asian North American fiction writer portrays both the woman and her times The eldest daughter of a Chinese mother and British father Edith Maude Eaton was born in England in 1865 Her family moved to Quebec where she was removed from school at age ten to help support her parents and twelve siblings In the 1880s and 1890s she worked as a stenographer journalist and fiction writer in Montreal often writing under the name Sui Sin Far Water Lily She lived briefly in Jamaica and then from 1898 to 1912 in the United States Her one book Mrs Spring Fragrance has been out of print since 1914 Today Sui Sin Far is being rediscovered as part of American literature and history She presented portraits of turn of the century Chinatowns not in the mode of the yellow peril literature in vogue at the time but with an insider's sympathy She gave voice to Chinese American women and children and she responded to the social divisions and discrimination that confronted her by experimenting with trickster characters and tools of irony sharing the coping mechanisms used by other writers who struggled to overcome the marginalization to which their race class or gender consigned them in that era Superbly researched thoughtfully reasoned and beautifully written Will be the foundation for all future work on Sui Sin Far Elizabeth Ammons author of Conflicting Stories American Women Writers at the Turn into the Twentieth Century Maxine Hong Kingston's Broken Book of Life Maureen Sabine, 2004-02-29 The numerous studies of Maxine Hong Kingston's touchstone work The Woman Warrior fail to take into account the stories in China Men which were largely written together with those in The Woman Warrior but later published separately Although Hong Kingston's decision to separate the male and female narratives enabled readers to see the strength of the resulting feminist point of view in The Woman Warrior the author has steadily maintained that to understand the book fully it was necessary to read its male companion text Maureen Sabine's ambitious study of The Woman Warrior and China Men aims to bring these divided texts back together with a close reading that looks for the textual traces of the father in The Woman Warrior and shows how the daughter narrator tracks down his history in China Men She considers theories of intertextuality that open up the possibility of a dynamic interplay between the two books and suggests that the Hong family women and men may be struggling for dialogue with each other even when they appear textually silent or apart Women and the Family in Chinese History Patricia Ebrey, 2003-09-02 This is a collection of essays by one of the leading scholars of Chinese history Patricia Buckley In the essays she has selected for this fascinating volume Professor Ebrey explores features of the Chinese family

gender and kinship systems as practices and ideas intimately connected to history and therefore subject to change over time The essays cover topics ranging from dowries and the sale of women into forced concubinary to the excesses of the imperial harem excruciating pain of footbinding and Confucian ideas of womanly virtue Patricia Ebrey places these sociological analyses of women within the family in an historical context analysing the development of the wider kinship system Her work provides an overview of the early modern period with a specific focus on the Song period 920 1276 a time of marked social and cultural change and considered to be the beginning of the modern period in Chinese history With its wide ranging examination of issues relating to women and the family this book will be essential reading to scholars of Chinese history and gender studies

Asian American Women Linda Trinh V?, Marian Sciachitano, 2004-01-01 Asian American Women brings together landmark scholarship about Asian American women that has appeared in Frontiers A Journal of Women Studies over the last twenty five years The essays written by established and emerging scholars made a significant impact in the fields of Asian American studies ethnic studies women s studies American studies history and pedagogy The scholarship is still relevant today broadening our critical understanding of Asian American women s resistance to the forces of racism patriarchy militarism cultural imperialism neocolonialism and narrow forms of nationalism The essays in this collection reveal the experiences and struggles of Asian American women within a global political economic cultural and historical context The essays focus on diverse issues including unconventional Asian American women of the early 1900s the life of a Japanese war bride possibilities for transnational Asian American feminism the politics of Vietnamese American beauty pageants mixed race identities and bisexual identities Filipina healthcare providers South Asian American representations and a multiracial exchange on pedagogical interventions The collection represents the rich diversity of Asian American women s lives in hope of creating a new transnational space of critical dialogue strategic resistance and alliance building
