Falk, 2010-12 What image comes to mind when we hear the term grandparents Too often it is the Norman Rockwell view of innocuous kindly white haired folk or conversely the negative stereotype of doddering dim witted burdens confined to nursing homes Unfortunately such notions shortchange not only older people but younger generations as well who may never realize how much grandparents have to offer This informative well researched book aims to add some perspective and depth to the stick figure images of grandparents promulgated by contemporary culture Psychotherapist Ursula Falk and sociologist Gerhard Falk provide an illuminating overview of the many facets of being a grandparent in today's society. Among the topics discussed are the history of the grandparent role and its evolution, social forces that have affected the American family including grandparents, the distinctly different roles of grandmother and grandfather, the parental responsibilities that grandparents today are often forced to assume for their grandchildren in the absence of the children's parents, the ways in which other cultures treat grandparents, the usually negative and stereotypical depiction of grandparents in the media and in literature, and finally the supporting role that grandparents play with authentic examples. Also included is an appendix outlining the legal rights of grandparents. The authors stress that grandparents must be seen as individuals with their own lives to lead and that society needs to reassess the value of the elderly.

Ursula Adler Falk, Ph.D., Kenmore, NY, is a psychotherapist in private practice and a nursing home consultant. She is the author of a number of books including On Our Own: Independent Living for Older Persons. Gerhard Falk, Ph.D., is professor of sociology at the State University of New York College in Buffalo, NY, and the author of many books including Stigma: How We Treat Outsiders.

Irish grandmothers teach children to sow seeds and cook with fresh local ingredients. Filipino grandmothers demand justice for having been forced into sex slavery during World War II. Guatemalan grandmothers operate a hotline and teach parenting.
