Granpa Of The Film:

Deadtime Stories: Grandpa's Monster Movies Annette Cascone, Gina Cascone, 2025-09-23 Another creepy tale for beside the campfire or beneath the covers from Twisted Sisters Annette and Gina Cascone's Deadtime Stories now a hit show on Nickelodeon C T and his cousin Lea are staying at their grandparents old farmhouse It's Grandpa's seventieth birthday and everyone's celebrating with a big family reunion All the weird relatives are here and all they seem to want to talk about are the good old days C T and Lea think the good old days are pretty boring until they find some home movies hidden away in the attic movies from when their grandfather was just a boy The home movies give them a piece of family history that the relatives never talked about It seems that horses cows pigs and chickens aren't the only creatures Grandpa's been taking care of on the farm C T and Lea discover there's a monster among them and this creature is dying to eat a lot more than the birthday cake At the Publisher's request this title is being sold without Digital Rights Management Software DRM applied

A Companion to Film Comedy Andrew Horton, Joanna E. Rapf, 2015-12-14 A wide ranging survey of the subject that celebrates the variety and complexity of film comedy from the silent days to the present this authoritative guide offers an international perspective on the popular genre that explores all facets of its formative social cultural and political context A wide ranging collection of 24 essays exploring film comedy from the silent era to the present International in scope the collection embraces not just American cinema including Native American and African American but also comic films from Europe the Middle East and Korea Essays explore sub genres performers and cultural perspectives such as gender politics and history in addition to individual works Engages with different strands of comedy including slapstick romantic satirical and ironic Features original entries from a diverse group of multidisciplinary international contributors Another Frank Capra Leland Poague, 1994 Another Frank Capra offers a new interpretation of the great Hollywood director beyond the patriotic sentimentalist or the cynical opportunist that he has been taken for Often cast as a cinematic simpleton or primitive Capra's exploitation of the stylistic and narrative resources of cinema was in fact extremely self conscious and adventurous in ways typical of artistic modernism His modernism is also evident in his repeated and strong identification with female characters Informed by recent work in genre theory and feminist psychology Another Frank Capra shows Capra to be a proto feminist director whose feminism has been entirely neglected by previous critics Where Grandpa's Been... Dr. Donald Huard, 2015-04-15 As a 115 lb teenager drafted into the United States Army during the Korean conflict Donald Huard was laughed at taunted and bullied by other recruits He met his military responsibilities effectively however facing the potential for a military court martial during one tour of duty before his honorable discharge in 1954 His is an interesting soldier's story Determined to get a college education Don used his G I Bill to get his associate's and bachelor's degrees Then with the firm support of his wife and four children over a very long period of seventeen years he managed to meet the requirements for his master's and Ph D degrees in psychology with minors in criminology and business His is a very successful story of constructive determination How does one recover at the age of 50 as the loving father of four teenagers grieving the loss of their mother How does he rebuild his own life following such sadness Eventually Don met and married Margie the wonderful lady who enabled him to live again Theirs is an interesting story of true love In his early eighties now Dr Huard tells his story in this his own personal autobiography written slowly over the last 25 years Race after Hitler Heide

Fehrenbach,2018-06-05 When American victors entered Germany in the spring of 1945 they came armed not only with a commitment to democracy but also to Jim Crow practices Race after Hitler tells the story of how troubled race relations among American occupation soldiers and black white mixing within Germany unexpectedly shaped German notions of race after 1945 Biracial occupation children became objects of intense scrutiny and politicking by postwar Germans into the 1960s resulting in a shift away from official antisemitism to a focus on color and blackness Beginning with black GIs unexpected feelings of liberation in postfascist Germany Fehrenbach investigates reactions to their relations with white German women and to the few thousand babies born of these unions Drawing on social welfare and other official reports scientific studies and media portrayals from both sides of the Atlantic Fehrenbach reconstructs social policy debates regarding black occupation children such as whether they should be integrated into German society or adopted to African American or other families abroad Ultimately a consciously liberal discourse of race emerged in response to the children among Germans who prided themselves on and were lauded by the black American press for rejecting the hateful practices of National Socialism and the segregationist United States Fehrenbach charts her story against a longer history of German racism extending from nineteenth century colonialism through National Socialism to contemporary debates about multiculturalism An important and provocative work Race after Hitler explores how racial ideologies are altered through transnational contact accompanying war and regime change even and especially in the most intimate areas of sex and reproduction

Vulgar Beauty Mila Zuo,2022-01-24 In Vulgar Beauty Mila Zuo offers a new theorization of cinematic feminine beauty by showing how mediated encounters with Chinese film and popular culture stars produce feelings of Chineseness To illustrate this Zuo uses the vulgar as an analytic to trace how racial gendered and cultural identity is imagined and produced through affect She frames the vulgar as a characteristic that is experienced through the Chinese concept of weidao or flavor in which bitter salty pungent sweet and sour performances of beauty produce non Western forms of sexualized and racialized femininity Analyzing contemporary film and media ranging from actress Gong Li s post Mao movies of the late 1980s and 1990s to Joan Chen s performance in Twin Peaks to Ali Wong s stand up comedy specials Zuo shows how vulgar beauty disrupts Western and colonial notions of beauty Vulgar Beauty then becomes the taste of difference By demonstrating how Chinese feminine beauty becomes a cinematic invention invested in forms of affective racialization Zuo makes a critical reconsideration of aesthetic theory Militant Visions Elizabeth Reich,2016-08 Militant Visions examines how from the 1940s to the 1970s the cinematic figure of the black soldier helped change the ways American moviegoers saw black men for the first time presenting African Americans as vital and integrated members of the nation In the process Elizabeth Reich reveals how the image of the proud and powerful African American serviceman was crafted by an unexpected alliance of government propagandists civil rights activists and black filmmakers Contextualizing the figure in a genealogy of black radicalism and internationalism Reich shows the evolving images of black soldiers to be inherently transnational ones shaped by the displacements of diaspora Third World revolutionary philosophy and a legacy of black artistry and performance Offering a nuanced reading of a figure that was simultaneously conservative and radical Reich considers how the cinematic black soldier lent a human face to ongoing debates about racial integration black internationalism and American militarism Militant Visions thus not only presents a new history of how American cinema represented race but also demonstrates how film images helped to make history shaping the progress of the civil rights movement itself The Delineator R. Digital Age Laura Tropp,2018-11-23 This book investigates the changing culture of grandparenting Depending on the group the period and the family grandparents have been powerful patriarchs and matriarchs reliable second parents dependents burdens or community figures The book examines the history of grandparenting and the changing depiction of grandparent culture from old to hip including the development of the celebrity grandparent the emergence of media technologies that allow for new communication and relationships between grandparents and their grandchildren new rituals associated with grandparenting the growth of the marketing of grandparenting as a new stage of life and the impact on our culture of the commodification of grandparenting Prior to the twentieth century within the United States the idea of the modern grandparent likely did not even exist Many people did not live long enough to reach the grandparent stage of life Today people are living longer and grandparenting is occupying a longer phase in one s life Grandparenting is becoming its own life stage where new rituals exclusive to grandparents are emerging Newer technologies such as Skype Google Hangout and FaceTime allow grandparents who are far away to establish relationships with their children Many grandparents also use social media and blogs to chronicle their experiences Some grandparents have turned their grandparent lifestyle into a business The representation of grandparenting in popular culture is shifting as well Grandparents are becoming their own figures on television and film programs including reality shows Others have been thrust into the public eye across social media Marketers have realized the power of this new consumer subgroup and have begun to direct marketing campaigns to grandparents Yet despite the pervasive images of grandparents some of which present empowered figures grandparent representation in popular media continues to mimic many of the stereotypes commonly associated with aging encouraging people to laugh at versus laugh with these figures The Third Act Grandparenting in a Digital Age examines grandparenting through history interviews and popular culture to study the changing image of grandparents in society Celebrating 1895 John Fullerton,1998 Includes 27 of the finest papers presented at The Centenary of Cinema conference in June 1995 Fade to Gray Timothy Shary, Nancy McVittie, 2016-09-06 Winner Choice Outstanding Academic Title 2017 Americans are living longer and reinventing both work and retirement but Hollywood movies barely hint at this reality of contemporary society In many popular films older characters fade into irrelevance inactivity or absurdity or else they stay in the background as wise elders while younger characters provide the action Most American films do not attempt to portray the rich variety of experiences or the sensitive aging issues that people confront in the years beyond fifty Fade to Gray offers one of the first extended studies of the portrayal of older people in American cinema from the silent era to the present Writing in an accessible style for both general audiences and scholars Timothy Shary and Nancy McVittie examine social attitudes toward aging through an analysis of hundreds of individual films including such classics as You Can't Take It With You 1938 Rosemary's Baby 1968 Grumpy Old Men 1993 and Nebraska 2013 They show how representations of the aging process and depictions of older people embracing or enduring the various experiences of longer lives have evolved over the past century as well as how film industry practices have both reflected and influenced perceptions of aging in American society Exposing the social and political motivations for negative cinematic portrayals of the elderly Fade to Gray also gives visibility to films that provide opportunities for better understanding and appreciation of the aged and the aging process Dream
