Grasshopper Trap:

The Grasshopper Trap Patrick F. McManus, 1986-09-15 Funniest guy in the Outdoor Life and Field and Stream gang McManus here offers another bag of whimsy in the Great Outdoors Kirkus Reviews In this collection of thirty zany stories spoofing camping fishing and other outdoor recreational activities McManus shares his hilarious wilderness misadventures From facing an angry bear with an unloaded gun and the folly of running a boat while it's still on the trailer to not questioning the ingredients found in camp cookout cuisine and the best methods of catching grasshoppers no one knows how to express Mother Nature's sense of humor like Patrick F. McManus Praise for Patrick F. Williams, 2025-03-16 This volume investigates the methods and techniques used to investigate expressivity a term used to describe linguistic phenomena that serve an expressive function and deliver sensory information about an event entity or other culturally determined category through a set of grammatical resources The study of expressivity has gradually grown in stature over the last decade in particular while there are much earlier accounts of expressivity particularly within descriptive traditions of African East Asian and European linguistics modern linguistic theory has been rather slow to incorporate information regarding these forms and processes into contemporary dialogue In many earlier grammars discussion of expressive elements such as ideophones and mimetics was relegated to footnotes at best This is no longer the case in modern linguistic documentation and description necessitating new fieldwork methods and analytical tools The chapters in this book represent a new stage in the history of the study of expressivity they explore a variety of different expressive items from a wide range of languages focusing on the question of how to capture expressivity in language and culture

Grasshoppers and Grassland Health Jeffrey A. Lockwood, Alexandre V. Latchinsky, Michael G. Sergeev, 2012-12-06 Acridids grasshoppers and locusts can range from being rare curiosities to abundant menaces Some are threatened with extinction and become subjects of intensive conservation efforts while others are devastating pests and become the objects of massive control programmes Even within a species there are times when the animal is so abundant that its crushed masses cause the wheels of trains to skid the Rocky Mountain grasshopper Melanoplus spretus Walsh in western North America in the 1860s and 1870s while at other times the animal is alarmingly scarce the Rocky Mountain grasshopper went extinct in the early 1900s Why are there these extremes in one insect family and even in a single species The NATO workshop examined this paradox and its implications for Environmental Security which must address both the elements of land use agricultural production and pest management and conservation of biodiversity The reconciliation of these objectives clearly demands a critical assessment of current knowledge and policies identification of future research and close working relationships among scientists Insects can present two clear faces as well as the intervening gradation These extremes require us to respond in two ways conservation of scarce species and suppression of abundant harmful species But perhaps most important these opposite poles also provide the opportunity for an exchange of information and insight
