Great American Plunder Of Persias Antiquities 1925 1941:

The Great American Plunder of Persia's Antiquities, 1925-1941 Mohammad Gholi Majd, 2003 Using recently declassified State Department records Mohammad Gholi Majd describes the manner in which the U S government guided and assisted American museums in acquiring vast quantities of Persian antiquities and archaeological finds In the evolution of American Persian relations the importance of the antiquities story has remained unrecognized Arthur Upham Pope and A New Survey of Persian Art Yuka Kadoi, 2016-03-11 In Arthur Upham Pope and A New Survey of Persian Art fourteen scholars explore the legacy of Arthur Upham Pope 1881 1969 by tracing the formation of Persian art scholarship and connoisseurship during the twentieth century Widely considered as a self made scholar curator and entrepreneur Pope was credited for establishing the basis of what we now categorize broadly as Persian art His unrivalled professional achievement together with his personal charisma influenced the way in which many scholars and collectors worldwide came to understand the art architecture and material culture of the Persian world This ultimately resulted in the establishment of the aesthetic criteria for assessing the importance of cultural remains from modern day Iran With contributions by Lindsay Allen Sheila S Blair Jonathan M Bloom Talinn Grigor Robert Hillenbrand Yuka Kadoi Sumru Belger Krody Judith A Lerner Kimberly Masteller Cornelia Montgomery Bernard O Kane Keelan Overton Laura Weinstein and Donald Whitcomb American-Iranian Dialogues Matthew K. Shannon, 2021-10-07 Bringing together historians of US foreign relations and scholars of Iranian studies American Iranian Dialogues examines the cultural connections between Americans and Iranians from the constitutional period of the 1890s through to the start of the White Revolution in the 1960s Taking an innovative cultural approach chapters are centred around major themes in American Iranian encounters and cultural exchange throughout this period including stories of origin cultural representations nationalism and discourses on development Expert contributors draw together different strands of US Iranian relations to discuss a range of path breaking topics such as the history of education heritage exchange oil development and the often overlooked interactions between American and Iranian non state actors Through exploring the understudied cultural dimensions of US Iranian relations this book will be essential reading for students and scholars interested in American history international history Iranian studies and Middle Eastern studies

Private Collectors of Islamic Art in Late Nineteenth-Century London Isabelle Gadoin, 2021-09-09 This book examines British collectors of so called Persian art a broad umbrella term then covering a large portion of Islamic art in the late 19th century including ceramics metalwork carpets textiles and woodwork Based on a foundational event the very first exhibition of Persian and Arab Art held by a London Gentlemen s Club in 1885 this book follows one generation of men retracing the subtle shades of difference among amateurs connoisseurs experts and collectors and exploring all the mechanisms of the construction of a collective fascination for the Orient Isabelle Gadoin uncovers some of the first scientific analyses of Islamic objects and of the first private notebooks or exhibition catalogues to provide an in depth study of the way Westerners talked about Islamic objects and began to define what would become Islamic art history All the while Gadoin unravels the skein of Western prejudice Romantic fancy sincere admiration and ruthless appropriation in art collecting to write a new chapter of Orientalist history The book will be of interest to scholars working in art history history of collecting colonialism and postcolonialism and Orientalism

Negotiating for the Past James F. Goode, 2009-02-17 The discovery of the tomb of Tutankhamun in 1922 was a landmark event in Egyptology that was celebrated around the world Had Howard Carter found his prize a few years earlier however the treasures of Tut might now be in the British Museum in London rather than the Egyptian Museum in Cairo That s because the years between World War I and World War II were a transitional period in Middle Eastern archaeology as nationalists in Egypt and elsewhere asserted their claims to antiquities discovered within their borders These claims were motivated by politics as much as by scholarship with nationalists seeking to unite citizens through pride in their ancient past as they challenged Western powers that still exercised considerable influence over local governments and economies James Goode s analysis of archaeological affairs in Turkey Egypt Iran and Iraq during this period offers fascinating new insight into the rise of nationalism in the Middle East as well as archaeological and diplomatic history The first such work to compare archaeological nationalistic developments in more than one country Negotiating for the Past draws on published and archival sources in Arabic English French German Persian and Turkish Those sources reveal how nationalists in Iraq and Iran observed the success of their counterparts in Egypt and Turkey and were able to hold onto discoveries at legendary sites such as Khorsabad and Persepolis Retaining artifacts allowed nationalists to build museums and control cultural heritage As Goode writes Going to the national museum became a ritual of citizenship Western archaeologists became identified in the eyes of many as agents of imperialism thus making their work more difficult and often necessitating diplomatic intervention The resulting negotiations for the past pulled patrons such as John D Rockefeller Jr and Lord Carnarvon archaeologists James Breasted and Howard Carter nationalist leaders Ataturk and Sa d Zaghlul and Western officials Charles Evan Hughes and Lord Curzon into intractable historical debates with international implications that still resonate today

Extreme Collecting Graeme Were, J. C. H. King, 2012-03-01 By exploring the processes of collecting which challenge the bounds of normally acceptable practice this book debates the practice of collecting difficult objects from a historical and contemporary perspective and discusses the acquisition of objects related to war and genocide and those purchased from the internet as well as considering human remains mass produced objects and illicitly traded antiquities The aim is to apply a critical approach to the rigidity of museums in maintaining essentially nineteenth century ideas of collecting and to move towards identifying priorities for collection policies in museums which are inclusive of acquiring difficult objects Much of the book engages with the question of the limits to the practice of collecting as a means to think through the implementation of new strategies

Handbook of Postcolonial Archaeology Jane Lydon, Uzma Z Rizvi, 2016-07-01 This essential handbook explores the relationship between the postcolonial critique and the field of archaeology a discipline that developed historically in conjunction with European colonialism and imperialism In aiding the movement to decolonize the profession the contributors to this volume themselves from six continents and many representing indigenous and minority communities and disadvantaged countries suggest strategies to strip archaeological theory and practice of its colonial heritage and create a discipline sensitive to its inherent inequalities Summary articles review the emergence of the discipline of archaeology in conjunction with colonialism critique the colonial legacy evident in continuing archaeological practice around the world identify current trends and chart future directions in postcolonial archaeological research Contributors provide a synthesis of research thought and practice on their topic The articles embrace multiple voices and case study approaches and have consciously aimed to recognize the utility of comparative work and interdisciplinary approaches to understanding the past This is a benchmark volume for the study of the contemporary politics practice and ethics of archaeology Sponsored by the World Archaeological Congress

Eminent Persians Abbas Milani, 2022-08-01 As the 25th anniversary of the Islamic Revolution approached Abbas Milani realized that very little if any attention had been given to the entire prerevolutionary generation Political upheavals and a tradition of neglecting the history of past regimes have resulted in a cultural memory loss erasing the contributions of a generation of individuals Eminent Persians seeks to rectify that loss Milani's groundbreaking portrait of modern Iran reveals the country's rich history through the lives of the men and women who forged it Consisting of 150 profiles of the most important innovators in Iran between World War II and the Islamic Revolution the book includes politicians entrepreneurs poets artists and thinkers who brought Iran into the modern era with brilliant success and sometimes terrible consequences The biographies and essays weave a richly textured tapestry of lives ideas and events that reveals the true story of these decades in the life of a nation The two volumes are divided into sections on politics economics and culture each accompanied by an introductory essay that places the individual stories in their broader historical context Drawn from interviews extensive archival material and private correspondence Eminent Persians is a treasure trove of original documents many appearing in print for the first time Detailed sketches of personalities and personal foibles offer a compelling and highly readable account of this remarkable period of history on a human scale

Research Handbook on Intellectual Property and Cultural Heritage Stamatoudi, Irini, 2022-07-21 This important Research Handbook offers a comprehensive analysis of the intersections between intellectual property IP and cultural heritage law It explores and compares how both have evolved and sometimes converged over time how they increased tremendously in significance as well as in economic value despite the fact that the former mainly pertains to the private sphere whilst the latter is considered a common good

The Elamite World Javier Álvarez-Mon, Gian Pietro Basello, Yasmina Wicks, 2018-01-29 Amongst the civilizations to participate in the dynamic processes of contact and interchange that gave rise to complex societies in the ancient Near East Elam has remained one of the most obscure at times languishing in the background of scholarly inquiry In recent years however an increasing body of academic publications have acknowledged its relevance and suggested that its legacy was more considerable and long lasting than previously estimated The Elamite World assembles a group of 40 international scholars to contribute their expertise to the production of a solid lavishly illustrated English language treatment of Elamite civilization It covers topics such as its physical setting historical development languages and people material culture art science religion and society as well as the legacy of Elam in the Persian empire and its presence in the modern world This comprehensive and ambitious survey seeks for Elam hardly a household name a noteworthy place in our shared cultural heritage It will be both a valuable introductory text for a general audience and a definitive reference source for students and academics Iran and the Challenge of Diversity Ailreza Asgharzadeh, 2007-06-11 This interrogates the racist construction of Arian and Aryanism in an Iranian context arguing that these concepts gave the Indo European speaking Persian ethnic group an advantage over Iran's non Persian nationalities and communities

Culture and Cultural Politics Under Reza Shah Bianca Devos, Christoph Werner, 2013-08-22 Culture and Cultural Politics Under Reza Shah presents a collection of innovative research on the interaction of culture and politics accompanying the vigorous modernization programme of the first Pahlavi ruler Examining a broad spectrum of this multifaceted interaction it makes an important contribution to the cultural history of the 1920s and 1930s in Iran when under the rule of Reza Shah Pahlavi dramatic changes took place inside Iranian society With special reference to the practical implementation of specific reform endeavours the various contributions critically analyze different facets of the relationship between cultural politics individual reformers and the everyday life of modernist Iranians Interpreting culture in its broadest sense this book brings together contributions from different disciplines such as literary history social history ethnomusicology art history and Middle Eastern politics In this way it combines for the first time the cultural history of Iran's modernity with the politics of the Reza Shah period Challenging a limited understanding of authoritarian rule under Reza Shah this book is a useful contribution to existing literature for students and scholars of Middle Eastern History Iranian History and Iranian Culture

The Shaping of Persian Art Yuka Kadoi, Iván Szántó, 2014-07-18 While the impact of the Persian style is undeniably reflected in most aspects of the art and architecture of Islamic Central Asia this Perso Central Asian connection was chiefly formed and articulated by the Euro American movement of collecting and interpreting the art and material culture of the Persian Islamic world in modern times This had an enormous impact on the formation of scholarship and connoisseurship in Persian art for instance with an attempt to define the characteristics of how the Islamic art of Iran and Central Asia should be viewed and displayed at museums and how these subjects should be researched in academia This important historical fact which has attracted scholarly interest only in recent years should be treated as a serious subject of research accepting that the abstract image of Persian art was not a pure creation of Persian civilization but that it can be the manifestation of particular historical times and charismatic individuals Attention should therefore be given to various factors that resulted in the shaping of Persian imagery across the globe not only in terms of national ideologies but also within the context of several protagonists such as scholars collectors and dealers as well as of the objects themselves This volume brings together Islamic Iranian and Central Asian art experts from diverse disciplinary and professional backgrounds and intends to offer a novel insight into what is collectively known as Persian art Ernst Herzfeld and the Development of Near Eastern Studies 1900-1950 Ann Gunter, Stefan Hauser, 2005-02-01 Studies in the history and archaeology of the ancient and Islamic Near East greatly expanded and matured during the first half of the 20th century Ernst Herzfeld 1879 1948 a pioneer in the archaeology art history and Persian language studies significantly shaped this development He excavated such key sites as Samarra Paikuli and Persepolis and helped to define prehistoric and Islamic art He became the world's first professor for Near Eastern archaeology in Berlin adviser to Persia's government and a member of the Institute for Advanced Study Princeton Scholars from a variety of disciplines reassess Herzfeld's wide ranging contributions and situate them in their intellectual academic and political frameworks The book provides new insights into the historiography of archaeological and historical interpretations of the Near East especially Iran the German academic political milieu of the first half of the 20th century and the controversial figure of Ernst Herzfeld Why Those Who Shovel Are Silent Allison Mickel, 2021-03-01 For more than 200 years archaeological sites in the Middle East have been dug sifted sorted and saved by local community members who in turn developed immense expertise in excavation and interpretation and had unparalleled insight into the research process and findings but who have almost never participated in strategies for recording the excavation procedures or results Their particular perspectives have therefore been missing from the archaeological record creating an immense gap in knowledge about the ancient past and about how archaeological knowledge is created Why Those Who Shovel Are Silent is based on six years of in depth ethnographic work with current and former site workers at two major Middle Eastern archaeological sites Petra Jordan and atalhyk Turkey combined with thorough archival research Author Allison Mickel describes the nature of the knowledge that locally hired archaeological laborers exclusively possess about artifacts excavation methods and archaeological interpretation showing that archaeological workers are experts about a wide range of topics in archaeology At the same time Mickel reveals a financial incentive for site workers to pretend to be less knowledgeable than they actually are as they risk losing their jobs or demotion if they reveal their expertise Despite a recent proliferation of critical research examining the history and politics of archaeology the topic of archaeological labor has not yet been substantially examined Why Those Who Shovel Are Silent employs a range of advanced qualitative quantitative and visual approaches and offers recommendations for archaeologists to include more diverse expert perspectives and produce more nuanced knowledge about the past It will appeal to archaeologists science studies scholars and anyone interested in challenging the concept of unskilled labor The World of Achaemenid Persia John Curtis, St John Simpson, 2010-03-30 Interest and fascination in Achaemenid Persia has burgeoned in recent years It is time for a major new appraisal of the glorious civilization founded by Cyrus the Great and continued by his successors the Great Kings Darius I Xerxes and Artaxerxes I This volume offers precisely that a sustained and comprehensive overview of the field of Achaemenid studies by leading scholars and experts It discusses all aspects of Achaemenid history and archaeology between 550 BCE and 330 BCE and embraces the whole vast territory of the Persian

Empire from North Africa to India and from Central Asia to the Persian Gulf Topics covered in this title include aspects of Achaemenid religion administration material culture ethnicity gender and the survival of Achaemenid traditions The publication of the book is an event it represents a watershed not only in better appreciation and understanding of the rich and complex cultural heritage established by Cyrus but also of the lasting significance of the Achaemenid kings and the impact that their remarkable civilization has had on wider Persian and Middle Eastern history First published by I B Tauris in association with the Iran Heritage Foundation The Great Famine and Genocide in Persia, 1917-1919 Mohammad Gholi Majd, 2003-08 In this book Mohammad Gholi Majd argues that Persia was the greatest victim of World War One and also the victim of possibly the worst genocide of the twentieth century Using U S State Department records as well as Persian and British sources Majd describes and documents a veritable holocaust about which practically nothing has been written
