Gothic and Renaissance Altarpieces Caterina Limentani Viridis, Mari Pietrogiovanna, 2002 In the mid 15th century when the tradition styles and techniques of the Middle Ages were yielding to the new influences of the Renaissance the altarpieces of cathedrals and major churches reached a degree of elaboration never seen before For a century or so altarpieces had been constructed so that they could be closed or open for saints days and festivals often in three parts triptychs with two wings folding over the centre This scheme was now expanded panels were arranged sometimes in two tiers which could open separately The three part structure could grow to five and even seven In the most extreme case Grunewald's Isenheim Altarpiece there was an unprecedented number of possibilities a sort of theological hierarchy with panels opening to reveal deeper and deeper mysteries Great Altarpieces Caterina Viridis Limentani, Mari Pietrogiovanna, 1999-10-01 Alas few of the great polyptychs wonderful as they are survive in their original form or place of installation having suffered the vicissitudes of history as the authors explain in detail particularly the misadventures that followed upon the secularization laws promulgated by Napoleon in the late 18th century Along with this story and countless others comes the extended series of full color illustrations over 400 in all many of them full page and full bleed Images and Objects in Ritual Practices in Medieval and Early Modern Northern and Central Europe Krista Kodres, Anu Mänd, 2014-07-18 This multidisciplinary collection of essays explores the functions meanings and use of images and objects in various late Medieval and Early Modern social practices which were linked by their ritual character The book approaches ritual as an action which is discussed under the general umbrella term performative practice and is characterised by a synthesis between the repetitive and the extraordinary that carries an intense symbolic meaning and is emotionally charged Images spaces and rituals were closely interconnected in both the religious and the secular spheres and played a relevant role in the symbolic communication of the time The essays in this volume are devoted to a complex study of these phenomena in Northern and Central Europe including regions which due to linguistic or cultural barriers have thus far received comparatively little attention in Anglo American scholarship including Scandinavia Poland and the Baltic states A Companion to the Eucharist in the Reformation, 2013-10-24 By the end of the fifteenth century the Eucharist had come to encompass theology liturgy art architecture and music In the sixteenth century each of these dimensions was questioned challenged rethought as western European Christians divided over their central act of worship This volume offers an introduction to early modern thinking on the Eucharist as theology as Christology as a moment of human and divine communion as that which the faithful do as taking place and as visible and audible The scholars gathered in this volume speak from a range of disciplines liturgics history history of art history of theology philosophy musicology and literary theory The volume thus also brings different methods and approaches as well as confessional orientations to a consideration of the Eucharist in the Reformation Contributors include Gary Macy Volker Leppin Carrie Euler Nicholas Thompson Nicholas

Wolterstorff John D Rempel James F Turrell Robert J Daly Isabelle Brian Thomas Schattauer Raymond A Mentzer Michele Zelinsky Hanson Jaime Lara Andrew Spicer Achim Timmermann Birgit Ulrike M nch Andreas Gormans Alexander J Fisher Regina M Schwartz and Christopher Wild     The Eucharist in Medieval Canon Law Thomas M. Izbicki, 2015-10-14 Thomas Izbicki presents a new examination of the relationship between the adoration of the sacrament and canon law from the twelfth to fifteenth centuries The medieval Church believed Christ s glorified body was present in the Eucharist the most central of the seven sacraments and the Real Presence became explained as transubstantiation by university trained theologians Expressions of this belief included the drama of the elevated host and chalice as well as processions with a host in an elaborate monstrance on the Feast of Corpus Christi These affirmations of doctrine were governed by canon law promulgated by popes and councils and liturgical regulations were enforced by popes bishops archdeacons and inquisitors Drawing on canon law collections and commentaries synodal enactments legal manuals and books about ecclesiastical offices Izbicki presents the first systematic analysis of the Church s teaching about the regulation of the practice of the Eucharist
