Reading the Kimono in Twentieth-Century Japanese Literature and Film Michiko Suzuki, 2023-08-31 Often considered an exotic garment of traditional Japan the kimono is in fact a vibrant part of Japanese modernity playing an integral role in literature and film throughout the twentieth century Reading the Kimono in Twentieth Century Japanese Literature and Film is the first extended study to offer new ways of interpreting textual and visual narratives through kimono language what these garments communicate within their literary historical and cultural contexts Kimonos on the page and screen do much more than create verisimilitude or function as one dimensional symbols They go beyond simply indicating the wearer's age gender class and taste as eloquent heterogeneous objects they speak of wartime and postwar histories and shed light on everything from gender politics to censorship By reclaiming kimono language once a powerful shared vernacular Michiko Suzuki accesses inner lives of characters hidden plot points intertextual meanings resistant messages and social commentary Reading the Kimono examines modern Japanese literary works and their cinematic adaptations including Tanizaki Jun ichir's canonical novel The Makioka Sisters and its film versions one screened under the US Occupation and another directed by Ichikawa Kon in 1983 It also investigates K da Aya's Kimono and Flowing as well as Naruse Mikio's 1956 film adaptation of the latter Reading the Kimono additionally advances the study of women writers by discussing texts by Tsuboi Sakae and Miyao Tomiko authors often overlooked in scholarship despite their award winning bestselling stature Through her analysis of stories and their afterlives Suzuki offers a fresh view of the kimono as complex material to be read She asks broader questions about the act of interpretation what it means to explore both texts and textiles as inherently dynamic objects shaped by context and considered differently over time Reading the Kimono is at once an engaging history of the modern kimono and its representation and a significant study of twentieth century Japanese literature and film

From Tea Cakes to Tamales Nola McKey, 2016-05-20 Join journalist turned culinary historian Nola McKey on a Texas journey as she explores the state's foodways through heirloom recipes In this collection of more than one hundred third generation and older recipes Texans share not only the delicious dishes they inherited from their ancestors but the stories and traditions that accompany them With a strong focus on Texas cultural diversity recipes include Norwegian rosettes Italian pizzelle Czech sauerkraut Chinese fried rice Mexican caldo Wendish noodles and African American purple hull peas McKey documents the culinary impact of ethnic groups from around the globe But this book is not for foodies alone history enthusiasts will appreciate the snapshots of daily Texas life captured in the narratives accompanying recipes that span more than a century Told primarily in the words of today's cooks these multigenerational family recollections can take anyone on a trip down memory lane back to a beloved grandmother's kitchen or a great aunt's holiday table. Additionally, McKey provides tips for preserving your own family recipes and for recording the heritage surrounding a special dish. She also includes recommendations for festivals and museums where readers can learn more about Texas foods and cultures. Illustrated with family photos and original watercolors by Cora McKown, From Tea Cakes to Tamales: Third Generation Texas Recipes will itself quickly become a Texas family heirloom.

Memory and Memorials William Kidd, Brian Murdoch, 2017-05-15 The twentieth century perhaps more than any other was shaped by war and conflict. In particular, the two world wars have had a profound influence on the development of world history, especially in western Europe. The aim of Memory and Memorials however is not to seek the effects war has had on the twentieth century but rather to explore how societies chose to remember wars and manipulate this memory for political and cultural purposes. Tackling issues of actual memory, distorted memory, and reconstructions of the past, the use and nature of the war memorial, and the reflection of all these points in selected art, literature, and film, the main theme of Memory and Memorials is to stress both continuity and change in memory and memorial.

That Middle World Julia S. Charles, 2020-10-01 In this study of racial passing literature, Julia S. Charles highlights how mixed race subjects invent cultural spaces for themselves, a place she terms that middle world, and how they, through various performance strategies, make meaning in the interstices between the Black and white worlds. Focusing on the construction and performance of racial identity in works by writers from the antebellum period through Reconstruction, Charles creates a new discourse around racial passing to analyze mixed race characters' social objectives when crossing into other racialized spaces. To illustrate how this middle world and its attendant performativity still resonates in the present day, Charles connects contemporary figures, television, and film, including Rachel Dolezal and her Black passing controversy, the FX show Atlanta, and the musical Show Boat, to a range of nineteenth and early twentieth century literary texts. Charles's work offers a nuanced approach to African American passing literature and examines how mixed race performers articulated their sense of selfhood and communal belonging.

Toxic Sexual Politics Melina Packer, 2025-01-28 A bold exposé of how the very foundation of toxicology has been contaminated by sexist and racist ideologies. The first critical understanding of the field of toxicology from a feminist and antiracist perspective, Toxic Sexual Politics asserts that the science of toxicants must be held accountable for the uneven distribution of toxic pollution along racial and sexual lines. Drawing upon in-depth interviews and extensive ethnographic and archival research, including participant observations in toxicology classrooms, conferences, and laboratories, Melina Packer urges environmental health advocates to place toxicant science within its masculinist, militarist, and eugenicist history. Toxic Sexual Politics shows how the founding fathers of U.S. toxicology were ideologically aligned with the chemical industry, inventing a science that could make chemicals safe, as opposed to one that could adequately protect planetary health from toxicants' hazards. While many toxicologists today are critical of the chemical industry, they continue to rely on the highly limited tools of toxicology as accurate measures of toxicity.

as do government regulators the courts and environmental advocates Unlike most critiques of the chemical industry and narratives of environmental health movements Toxic Sexual Politics refuses to take the science at face value By focusing on the sexist racist and ableist biases reinforced by toxicology Packer powerfully argues that this scientific discipline reproduces the very same white supremacist and heterosexist logics that generated environmental injustices in the first place The field of toxicology can explicitly confront chemical corporate power by building from queer feminist anti ableist and antiracist movements for environmental and reproductive justice
