The analyses will help to better understand 1 under what conditions grandparents provide care and support 2 what types and intensities of care and support grandparents provide and 3 the impact of that care and support on grandparents social emotional physical and financial wellbeing In this fascinating and provocative book Madonna Harrington Meyer and Ynesse Abdul Malak take readers on a deep dive into the complex lives of grandparents who care for their disabled grandchildren In Grandparenting Children with Disabilities their interviews reveal the joy meaning and purpose grandparents find in caregiving the challenges and frustrations they encounter and the many ways they compromise their own health and well being for the sake of their grandchildren Drawing from theories of cumulative inequality and from their deep knowledge of the US policy context the authors lay bare the systemic failures that leave families of children with disabilities without adequate support and that place the most vulnerable among them at grave physical emotional and financial risk Jane McLeod Provost Professor Indiana University Grandparents in the U S already take on far more parenting responsibilities as compared to their peers in other countries Grandparenting Children with Disabilities demonstrates that the intensity of these responsibilities is compounded for those whose grandchildren have disabilities given limited policy supports and a society still largely unaccommodating to those with disabilities This book beautifully navigates the tension between the love these grandparents have for their grandchildren and the challenges they face caring for them Pamela Herd Professor Georgetown University Grandparenting Children with Disabilities offers important insights about the lived experience of older adults who care for and care about their grandchildren The authors skillfully integrate the stories they tell with consideration of macro social structural influences and life course perspectives I recommend it highly Eva Kahana Distinguished University Professor Case Western Reserve

Woodward, 2019-11-20 In this book Kornhaber and Woodward explore the vital connections which link generations to each other and expose a new social contract that destroys the emotional bonds between grandparents and grandchildren This is the first book which reviews in a careful ethnographic manner the relationship of grandchildren to grandparents and the place of love at one end and abandonment at the other by grandparents. The authors probe the deep unexplored emotional histories of hundreds of grandparents how they feel about themselves their grandchildren and their loss of function within today s nuclear family With sharp increases in the number of broken families and working mothers grandparents are more vital than ever and also more available than ever This basic research document shows how grandparents recover their natural role as elders of the family and of society The author s basic premise is that to exist is to be connected and that no matter how grandparents act they affect the emotional well being of their grandchildren for better or for worse simply because they exist In an age when mounting economic and social pressures make it increasingly easier to split a family than to sustain one the authors alert us to a forgotten source of family strength the power of grandparents to enrich the lives as a whole The case studies reported in this volume represent a first effort in an area left unexplored by developmental researchers There are lessons here for social scientists but even more for our alienated society Urie Bronfenbrenner Cornell University Origin & Ancestors Families Karle & Kaiser of the German-Russian Volga Colonies Darrel Philip Kaiser, 2006-04-20 Philip Kaiser son of Philip Kaiser and Maria Katherine Simon was born in 1922 in Visalia California He married Mildred Karle 1922 daughter of John Peter Karle and Katherine Wills in 1943 They had two children including the author Ancestors descendants and relatives lived mainly in Germany Russia and California
